Mr. Cheeswright Offers Prizes

In order that the students of this high school may have a part in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Franz Schubert, Mr. Frederick H. Cheeswright has offered two prizes for the two best essays on the life of this famous composer. It is a fact worthy of the appreciation of the students that Mr. Cheeswright, a prominent musician in New York, and better known to us locally as director of the North Shore Choral Club, has taken this means of showing his interest in the affairs of our school.

A book of the life of Schubert will be given to each of the two successful contestants. In addition, the winner of the first prize will receive ten dollars, while an award of five dollars will go to the winner of the second prize.

Each essay must not exceed 500 words. Two other considerations of importance to those who will take part are, that each essay must be accurate in subject matter, and it must contain references to four of Schubert's most famous compositions.

Essays are to be submitted to the judges by Friday, June 8. Each must be written neatly and legibly on one side of the paper. The awards will be made at the commencement exercises, June 25.

The judging committee will consist of Miss Johnson, Mr. Schreiber and Mr. Dimmick.

Fratry Banquet Provides Enjoyment

The Glen Cove Gardens was the scene of great merriment last Wednesday night when the Fraternity gave a banquet as an evidence of its appreciation to the cast of their minstrel.

A chicken dinner was served and between courses the guests danced on the spacious floor. The only speaker was President Neusel, who thanked the cast for their work.

The music was furnished by an augmentation of the Beacon Five. The music was so good that everyone was dancing, even those bashful athletes of ours.

Don't forget the Local Speaking Contest on May 11. The contestants, Mildred Erb, May Evans, Doris Hiller, Dave Clarkson, John Davis and Bill Newland have been working hard.

Junior Prom to be Held Friday

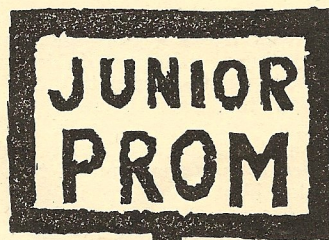

Gala Affair of the Year

The Juniors assure us that this year's Junior Prom will be the best on record. Billy Willetts in charge of the decoration committee has told us something about changing the gym into an old fashioned garden where our best girls are sure to be at an advantage. No garden is complete without color and music and to that end the Rainbow Serenaders have been engaged. The refreshments will be delicious, as several girls under the direction of Jane Bird have been working hard in that line. Bill Peyser has been put in charge of the whole affair and it promises to be a great success. Don't forget to come early and stay late.

Very attractive posters may be seen in the halls and various rooms; stating the date and place where it is to be held.

Stanley Karejwo will supply you with tickets and his staff will follow his lead.

The picture, "The Whole Darn War," that appears at the Beacon on May 9 and 10, should be of great interest to the students because it is an authentic picture of the war.

Mrs. Gowdy Speaks on China

The high school program last Thursday was opened by an announcement concerning the last two baseball games. Harry Erb then urged the school body to support the track team at the Invitation Track Meet on Saturday. Catherine Tyson, as chairman, then introduced to us Mrs. Gowdy, who has taught for many years in a Chinese university.

Mrs. Gowdy spoke of the great desire Chinese boys and girls have for an education. A teacher is greatly honored by these people and students will return many years after to thank their teachers for the work they have done for them. If there are a couple of bright boys in a clan, the whole group will sacrifice all their luxuries and many necessities to give these boys an opportunity.

Mrs. Gowdy gave several striking and amusing examples to show how greatly education and teachers are appreciated by the Chinese. One story concerning a very famous teacher was particularly unusual. Three students came to consult him one day but as it was not the custom to knock they politely looked in the window to see if he were busy. Finding that he was in a deep reverie, they did not disturb him. At the time when they first came to him it was fine weather but before they were received, there was three feet of snow on the ground.

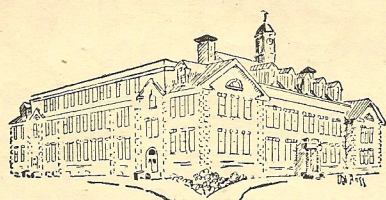

Mrs. Gowdy also discussed some of her experiences with the Nationalist group in China. She stated that the Nationalists are the only party which has any definite program for the reconstruction of China. Mrs. Gowdy gave us many interesting glimpses of her life in China.

Fratry Meets

Last Thursday the Fraternity held an important meeting in Room 35, P. W. H. S., as was proclaimed previously on the bulletin board.

After reports by Lovejoy, Fay and Erb, Terrell reported on the attendance and finances connected with the entertainment given at Glen Cove Gardens for the cast of the Fraternity Minstrels. An amendment was proposed to the constitution which will prohibit visitors at any business meeting. The Fraternity members have taken care of both basketball and baseball tickets, therefore it has fallen to them to sell tickets for the Invitation Track Meet, both before the meet and at the gates.

Something Worth While

This year is the 100th anniversary of the year of the birth of Franz Schubert. Schubert was one of the greatest composers, many of whose pieces we still hear today.

One of the themes of his Unfinished Symphony was used as the melody of "The Love Song" from that very popular musical comedy, "Blossom Time."

The pieces of Schubert, Beethoven, and the other eminent composers have been popular for years and they will continue to be throughout the coming ones.

How different is the popularity of this and jazz! The average jazz piece is popular for about a year and then it is never heard except in a resume of the season's hits.

In another part of this issue of the WEEKLY there is an account of a contest concerning the life of Schubert. The contest is open to all High School students. Although the intrinsic value of the prizes offered is not great, the satisfaction one could gain is worth the effort put forth. The

Photographs Taken for Port Light

Monday and Tuesday, April 30th and May 1st, were busy days for the members of the Senior class and the members of the various organizations in the high school. On these days Mr. Balder, a photographer for the White Studio, took the pictures for the Port Light.

He started his work by photographing the dramatics class at nine o'clock, Monday morning. Following this, he took individual pictures of the Seniors. These pictures were taken in an improvised studio adjoining Miss Gaylord's office, where he arranged the camera, screens and several floodlights. These lights made the room brighter than daylight.

At 12.30 the scene of activities changed once again. At this time the group pictures of the Senior class and the Fraternity were taken. During the afternoon some more individual pictures were taken. At 3.30 the front entrance of the school became the scene of action. The Port Light and PORT WEEKLY staffs, the Celerity, and the tennis, baseball, and track squads were photographed.

On Tuesday the last of the individuals were taken. At 12.30 the Circle and orchestra were photographed on the school steps.

In this way practically every photograph that is to be used in the Port Light was taken in two days. On Monday the proofs of these pictures came and the Port Light staff put in another busy day.

These days had their amusing incidents. Bill Newland could not be photographed on Monday because his father was wearing the family vest. Then again, at 3.30 Mr. Balder tried to find out whether or not Olaf Hammer was the school clown. While waiting for group pictures X. Hamm and a girl friend, and Seeds Mallon borrowed ropes from some of the kindergarten kiddies and gave an exhibition in the art of rope jumping.

Monday and Tuesday of last week were the last days of the longest rainy period of history, and we were most fortunate in having a few moments of clear sky while the group photographs were being taken. Perhaps this favoring of the Port Light by the Gods of Rain will help the Port Light to be bigger and better than ever before.

Helen Duer, a graduate of last year was recently pledged by the Delta Delta Delta at Goucher College.

Miss Sloane is reported to still be very ill. The PORT WEEKLY extends best wishes for her speedy recovery.

awards will be given out at Commencement and the lucky winner should feel himself the possessor of an invaluable object.

Port Blanked by Glen Cove 4-0

Port journeyed to Glen Cove last Tuesday to play the first baseball game with that team. When the seven innings were over, the Port team found itself on the short end of a 4-0 score. Tony Zylko, the Glen Cove pitching ace, did the white-washing. The bespectacled hurler allowed only three hits and no bases on ball; all three balls were widely scattered and only one was of the extra-base variety. He fanned eleven batlers and received fine support from his teammates.

Charley Evanosky was equally stingy with the hits but several bases on balls and a few errors by Port's wobbly infield at critical moments were his undoing.

Glen Cove got the first two runs in the fourth inning. Charley Evanosky got himself into trouble when he walked Williams and Westlake with none out. Boyce's grounder got past Terrell and Williams scored. Westlake crossed the plate on Zylko's long sacrifice fly. The other two runs were scored in the sixth inning. Newland let Boyce's grounder roll between his legs and Zylko singled to center. Fast fielding by Smith held Boyce on second. Kirk knocked another single to center, which scored Boyce, but Zylko was out going home, Smith to O'Neill. Kirk scored on an error by Jack Leyden.

In the meantime Port was doing little or nothing to score. O'Neill doubled in the first but got no farther than second base. The next Port man to get on base was Captain Moore who singled in the third but was left stranded when Boyce gathered in Evanosky's high foul fly. In the sixth inning Moore got on base a second time on an error. When Gingerelli missed the throw to catch him stealing, Moore went to third but he stayed while O'Neill and Evanosky were striking out. Smith got a single in the last inning but was called out in an attempt to pilfer second.

Port Wins Invitation Meet With 54 Points

Eight First Places

Last Saturday, Port won the Tenth Annual Invitation Track Meet by garnering 54 points, more than 17 points higher than the nearest competitor, Great Neck. The team won 8 of the sixteen first places and placed in all but two events, the Senior 100 and 220-yard dashes. Great Neck was second with 36½ points, Hicksville third with 26½ and Mineola fourth with 24. Sea Cliff, the winner of last year's meet, had only 8 1/3 points.

The closest race of the day was in the mile run which turned out to be a battle between Nick Welch of Great Neck and John O'Neill of Port. Welch started off very fast and had a 20-yard lead at the end of the first lap. O'Neill jogged steadily along in second place until the last lap. Then he uncorked a magnificent spurt which Welch could not meet, took the lead at the final turn and came in the victor.

Tom Williamson won the half-mile by 15 yards in the fast time of 2:12 6/10. Borgman of Great Neck spurted at the finish, but Tom had plenty left to meet it. Neusel also had a large lead at the finish of his event, the 440 yard dash, which he won in 58.2.

Lem Jumps 6 Feet ½ Inch

Lem Lovejoy won the running high jump from Hickey of Great Neck who missed at 5 feet 10 inches. The bar was raised to 6 feet ½ inch and then to 6 feet 2½ inches. On his third try, Lem was over with an inch to spare, but knocked the bar off with his elbow. Lem also won a second place in the 12-pound shot-put, six inches behind Morselli of Hicksville, who put the shot 42 feet 4½ inches. Port also had a second place in the 8-pound shot, when Paul Smith made a mark of 34 feet.

The 120 pound men got their share of Port's 54 points. Art Allen won the 220 yard dash by passing Reiss of Mineola at the half way mark. Bob Hubbard surprised everybody, himself included, by winning the broad jump, an event which he had not practiced for this year. Chester Cipriani won the 100 yard dash by at least 3 yards and Harry Van Dyke earned one point in the high jump. The relay team, composed of Allen, Ciminera, Hubbard and Cipriani, won easily. Allen gained a 10-yard lead and the others increased it to 20 yards before the race was over.

Polk Second in Vault

Cletus Polk was also a near victor. Both he and Uhl of Great Neck missed their first and second attempts to vault 9 feet 6 inches but Uhl managed to get over on his last try.

Charley Newman did not place in the Senior 100 but gained a point in the broad jump.

Jack Leyden, who seemed sure of a place in the 220, turned his ankle and fell at the last turn. Jack is favoring a weak ankle which was swathed in bandages during the race.

The Senior Relay Team finished second after a poor start. Neusel was cut off at the first turn but by good passing of the baton, the team came in second.

Betty Cornell Playing First in Mass. State Contest

Saturdays' issue of the Springfield Union carries on its front page news that the play "The Starter," written by our former fellow student, Betty Cornell, was awarded first place in the presentation of plays at Copley Theater, Boston. The play will be presented at the National Finals to be held in New York City at an early date.

Two More Games

Next Friday, May 11, Port plays Roslyn away from home. This game will mark the close of the first half of the baseball season. Roslyn has yet to win a baseball game with Port. According to the rumors which are being spread about, Roslyn has another of these 100% improved baseball teams. Manhasset was the first one. The Port hitters will have to get out of their batting slump and get their bats going against Tusholski, the Roslyn pitcher. In the Glen Cove and Manhasset games Port amassed the meagre total of five hits. This clearly shows the truth of the statement that if you can't hit you can't win. So let's have a large crowd at Roslyn to cheer the team out of its batting slump.

The following Tuesday, Port will meet Glen Cove in another home game.

The team will attempt to atone for the 4-0 whitewashing which it received in the game earlier in the season. This was the first shut-out Port had received in years. Only one Port man reached third, two second and four first. Charley Evanovsky is pitching fine ball for Port this year and only a few runs ought to be enough to put Port on top.

Seven Run Rally Beats Westbury

Sullivan Pitches

Last Friday on the Westbury diamond, the Port baseball team came out of its prolonged batting slump and tallied seven runs in the sixth inning to win 8-2. Port was trailing by one run when the sixth inning came around. The Westbury coach yanked Graikowski, who had shown signs of weakening, and sent Distler in to pitch. The change was welcomed by the Port batters and with one out, Seraphine fanned, but reached first when the catcher dropped the third strike. A single by Newland and another passed ball after Moore had fanned, filled the bases. Charley Evanosky connected solidly with a fast ball and drove it across the road in center field for a double, scoring Seraphine and Newland. A long triple by Smith to nearly the same sector, scored Moore and Evanosky. O'Neill knocked Smith in and Distler out with a double along the right field foul line. Razzano took up the pitching burden and was greeted by an infield single by Terrell. Tins, batting for the second time in the inning, brought in O'Neill and Terrell with another one-bagger.

Sullivan Pitches Well

"Dap" Sullivan started his first game as a Port pitcher and gave only three hits in the four innings that he worked. Both runs were directly the result of errors by Port's infield. Charley Evanosky, who was being saved for the Great Neck game, started at third and John O'Neill was behind the bat. Erb and Terrell changed places, Terrell playing at second and Erb at short. Phil Seraphine played a fine defensive game at first in the absence of Jack Leyden while the placing of Tins in the outfield added a greater punch to the end of the batting order. Both he and Smith collected three hits in four times at bat.

Westbury got a run in the first inning. Graikowski walked and Evanosky found Marshall's liner too hot for him. The runners advanced on a passed ball and Graikowski scored on an infield out. Sullivan averted further trouble by knocking down O'Connor's liner and throwing him out at first. Westbury's other run came in the second inning on an error and a double by Distler. Errors got Sullivan into trouble again in the fourth, but good support when hits meant runs, pulled him out again. Beatlie doubled, but was out when he interfered with Erb on Leonardo's grounder. Two errors filled the bases. Evanosky scooped up a grounder and forced Leonardo out at home and on the next play threw Marshall out at first.

Port Scores in Fourth

Port nicked Graikowski for at least one run in every inning, but did not score until the fourth. In the first inning Moore was safe on an error.

Smith singled, but O'Neill hit into a double play. In the second Erb walked and Tins singled but neither of the next two batters could advance them. In the fourth stanza, however, Erb and Tins singled. A pass to Sullivan filled the bases and Erb went home on passed ball. A single by Moore filed the bases again, but Evanosky was out, Razzano to Ketchum.

Evanosky relieved Sullivan in the fifth and pitched the rest of the game. He was helped out by a freak double play in the fifth. With none out, Larken walked and O'Connor singled, but both were out on poor base running, Moore to Erb to Seraphine.

The game was scheduled to be played at Port, but since the Flower Hill Field has been torn up by the construction of the new track, the home game with Westbury will be played on the 25th of May.

Two base hits—Distler, Beatie. Evanosky, O'Neill; Three base hits—O'Connor, Smith; Double Plays—Graikowski to Razzano to Ketchum; Moore to Erb to Seraphine; Bases on Balls—Off Sullivan 1, Graikowski 2, Evanosky 3; Stolen Base—Erb 2.
