Editorial Comment

Due to the complaint of the faculty as to their not having sufficient time for both recitations and drill in the allotted period, last Thursday the students were requested to express their opinions on the supervised study system. It seems to be the general consensus of opinion that something is lacking in the new system.

P

Are we satisfied with our marks this month? If not, isn't it our fault? Are we putting all we might into our periods of study? Let's bring every mark up ten points next month. We can.

P

Haven't we been repaid for our loyal support of our girls on the hockey field? Aren't we all glad we've gone to the games? Of course we are. We're proud, too, that our cheering has helped the team on to victory. Let's not slouch on the last few games.

News Picked Up Around the School

Play Rehearsals Start

Rehearsals began last week on "Little Women" the Red Domino year production. As the play takes place during the Civil War all contributions of clothing, furniture, bric-a-brac, carpets, pictures, etc. from that period will be gladly received. If these cannot be brought to school notify a member of the club and the things will be called for and promptly returned after the play.

It is necessary to construct new sets for this play. Anyone who can and will paint will be a great help to the stage crew. Come on students and help make the play a success!

Three new members were admitted to the Red Domino club Thursday at a special meeting. They were: Larry Dean, Billy Otto and Vincent Moore.

P

Something new has been introduced into our School Library. Mrs. Langdon has collected numerous stamps from foreign countries and mounted them in a book. Several of our students have donated stamps and Mrs. Langdon has traded duplicates with other people. In the glass case outside the Library door several French stamps are on exhibition. If the student would like to donate any stamps or trade any duplicates that he might have, this collection will be of value to students as well as an interesting feature for many years to come.

P

The Celerity met on last Wednesday afternoon with May Evans presiding. The main part of the meeting was devoted to a discussion on evening meetings. One meeting a month is to be held in the evening. This will be the social meeting for which the members of the Celerity have long been promoting. Reports from the Candy Sale held at the Great Neck game showed favorable results.

P

Last Thursday the first pictures were taken for "The Port Light." The football and hockey squads were the chosen victims to see the birdie. The apparent "boistrousness" of the girls leads us to felicitate the White Studios upon their excellence in choosing good-looking photographers.

After all the school will have "The Port Light" this year.

Open House Held Here Last Night

Dramatics Class Give Play

This week, beginning Monday, Armistice day, is Educational week and this school observed it by having a shorter school day yesterday. Every year this is done here. The work was carried on as follows.

The seventh period was omitted and all the pupils and teachers met last night and carried on the work as they usually did in that class period. These periods at night though, instead of being regular fifty-four minute periods were cut short to thirty minutes.

There was music by the girls' and boys' glee clubs, showing the nature of the work being done in that department. The dramatics class had prepared a play, "The Dear Departed", and presented that as a means to show also what it is doing. Parents and friends were invited to come and get acquainted with the teachers and the work.

ASSEMBLY FORECAST ANNOUNCED

In accordance with the plan started last year, several interesting assembly programs have been arranged by various groups in the school. In November, the Dramatics Class plans to present a humorous Chinese fantasy by Oliver—"The Turtle Dove." The fact that the whole play is presented in front of a large Chinese plate further adds to its uniqueness. We hope that this offering will be as much of a success as the recent presentations of the Dramatics department.

On November 22 the Art department will present a series of tableaux of famous masters. Chief among these will be that of Whistler's "Mother" and "The Song Of The Lark" by Monet. November 27 will bring us a Thanksgiving program. To round out the term, Miss Bortz's Civics classes will present a civic program on Dec. 6.

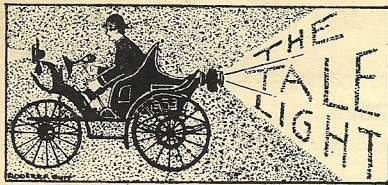

This idea of having each group present a program seems to be a very good one. This step for the better is a welcome relief from the old cut and dried assemblies.

Manhasset Game Saturday

This Saturday Port will play Manhasset. Last year, you may remember, Port soundly defeated Manhasset to the tune of 26-0. This year the teams are evenly matched and ought to furnish keen competition. Manhasset boasts of a scrappy team and has thus far shown better results than Port has. That, however, doesn't say that they will beat us Saturday!

Aunt Emmie Starts Column

Dear Cousin Emmie,

I am in a terrible fix and I know you will be glad to help me. What would you advise to add some weight to my one hundred pounds? As end on the football team I seen to make the members of the opposing team very peeved when suddenly they find themselves down on the ground with me hanging on to their pants. I thought they might like it better if I were bigger. Please help me.

Love,
You Know Who.

Dear Yes, I know who,

Having eaten down in the lunchroom myself, I know your trouble. But water often helps stave off hunger and there is plenty of that in the lunchroom. Really though, I think it would be much better to remain small—the other team can't find you except on top of them. Hoping I am helpful,
Cousin Emmie.

Dear Student-Body,

Knowing you all have your troubles, I am starting this column to help you by examples from my own experiences. Just send in your requests to Cousin Emmie.

Love,
Emma.

Resume of Westbury Game

A week ago last Tuesday, Westbury's gridders handed Port its fourth defeat of the season by the overwhelming score of 20-0. On account of injuries, Port's regulars were kept out of the game until it was evident that they were needed. Westbury displayed a very aggressive attack which Port found hard to stop.

By running around end, catching a pass, or hitting off-tackle, Hoare of Westbury accounted for all of his teams scores. Four times Port was in striking distance of a touchdown but each time Westbury either intercepted wildly or held like a stone wall.

The Line-up

Port	Washington	Westbury
Teta	R. E.	Magnus
P. Smith	R. T.	Sommese
Lanman	R. G.	Brown
Kurewjo	C.	Ketcham
Kalinosky	L. G.	Hubert
Golder	L. T.	Razzano
Jenkins	L. E.	Parent
Neusel	Q. B.	Beatty
Laffetry	R. H.	E. Graikoski
Terrell	L. H.	Hoare
Curtin	F. B.	Distler
Score by periods	1 2 3 4	Total
Westbury	7 7 6 0	20
Port Washington	0 0 0 0	0

THE FRATRY RECEIVES HOLLYWOOD CRAZE

The Fraternity has gone Hollywood! Yes, they are buying a movie camera. Perhaps the Fraternity and the Celerity could get together!! They haven't made any plans as yet as what they expect to do with the camera, but we all think the results will be very amusing if not quite entertaining. If we could get enough of the students interested and perhaps make a production under the supervision of the Fraternity, we think this would add to the amusement of all concerned. Some fun, hey, Kid?

The Initiation committee is looking forward with great eagerness, we might even say, with very great eagerness to Wednesday night when a number of new and tender pledges will be given their degree as full-fledged members under the supervision of "Strap" Smith as chairman, with "Swiss" Neusel and Stanley Kurewjo as his colleagues.

"Paddles to the right of them,
Paddles to the left of them,
Paddles in back of them,
Paused, then thundered."

At last the Fraternity has decided a permanent date for their dance. It is December the Fourteenth. Now you may go ahead and make your dates. You can bet your last dollar that it will be the best dance of the year, too. So, everybody must come!!

After the holidays last week we saw "Toddy" Anderson and Ray Smith come to school, both had their arm in a sling. Oh-Oh something must be done about this!! The affair of the "Doity Shoit" has been filed under "Perfect Crimes" and the case dismissed. We were terribly disappointed because we look so hard for scandal. Better be careful, our men are everywhere! Saw a swell show the other night. 'Twas "Sweet Adeline." You must see it if you want a good laugh! Jerome Kern is responsible for all of the tunes. Yeah—He's good too. Helen Morgan warbles a couple of sweet ones. The story is about the "Gay Nineties." Now we can find exactly what Mom'n Pop did when they were young! Well, children, our liquor without a license; SHHH Canada has nothing on us—we can get our liquor without a license. We take no back-talk now, listen to this, "I'm throwing a big party tonight," said the wrestler to the sports-writers. One Sweet Young Thing says, "I'll sue her for Alienation—that's what I'll do!" To which the other S. Y. T. answers, "You can't, dearie, she was born right here in New York!" That last crack is from the show "June Moon." Yeah, and he who laughs last must have a fifty cent seat! We heard that "Scotty" Morgan walked into a restaurant after the Southampton game and asked for a portion of bread and butter. Better luck next time, "Scotty." And in closing we will all stand and sing that very touching little ballad entitled, "I Love The River Because It's Near The Bank."

Hockey Team Beats Hempstead Girls 9-0

Yes another game of hockey was played last Thursday between Hempstead and Port! Are you interested in the results? Well, it really would not appear that way for there were just about a half dozen high school students present. Anyway the Port girls played a real game, the dribbling was good, the pass work excellent and above all the thing that makes a game, was the splendid co-operation and team work.

Hempstead came over with a large squad and also a large number of spectators which greatly outnumbered those of Port; however, the Port girls came through with an overwhelming victory of 9-0.

The line-up:

Port (9)	Hempstead (0)
Salerno F.	R. W. Ackley
Krage	I. R. Wattlely
Corrigan	I. L. Maier
Wackwitz	C. F. Foster
Ciminera	L. W. Washburn
Smith V.	F. H. Watson
Reed	C. H. Smith
Emmerich	L. H. Scholes
Campbell	R. B. Hedweiga
Younger	L. B. Joy
Kalinosky	G. Mott
Substitutions: Port—Mantell, Caldwell, Burdick, Sosland, Augustine, Dell, Horowitz, Salerno R., Kennedy, Turkington, Tjarks.
Substitutions: Hempstead—Weisen-danger, Brewster, Gagel, Mathews, Jones, Hillary.

Singing in Assembly

On Monday at 11 o'clock a short program was held in observance of Armistice Day. William Otto led a flag salute after which all stood at attention for two minutes. Mr. Gordon sang "There is No Death," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lowry. Robert Read read "The Unknown Soldier" and the assembly was closed with a chorus of "America" by the students.

Comment should be made about those students who were so disrespectful as to laugh during the silent tribute to those who fought for us in the War.

AND A FEW PERSONALS

"Bugs" and Bob Fertig saw "Sweet Adeline" last Friday night. They gave us a vivid report of it—bet they're trying to outdo Bide Dudley!

Larry Dean started for Texas last week but his Ford stalled at Bayside and he came back.

All our sympathy to "Toddy" and "Smitty"—but it does look queer!

The Senior Dance is going to be a very brilliant affair, but Yours Truly hasn't a thing to wear. That eternal feminine cry.
