Parents Visit School

Over two hundred visitors, took advantage of the invitation to inspect the work of the High School on Wednesday night.

The high school orchestra, under Mr. Dimmick, opened the program with "Marche Militaire" by Schubert. Margaret Hiller, as chairman, then announced a Spanish one-act play, "El Doble Robo," to be given by members of Mr. Lyon's Spanish class. Robert Hubbard, one of the cast, gave a synopsis of the play so that the audience might better follow it.

The cast was:

Dona Elisa Mildred Raff
Teresa Muriel Cocks
Pedro Robert Hubbard

The characters did their work well.

This was a new type of work for the school. Next the orchestra played, "Sailor's Song" by Greig. Then came a one act play, "Lady of Pain", presented by members of class in dramas. The cast was:

Mrs. Sherman Helen Leyden
Mary Sherman Mary Willets
Mrs. Larrimore Anna Fleet
Isabel Nancy Cluff
Jack Fisher Thomas Moore
Bess White Irma Terrell
Brooks Rice Thomas Newman
Katie-Lee Kemp Betty Cluff
J. Wilson Dodd Stephen Chambers

The stage manager was Harry Erb.

The play was under the direction of Miss Viola Gaylord. Each member of the cast gave a very good interpretation of his part and the whole proved a most enjoyable production.

The program was then closed with an orchestra selection, "Minuet from Violin Sonata" by Schubert.

The audience then adjourned to the high school department where classes in manual training under Mr. Fish, Spanish 2 under Mr. Lyons, English 2 under Miss Chisholm, typewriting under Miss Sloan, biology under Mr. Utz, Chemistry laboratory under Mr. Pickett, algebra under Miss Elmer, and American history under Mr. Studley were in session. Visitors dropped in to the various class rooms, and had an opportunity to talk with the teachers.

This was the second time the high school has held an evening session and the pupils and teachers are greatly gratified with the interest shown by the public.

Fratry Plans Dance

At the usual rendezvous, Room 35, the Fraternity held its meeting last Thursday. There were thirty-nine members, besides Mr. Seeber.

Two new members, Stephen Chambers and Edward Gore were voted in.

President Neusal then appointed committees to take care of the Fraternity dance, on December 16. Tickets will be one dollar. The Celerity and Circle will have corners. Mr. and Mrs. Seeber will be the official chaperones.

It was also decided to inform those members, both attending college and at work, of what is going on in the club by letters to be sent by the corresponding secretary, William MacKinney and his assistants, William Bray and Winfred Hamm.

Owing to the negligence of some members to appear at meetings, an amendment was proposed to the effect that any officer or member of the Club Court may be impeached.

Much credit is due to the refreshment committee for the sandwiches and cider. So good were they that most members were not inclined to go over to Varney's after the meeting to consume the usual half pint of ice cream.

Masquerade Saturday

This Saturday the Senior Class will hold its first dance of the year. The Class has decided that the dance be a masquerade. This will be the first dance of this sort since the one held by the Sophomore Class of three years ago.

Tickets are now on sale for one dollar. The Seniors wish to make this dance a huge success, but to do so they must have the best support of everyone. So, everyone buy a ticket.

Cast of "The Patsy" Competition Keen

On Nov. 6th, after the dismissal of classes about fifty students appeared in the auditorium to try for a part in the school play. From these many aspirants the cast of "The Patsy" was chosen by a committee consisting of Miss Gaylord, Miss Chisholm, Mrs. Langdon, and Mr. Merrill. Each person read a selection from the play before the committee whose decision was based on the person's fitness for the part, his natural acting ability, his voice and, last but not least, his willingness to work. In some cases two persons were so well matched that a final decision between them was hard to make. Try-outs were continued through Tuesday to make some of the final selections.

Doris Hiller and Tommy Moore Lead

First, from among twenty candidates Doris Hiller was chosen to take the part of Patricia Harrington, the heroine. Patsy, as she is called, is a down-trodden, much abused younger sister. Doris may be congratulated upon her success, for it is quite an accomplishment to win out in a competition in which twenty ambitious actresses are assembled. The leading male part was earned by Tommy Moore whose merits we have seen proven in the "Lady of Pain." His name in the play is Tony Anderson. Tony is a good-natured real estate dealer who has been in love with Grace Harrington but who later falls in love with "Patsy." Tommy is especially suited for his part and we expect great results from him.

Bill Newland to Play "Pop"

Bill Newland is to play Mr. William Harrington. We remember Bill in "Maypole Morning" as a rollicking sailor, but we now see him as a much "henpecked" husband. It is expected that Bill will fit well into his part. Tommy Fay has gained the part of Billy Caldwell, a handsome suitor for Grace's hand. Grace, the self-centered and selfish older sister of Patricia, will be played by Doris Chase. Although Tommy and Doris cannot point to any parts in former plays as theirs, we expect them to gain their spurs in "The Patsy." The mother's part will be taken by one who is used to playing that part, and she is Helen Leyden. Helen is fitted for her part, and has had experience in addition to her natural ability so we know that there will be a good mother in the play under the guise of Mrs. Harrington. Sadie Buchanan will be played by Betty Cluff who has proved her worth in

Editorial Comment

Responsibility

This issue of the PORT WEEKLY was intended to be a Freshman issue; unfortunately there was not enough material handed in by them to justify giving it such a name.

The assignments were made in plenty of time so that material could have been in on Monday, the 7th. The persons who took assignments fell down on their jobs, or rather most of them did. Clearly there is need of having articles in on time in order to have the PORT WEEKLY appear as it should.

This paper relies on the work done by the students. The staff is the representative group of those students picked to assemble the work done. They have to correct, count, and get the results together in order to send the paper to press. It is then, the duty of the people who take assignments to get them in on time so the staff will not encounter the problem of lack of material.

The Port Beacon

Published at Flower Hill

The first issue of the Flower Hill School paper, called "The Port Beacon," came out last week. The paper seems to have a great deal of school spirit. The paper contains a funny section written up by the humor and art editors, news events, and other items of interest to the school. Next week a serial is to be started. "The Port Beacon," has a very good start, and we wish it every success.

Girls' Basketball Begins

The basket-ball season was enthusiastically begun by the girls in the Flower Hill gym, Wednesday, November 9th, under the supervision of Miss Burnett, the coach.

About thirty girls were present for first practice. It was very encouraging to note the large number of Freshmen there. The other classes were also well represented.

We are pleased to note that our varsity team of last year is untouched with the exception of Helen Leyden, who expects to graduate in January. We feel sure that her presence will be greatly missed.

Our Mail Bag

Dear Editor,

In reference to the editorial, "Is the Port Light Growing Out of Date," which appeared in the Junior Issue of the "Port Weekly," I would like to say a few things.

In the light of the writer of that editorial the "Port Light" is superfluous and doesn't pay the cost of publication. Last year the "Port Light" was sold for fifty cents. Why not sell the coming issue for seventy-five cents or a dollar? The entire student body would support it and put it on a paying basis.

As it was stated in the "Port Weekly" the total cost of publication was about six hundred and seventy dollars. If the cost per copy was doubled the amount would be decreased by about four hundred dollars, then three hundred dollars might easily be raised by advertisements.

The "Port Light" has been an institution in Port Washington High School for the past twelve years. The students who have them and who are now out in the world on their own, cherish their "Port Light" because it takes them back to the day when they studied, and struggled on the grid-iron, track, and diamond for the honor of dear old Port.

Sincerely yours,

A. LEO LANMAN, Jr.

Armistice Day Observed

Last Friday the High School acquired a radio from Cock's Radio store, allowing the students to hear an Armistice program broadcast through WEAJ. Mr. Redfield, spoke on Armistice Day and its meaning to us. At eleven o'clock the bugle sounded Assembly. The two minute silence was observed, followed by taps.

Cornelius Bansch then told us about the memorials which are to be erected at the various cemeteries where our boys are buried. Pictures were shown on the translux screen.

Our cheer-leader, Bob Hubbard, then announced the Manhasset game and the second team game with St. Aloysius School of Great Neck.

Another Long Honor Roll

Listed on our October honor roll are the names of 99 pupils who have made grades of 90% or over in some subject.

There were also exactly 99 pupils on last month's honor roll, however, there are more upper-classmen and fewer lower-classmen on this honor roll than on that of last month.

Manhasset Defeats Port Speedier Team Wins Score 9—0

Throwing away her numerous scoring chances with characteristic reckless abandon, attempting the most ludicrous and stupid plays at inopportune moments, and still remaining in a state of deep torpor in which she has basked ever since her memorable Southampton victory, the tattered Blue and White of Port slouched off a 9—0 decision to the Orange and Black of Manhasset and further added to her list of defeats.

Three times Port had the ball on Manhasset's 5-yard line. On each occasion straight bucks never gained an inch and last down 5-yard passes aided by penalties were still short of the goal. Manhasset had the ball within Port's 30-yard line but twice, but garnered a drop kick and a touchdown from an intercepted pass for her efforts. An exchange of kicks opened the game, and Port took the ball on her 35-yard line.

Port Blows Chance

Evanosky broke through tackle and dashed to Manhasset's 8-yard stripe. With four down to score, Port fumbled. Wagner punted out of danger. Port's tackles were stopping Ruggerio's far-famed off tackle cut-backs. Evanosky downed Wagner's kick on Manhasset's 45-yard line. Erb's pass to O'Neill made it first down but Port went on the defensive. The Orange and Black relinquished the ball to Port on her 40-yard line but Port couldn't do a thing. Port was forced back to her 20-yard line where Leyden's high kick got in the wings of the wind and sailed back to the 17-yard line.

Port held on two plunges, but on drop kick formation "Cotton" Ruggerio stepped back to his 30-yard line and sent a beautiful drop kick spinning over the cross bar to give Manhasset a three-point lead.

Port's Break

Evanosky returned the kick to his 35-yard line. Leyden kicked to Ruggerio, who was hit so hard by onrushing forwards that he dropped the ball and Terrell recovered to run to his 5-yard stripe. Port was penalized 15 yards for Leyden's holding. Erb passed to O'Neill and Clarkson for 15 yards but this merely served to regain the lost yardage on the penalty. Wagner kicked out to his 55-yard line where Port fumbled. O'Neill got W. Ruggerio but so seriously was his ankle hurt on the play that time was taken out to repair it. Coach Utz was the M.D. Port started a passing attack. Erb to Leyden, Erb to O'Neill, and the ball was on the 23-yard line. Again old Erin flared as O'Neill took another pass to the 9-yard marker. Evanosky cracked guard to the 5-yard line. Erb's end run was nipped in the bud and the ball involuntarily changed hands. It was three downs and kick with both teams. Manhasset carried the ball to Port's 20-yard line — her first serious threat. Port's line was adamant and took the ball on her 15-yard line. A first down diagonal pass was intercepted by S. Kushay who ran 15 yards for the first touchdown. Score 9—0.

Port received and drove to Manhasset's 40-yard line. Evanosky made a brilliant recovery and ran on a fumble of a cross buck as the whistle blew.

The one bright spot in the afternoon was Port's ability to complete passes. Port tried twenty passes, completed sixteen, two were intercepted, and two incomplete.

Grid Season's Climax

Finis to Port Washington High's football season will be written on Saturday when Glen Cove, our traditional rival, will be encountered on her own field.

Port and Glen Cove have both lost to Lawrence; Port by 24-0; Glen Cove by 32-6. Last year Port bowed to Glen Cove at home by 7-0.

It is with deep regret that Port will end her season on Saturday. There are seven Seniors on Port's varsity team and this will be their final game on the gridiron field of victory and defeat.

This season has been a good one. A victory over the sea shore institution of learning would add considerable prestige to Port's moleskin warriors. And they all deserve it for the gritty spirit they've exhibited.

Port's rooters must accompany her boys to Glen Cove. And as they march off the field, whether their heads be high in decisive victory, or bowed in courageous defeat, give them a rousing reception that will gladden their hearts.

It's a mere six miles to Glen Cove, by bus, car, train, or rowboat.

Treat the boys as they treated you. Congratulations, boys, whether you win or lose. You're a bunch of which Port can be justly proud.

Hockey Girls Lose

The Mineola Hockey team once more showed its superiority by defeating our girls by a score of 2-1. This is the third time our team has suffered defeat by Mineola.

Although this game was not a faster one than any of the others, it was the best one of the season. Marjorie Haynes made our only point, thus tying, the score for a time 1-1. Port's line of defense gave way to one more point for Mineola, which our girls were not able to equal.

Since Mineola has won three games, it has not been definitely decided whether or not there will be another game.

Although the season has not been a scoring one we feel that our experience insures better prospects for next year. Great thanks are due Miss Chisholm and Mr. Seeber who willingly offered us their assistance until the return of our coach, Miss Burnett.

Port's Seconds Lose

Inability to solve the forward passing attack and wide end sweeps of the St. Aloysius R. C. School of Great Neck cost Port's seconds a victory last Friday on her own field. Port employed straight football and got results, but St. Aloysius' fast backs Doyle and Savage, with a perfect screen of interference, blazed around the end stations for lengthy gains.

Port's early rushes in the first three minutes were staved off on the 10-yard stripe and the visitors, launching a strong counter drive and using an end run, rolled 90 yards for a score. With Polk, Moore and Williamson alternating, Port resumed her broken drive and reached the 10-yard stripe where Moore stepped back and hurled a pass to Williamson over the goal. Score 6-6.

In the final quarter, the Catholic School relying again upon Savage and Doyle, who burned the turf with their cleats, drove again to Port's 10-yard marker, where a perfect forward pass sent the ball across for the deciding score. Port's last minute passes and desperate tries at the line were all in vain. Final score 12-6.

Cast of "The Patsy"

The "Lady of Pain." Sadie is the young lady who upsets Grace's engagement to Billy Caldwell. Roger Enscoe will act as the taxi man in "The Patsy." His name is Trip Busty and for a taxi owner he is very independent and inquisitive.

Dan Horowitz as O'Flaherty

Oh yes, we almost forget Mr. Francis Patrick O'Flaherty, who needless to say is a very Irish Irishman. Daniel Horowitz, one of the staunch defenders of parliamentary law, has earned this part.

With such a talented cast, and with such a good play, we may hope to add more honors to our dramatic laurels.

9A'S Get Banner

The Circle banner for the highest home room average was awarded to Mr. Utz's 9AI group for a general average of 77.9 per cent. Mr. Dodd's Senior group was next with 77.7 per cent. Miss Chisholm's group of 11A's had the largest percentage of honor marks, 24 per cent. of the marks were over 90 percent. We congratulate the 9A's and warn them that they will have to work hard to retain banner.
