Practice Play Enjoyed

The High School Assembly was held on Thursday at 11:15 P. M. Bill burns acted as chairman. We were first told about the Port Light. Mr. Merrill next informed us of the proximity of Regents, and advised hard study.

The chairman then announced the The chairman then announced the feature of the program. This was a practice play "What They Think" by Rachal Crothers, given by the Dra-matic Class. The cast was as follows: Father, Tommy Moore; Mother, Vir-ginia Metzger; the son, Anthony Yo-rio; the daughter, Skippy Walling-ford. The play was one of the best given this year. The plot itself was no doubt, an every day, or every no doubt, an every day, or every night, occurrance to many of our students. It was the same old story of "Aw, I came in late, and Pop bawled me out."

Senior Banquet Enjoyed

On Wednesday night the Seniors gathered at the Knickerbocker Yacht Club to enjoy their long-awaited ban-quet. Bill Newland was toastmaster and a very good one, too. He called on the captains of teams and other members of the class. After the dinner all adjourned to the dance floor to "step" to the strains of Port Ramblers.

Neusel Re-elected

The annual election of Fratry offi-cers was held to the accompaniment of much discussion. "Swiss Neusel" had the honor of being re-elected president by a unanimous vote of the club. This vote shows the confidence the club places in its re-elected president. Sullivan was elected vice-presi-dent. Terrell, former corresponding secretary, was advanced to the office of secretary. Evanosky succeeds Love-joy as treasurer. Gilbert, secretary, was voted correspondence secretary, while Rogo was elected Sergeant-at-Arms. After the regular officers were voted in the election of standing committees was taken up. This work entailed a great amount of time and "Art" Allen, "Ed" Gould and "Tommy" Newman were elected to the club court. The new membership commit-tee is composed of Gould, Rogo, and Terrell. Giresi, "Johnny" DiMeo, Peyser and Sullivan will have charge of initiations for the next year.

With such a group of officers the Fratry expects to accomplish great things next year.

We Learn About Men

On account of the extremely pleasant weather on Thursday evenings, the Celerity meetings for the last few times have been starting after eight o'clock. Doris Chase was voted in and initiated at last Thurs-day's meeting. After the meeting as part of her initiation Doris told us her experiences with men. She explained them, and we found out that men were very little insignific-ant things filled with oodles of hot air and blah. Also, we were inform-ed that we are unable to believe a word that they say. Doris danced and sang and recited poetry not mentioning other hair-raising experiences.

We decided that as long as the next meeting would be the last that we should have a blowout. Mildred reiber if we might have the gym. rieber if we might have the gym. Dorothy Williamsen is in charge of the refreshments and a good time. the refreshments and a good time will be had by all.

Port Defeats Great Neck On Track

The track men of Port christened the new track in a most fitting manner by administering a severe trounc-ing to Great Neck on Tuesday. This was the third defeat that school has suffered at the hands of Port in less than a week. Two baseball games and a track meet. The Port team was in fine shape and they showed it. There were only a few events in which Great Neck got the first places. The final score was 891/2 to 471/2.

Editorial Comment The High School Clubs

Every Thursday night a number of the students of the High School do their homework early so they can go out. Their destination is not some roadhouse, but is instead, the school. Needless to say their bent is not recitations.

The boys go to the Fratry and the girls to the Celerity. These are two of the High School Clubs.

Once a month on Wednesday night the better students, that is, those who have better scholastic averages, go to the Circle.

Some of the afternoons the library has resounded to the sounds of the French Club meetings.

This is a very good sign, indeed, for these clubs are indicators of the spirit of the school. With the advent of the clubs the interest shown in the school has increased. These clubs have taken over many activities that would have otherwise been on the hands of Mr. Merrill or Mr. Seeber.

Because these clubs have so increased the spirit of the school, we hope that they will always be a large factor in the school.

The Port Weekly

Order Your Port Lights Now

The Port Lights will be back from the printers Friday and will be distributed to the home room treasurers. Each copy is one dollar and extra copies may be obtained in Miss Gaylord's office. Much work is still being done on the book. Among those who have made trips with Miss Gaylord to Case the Printer at Flushing, are, Bill Peyser, the associate editor, Howard Emmerick, Robert Black, Davis Hegeman, George Crandall and Charles Newman.

Notes

The dual track meet with Great Neck that was held yesterday will be written up in the next issue of the Port Weekly.

The staff is glad to learn that Milton Hopkins, a graduate of this school has donated the first volume of the Pork Weekly to be bound.

Have you noticed the new numerals the boys have been sporting? They were given to those who earned five points in the interclass track meet.

We are glad to know that Christie Walters, a graduate of last year, has recuperated from an attack of diphtheria. She is now practice teaching in the kindergarten of our school.

Posters to Compete at Rochester

The winners of the Tuberculosis contest this year from the school were as follows: Anna Fleet, first; Jacob Rogo, second; Dorothy Tench, third. Each of the winners was presented with a very attractive medal. The Posters are to be exhibited for judgment at the state contest at Rochester.

Graduates From Cortland Normal

Among three hundred graduates of the Cortland Normal school is Gertrude Crampton, class of '25, who will be remembered for her athletic powers be remembered for her athletic powers in high school. While she was in high school she was our song and cheer leader. Girlie was on every girls' team goin' in the school. At Cort-land she stands fifth in the en-tire graduating class and first in the physical education department. She, together with four other mem-hers of the class has been chosen bers of the class, has been chosen to speak at the commencement exercises at the school. She is to be an assistant of Mr. Seeber's this summer at the school children's playground.

Best o' Luck

As we approach the end of the year we always find that some of our teachers are going to leave. The staff has learned that our adviser, Miss Gaylord, is leaving Port and they wish to take this opportu-nity to thank her for the work she has done and to express their hope that she will have the "Best o' Luck" wherever she goes.

Port Ties for Championship

Beats Roslyn 7-3

Last Friday at the Flower Hill Field, Port won the second game with Roslyn and went into a triple tie with Great Neck and Manhasset for the championship of the league. The Great Neck team with the championship apparently cinched, lost a game to Sea Cliff. Each of the three leading teams have won five league games and lost three. This was the fourth win in a row for the home team which is now at the peak of its form and playing first class ball.

Port gave Evanosky a four run lead in the first inning, gained another in the second and then put the game on ice with two more in the fourth. Evanosky gave Roslyn one hit and one run until the last inning when Roslyn scored two runs. The Port batters collected nine hits off Teddy Mieryejeski, the Roslyn pitcher.

Fish of Roslyn singled to start the game and took second on an error. Laduzivsky hit a liner into center field which the wind seemed about to carry away from Smith. Smitty however, made a pretty catch. When Fish left second too soon, he was caught, Smith to Erb.

O'Neill leading off for Port, dropped a bunt in front of the plate and reached first in safety. Moore singled. Tins hit into right field and when Peters missed an attempted shoestring catch, two runs came in. Evanosky pushed a slow ball over short and rins pulled up at third. Tins came in when Kenney muffed Erb's grounder. Fish dropped a ball thrown to him and when he loafed in going after the ball, Charley made a dash for the plate for the fourth run of the inning.

Roslyn Fills Bases

Roslyn filled the bases in the second inning, but an old trick made the third out. Peters was safe on Tom Leyden's error. After Japnoski had flied out, Evanosky hit Nudo and walked Bock, filling the bases. O'Neill kept the ball after the fourth ball and whipped it to Jack Leyden, who tagged Bock for the final out.

For Port, Tom Leyden beat out an infield hit and took second. O'Neill laid down another bunt and beat the throw to first. Moore walked, filling the bases. Evanosky hit into a double play, but Tom Leyden scored from third.

Roslyn got a run in the fourth on an error. With men on first and third, Roslyn tried a double steal. O'Neill threw to Erb, who made a fast re-turn for a put-out at the plate. In Port's turn at bat, Tom Leyden

Port Trounces

Great Neck

On Monday last Port played off the first game of the triple tie by defeat-ing Great Neck by the score of 12-2.

Throughout the game the rooters from Port were thrilled by the crack of the Port bats. The second inning heralded the advent of the hitting, when Port got four runs. The other eight were scattered during other innings.

Port was in fine trim. The absence of many errors and the presence of many hits were the keynotes struck.

Today, Wednesday, Port plays Manhasset at Great Neck to finally decide the championship of the League. The winner of this contest will play Glen Cove on Friday for the North Shore title.

Students, you have a worthy team. to back. Let's yell for them and hope that they win both games.

Grades Stage Field Day

On Saturday the grade schools had their annual Field Day. About six hundred parents were seated in the bleachers to view the work of their children.

Many different and clever scenes were flashed before the eyes of the onlookers. The first three grades of the four schools, Main Street, Hempstead Harbor, Sands Point and Flower Hill, were resplendent in their costumes. Much credit is due the teachers who worked with the children and taught them the novelties. The fourth to sixth grades participated in a track program after the pageant. Foot races, relays, three-legged races, wheelbarrow races, and sack races were enjoyed by all present. The Main Street School won the meet with 149 points, while the Flower Hill team was a close second with 141. These two left only 26 points and the Sands Point representatives got 23 of them, leaving the remain-ing three for Hempstead Harbor.

sent a liner into right. He was out trying to steal second. O'Neill got the longest hit of the day, a liner into right field. He tore around the bases and was called out at home. Because of the ground rules, however, which limit a hit to that sector to one base, he was called back to first. O'Neill stole second and when Moore grounded to Teddy, he hit Fish so hard sliding into the bag, that the Roslyn third baseman dropped the ball. Tins hit to Fish and O'Neill countered when the throw to the plate was low. Evanosky brought in Port's last run.

In the sixth, Evanosky fanned all the batters who faced him, but in the seventh, with one out, Teddy walked. Singles by Fish and Laduzinski brought him around to the plate and Fish scored on an infield out.

L. I. Scout Press Club Holds Meeting

The Long Island Boy Scout Press Club, the first local chapter of the National Boy Scout Amateur Press Association, which was formed May 1, at the Pennsylvania Hotel, held its second meeting Tuesday, June 5, at the office of the Output at the office of the Queens County Evening News at Jamaica. Six Scouts were present, and seven Long Island Boy Scout publications on Long Island were represented, one Scout representing two papers.

Before the regular meeting there was an informal discussion and exchange of publications. At about 8:30 the city editor of the Queens County Evening News showed the Scouts the story of a newspaper article from typed copy to printed sheet. He took a typed copy, corrected and marked it for their benefit. He demonstrated how headlines are selected.

He next showed them the composing room. The Scouts were shown the principles of the linotype machine.

They were shown how headlines are set. The city editor also demons-trated the use of the galley, making the galley proof and the process of mutting the process of putting the paper together.

Next the Scouts were introduced to the assistant advertising manager who gave them a very interesting talk on the principles, importance and development of advertising. He showed that an "ad", to be successful, should have beauty, art and appropriateness. The main purpose of advertising, he said, was to catch the eye of the public.

On one wall were copies of advertisements from all ages. There was a copy of the first "ad" on record—I —, seek my slave,—, who has escaped— which was written in Egypt in 3,000 B. C. on a piece of papyrus. There were other English and Amer-ican advertisements from all stages of business.

When this demonstration was over the Scouts held their business meeting. The Constitution, which had been temporarily accepted at the preceding meeting, was corrected and final-ly accepted. No less than sev_n changes were made, and on no one of these was the debating very short.

After about an hour and a half of discussion, Mr. O'Laughlin of the Long Island Evening Post, who had entered in the meanwhile, finally got a chance to speak and offered his help to the club. He told of his own experience in journalism and of the opportunities of journalism.

At 11:15 the meeting adjourned and the delegations returned home. Some brought home souvenirs such as pieces of "mat" used in stereotyping.

Wm. Woodward represented Port Washington and "The Scout," the publication of Troop 7, the local Troop.

Lem Lovejoy Highest Scorer

Lem, our nearest approach to Lindbergh, (Contributed by Seeds Mallon) was the highest scorer of the track team. The exact number we have not figured out, but it's somewhere in the neighborhood of seventy. He has not only gotten points, but also records. This winter he startled the indoor track world by establishing the indoor record with a leap of 6 ft. 3 inches. At the state meet he bettered the old record by three inches, jump-ing 6 feet, he also won the broad jump. He was the high scorer of that meet and by winning the two events he accomplished a rare feat.

Heard on the way to a game in one of the better cars:

"Say! listen! Lindbergh got to Paris without any advice from the back seat!
