

The Port Weekly

Volume I

Port Washington High School, April 22, 1925

Number 23

The local Speaking Contest will be held in the High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 1. The participants are as follows: Thelma Tipson, Charlotte Wackwitz, Elsie Zurwelle, Mary Hopkins, Edith Nielsen, Alan Porter, Robert Lovejoy, Arthur Blackmore and John Moore. The judges will be announced in a future issue of this paper. We hope to bring back the Amherst Cup this year for at present Glen Cove has had it three times and Port Washington has won it five times. But, we can't let Glen Cove or any other school have it again. Save May 1 on your calendar and come to the Contest.

EXCHANGE NOTES

Lawrencian--Lawrence High School, Lawrence, L. I.

We think you are excellent journalists. You include everything that there is to publish. Continued success!

Oak Leaves--Westbury High School, Westbury, L. I.

You devote too much space to athletics. Why not enlarge your joke department and publish an exchange list? We like your literary department best of all.

Hi Life--F. H. S., Farmingdale, L. I.

We cannot praise your paper too highly. It's the most original exchange that we have received. Keep it up!

Question--Peekskill High School, Peekskill, N. Y..

An excellent monthly. Great advertisement for "Clarence".

A JOYOUS TALE

It is Winter now and the Frost has fallen during the night on the Border of the Temple but the first Ray of the sun Burns it off. The Cocks start to crow. From the top of the Hill one can see everywhere. There are no Lyons in the woods only squirrels and chipmonks. In the far distant harbor there is a Fleet of battleships anchored, at the foot of the Hill lives a poor Miller named Douglas who grinds Moore flour than he can sell. Is he happy and does he Lovejoy? He will sit down and Read each Page of a book to the end and then he'll take a Knapp. He loves Goodale with his meals and grows Fonda and Fonda of Hamm each day. He garnishes it with plants from his Erb garden. He has a Rose garden as well, whose bushes are Leyden with flowers. There is a huge Stone seat in this garden. He keeps no servants, not even a Butler. He is always cheerful and will Greet each Persson he meets in the most friendly manner.

SNAPSHOTS

Each roll of film that you take for the Port Light will be developed absolutely free provided that you take the film to Miss Beale personally. It is urged that the students take all the snapshots of their friends that they can for we want the best snapshot pages that it is possible to have.

BASEBALL

Last Friday afternoon Port Washington High School opened its baseball season at Baldwin defeating the enemy 10-0. Most of the facts of the game can be found in the appended box score. Baldwin had a comparatively weak team and gave Port little opportunity to show its real condition. Great Neck, whom we play Tuesday is a stronger team but the Mineola game Friday will be the real test. We hope that 90% more of the school will be at Mineola Friday afternoon.

TO THE FACULTY

Often there is something amusing or funny that occurs in your classes or there is some bit of news that might prove interesting to the students. If you would just jot these down on a piece of paper and keep them for the Port Weekly we would be most grateful. Each Thursday a member of the staff will visit you and collect these notes. Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Last Tuesday afternoon during the fifth period, Major Stacey addressed the boys of Port Washington High School on Citizens' Military Training Camps. He told us the purpose of these camps, the benefits derived from them and the requirements for admission. It is hoped that a large number of our boys will attend the camps this summer.

Miss Beale: "What were the dying words of Lord Chesterfield?"

Alan Porter: "They satisfy."

+ +

Miss Winter: "I've one of Caesar's coins to show you."

E. Jacobi: "That's nothing I've some of Adam's chewing gum."

+ +

Miss Sloane: "Why were you tardy?"

L. Luey: "Class began before I got there."
