We are still in need of material. There is none coming in, except that which a few of the staff can rake together. This should not be. Our desk should be overflowing with material. Why won't you give us some news? Let us see, for once, if we cannot have so much that the available space in the paper will not hold it and the rest will have to wait until the following week. But bear in mind the regulations in regard to typing or writing in ink. Hand in your work to Miss Sloane or the editor.

THE HALL OF FAME

The Hall Of Fame was a failure. There were only a few votes cast--not enough to make five candidates so we regret to say that it has been discontinued.

Frederick Read received a Christmas present which should make us all proud. On that day he got a letter from the Better Lighting Contest saying that he had been awarded a prize for his essay on Better Home Lighting. This is the third prize that he has won in essay contests.

This time he received a Western Electric vacuum cleaner, but as he is not particularly interested in vacuum cleaners, he has put it on the market for immediate sale. Here is your chance to get a vacuum cleaner for a nominal sum. Don't lose it!

New printers have been engaged to publish this weekly and we hope to be able to put it out every Wednesday at noon. We regret that we have been unsuccessful in the past and every effort will be made to make Wednesday "Port Weekly Day".

GUESS WHO AMONG THE FRESHMEN

Oh, a small net.

Nod dear lad.

Thy roan nose.

An army now.

Old man and son.

NEWS ITEMS

Several of the alumni visited us last Monday. Angela Mallon appeared looking as though she enjoyed the Normal. She seemed very enthusiastic about New Paltz but she said that she missed P. W. H. S. It does seem queer not to see her dashing up and down telling us "where to get off".

Ruth Keevil honored us with her presence about eleven o'clock. She is the same lovable Ruth and says she enjoys all the good sights and times at Holyoke.

Alan Langenus and Andrew Larsen visited us the day before vacation began. Alan likes Dartmouth and "Eel" says the same about Lehigh. But at Lehigh the Freshies get it pretty heavy! They had to run to classes one day and were so tired out that the profs had to excuse them from classes! Such is college life!

Marcia Hancock goes to N. Y. U. and commutes so we see her quite often.

We like to have our alumni visit us and hope they'll keep it up.

There is a new exchange editor. He has received papers from Peekskill, Lynbrook, Manhasset, Southampton, Fort Covington and Mineola High Schools and is going to exchange with these and many other schools.

WOULD THE WORLD END?

If we all got 100% on the Regents?

If the 8th period were omitted?

In the Guess Who Contest on the opposite page, the object is to put the letters together so that they form the name of a Freshman. Next week the names will be those of Sophomores, and then the Juniors and Seniors in order. This will prove very interesting and will give you something to do, should Cross Word Puzzles bore you.

Mr. (In Bus. English): "How would you address the governor of Wyoming?"
 Alice Larson: "Dear Sir."
 Mr. Lyons: "Wrong. Dear Madam."

 Mr. Gonnelly: "Did you ever take chloroform?"
 A. Banfield: "No, who teaches it?"
