How Should We Act in Assembly?

A few years ago a very famous pianist who was giving a concert in town took enough of his time to play for an assembly program. His technique called for considerably violent physical motion, to which a large number of the student body responded with a great burst of laughter. You who were there will remember that he stuck to his guns, but it was a very embarrassing situation for those in charge of the program.

For one period a week the school has undertaken to entertain you by employing dramatics and music instructors who have put on programs in an attempt to entertain you in assembly. Why not at least show your appreciation of these performances by at least acting interested? Outside of these instructors the school has procured from the School Assembly Association speakers who tour the country making talks before schools. Good impressions are lasting. So when Charley Paddock, the sprinter, appears in March let us give him a good impression of the strong hold of the Blue and White by being an attentive, well mannered audience.

Motion Pictures Taken in School

A week ago moving pictures were taken of the various phases of school activity by Mr. Langdon, pictures which will prove of great interest to the people of Port Washington.

Shots were taken of the auditorium, library, drawing room, chemistry room, cafeteria and Archery Club. With the proper lighting effects and good cameraship, soon Port High School will have a chance to view themselves as others do.

Report cards will be issued on March 19. Class averages are finally to be compiled and the "Circle" banner for excellence, which is lying dormant in Room 203, will be resurrected.

Mary Lou Halsey attended a tea dance at the Phi Delta Gama last week.

Jeanette Mortimer will be present at a Cooper Union Tech dance next week-end.

Bob Geddes was in Port for the week-end.

George Crandall will be here June 18th. When "Terry" was asked when she heard from him last, Brother John replied, hurriedly: "The last mail."

"Al" Reade and Frank Engelmann visited Yceng's Restaurant last Saturday and afterwards saw Earl Carroll's "Sketchbook." They report it well worth seeing and hearing.

Charley Newman has played golf twelve times this year.

Yea, and in the spring a young man turns towards roaming thoughts of love.

Mr. Merrill spent last week-end at his father's home in New Jersey.

And say, who was the strange femme we saw Sam Fleet out with last Saturday?

Big Ham Five Plays

Last Monday the Big Ham Five euhred the Moose Club of Port Washington in the Main Street Gym. The score was 47-14.

Dazzling passwork on the part of Sullivan, Williamson and Jenkins proved to be the Moose's downfall. Joe Teta, Johnny De Meo and Roger Enscoe were the others who played with the winners.

Fratry To Give Athletic Show

Two Big Games Scheduled

The Fraternity, ever ready to give the public and high school students a good time, will again come to the fore this Saturday evening. One of the best programs ever presented in the Flower Hill Gym will be expected when two basketball teams of college calibre do battle with each other.

In a preliminary to the main feature the Junior High warriors will attempt to square themselves with the varsity seconds. If you remember correctly, these two teams proved an equal match for each other before. Because of this, a fast, close and spectacular game should be expected.

During the brief intermission between the two tilts, two acrobats have been secured by the Fraternity to perform stunts on the parallel bars and perhaps, if time allows, with other gymnastic equipment. Incidentally the two performers will be the same ones who, you remember, did so well in the last Fraternity variety show.

The main game is guaranteed to be a thriller. The Seventh Regiment team of the city, coached by Mr. Connery, will have it out with the St. Lawrence University Alumni. The former team is well-known throughout the entire city, and there is no doubt as to the ability of the latter team, especially since we know that among those included in their lineup appear Messrs. Connery and Costello.

Parents who wish to witness a high class basketball game are urged to attend. A small admission fee of fifty cents for adults and 25 cents for children will be charged. This is very reasonable when you consider the talent to be presented. Don't forget the date is Saturday, March 8th.

Boys' Team Scores 237 Points

Probably it will be interesting to know how many points each member of our basketball team scored during the past season. The following information has been secured:

F. Jenkins	79
Kurejwo	74
P. Smith	37
R. Smith	29
Polk	08
J. De Meo	07
J. Teta	02
R. Enscoe	01
H. Gilbert	00
N. Salerno	00

Our team as a whole scored 237 points to its opponents 223.

Girls Lose In Overtime Game

Wackwitz Scores 13 Points

Last Friday evening our girls dropped a fast and close game to Roslyn. The final outcome was 25 to 21.

Port led throughout most of the contest but lost the lead in the closing minutes of play. Roslyn was unable to forge ahead, however, and an extra period was made necessary. During this three minute overtime period, Port had plenty of tries for baskets but failed to click on any of them. Roslyn, on the other hand, worked the ball underneath the basket to cage her winning baskets. Our guards became excited and continually fouled. The Roslyn lassies took advantage of this and sank their free throws. Incidentally, this is the only home game which the girls have dropped this season. At no time did either team control a commanding lead, a fact which indicates that both factions were evenly matched.

Thus another basketball season comes to a close. The girls, under the able coaching of Miss Burnett, have done very well, considering the fact that an entirely new combination had to be found and worked up. Next season the team will remain almost intact and a great season may be looked forward to.

PORT RUNNERS TO ENTER ST. JOHN MEET

The St. John's meet, to be held in Brooklyn this Saturday, will see Port's indoor track stars competing for the second time this year.

Gould, Hulst, Fred Golder and Lawrence are pounding the boards in the half mile, while Angus is seeing more sprints in the novice hundred. Charlev Golder is trying his hand at the 600.

More meets are being looked forward to, to give the runners the height of stiff training for the spring.

Former Dramatics

Teacher Found

An exchange has just been received from "Brass Tacks", of the High School in Rome, New York. In the staff head we find that the name of Viola Gaylord, former Dramatics teacher and Faculty Advisor of "The Port Weekly", was mentioned. After all these years we know definitely where she is and can wish her success and happiness at Rome High School.

"The Port Weekly" is being sent to Lloyd Sinclair in Africa. We all wish him luck, wherever he is in that Dark Continent.

Sport Thoughts By Those That Know

Once again Port athletes will participate in outdoor sports, for last week saw the close of the varsity basketball season with the game with Roslyn.

Many of last year's regulars have graduated, leaving plenty of open berths. Smitty will probably be on the mound. Several ineligibilities will afford a few empty places to be taken and out of a big squad, Mr. Seeber ought to glean a few revelations for the diamond.

While baseball season doesn't open until the first of May, the boys may be seen throwing the leather around and seasoning themselves up for a tough schedule. Unlike basketball, baseball is not selective. Because of this a large squad is to be expected when Mr. Seeber announces the opening of practice.

It's a tough proposition to coach a new team. A great deal of credit is due Mr. Costello for turning out the teams he has in the face of great odds. In track, as it has been in football and basketball, he will have to turn out new team-ups and mould a team from the material that is unknown to him.

Swiss Neusel will be seen bedecked in his "440 Pants" set for a season that promises big things. Swiss is one veteran who never fears graduation to ruin his cinder career. (Information by "Check.")

Eddie Gould will pound his way over a mile of spring track for Alma Mater and see competition from all sources in the numerous meets to be run this season. "Coot," though ineligible, will probably be on hand pacing the distance men for the Coach, as is the habit of P. G.'s and alumni.

The present indoor track year is seeing the board pounders in shape for the St. John's meet this Saturday. Last week they made good in the Manual Training meet in Brooklyn, an account of which appears in this issue. The team after practices sound like an advertisement for Smith Bros. or Old Golds. A steady stream of lung splitting cough from the indoor air is always prevalent.

Looking back on the late basketball season, there are victories that outweigh the defeats when one considers the fact that Coach Costello had to form an entirely new team of last year scrubs around the Captain. Jenkins put himself across as an able leader and excelled as a player at this year's court as well as last.

The rest were all there doing their part on the court. With only Johnny DeMeo as a veteran of this year, the Coach is facing a job in weaving next year's squad around him.

Francis Larkin was host to two tables of bridge last Saturday evening. The guests were Mary Lou, Doris, Adelaide, Jessie, Merritt, Elbert and Ed. (Guess who.)

Port Team Trims Roslyn Five, 20-19

S. Kurejwo High Scorer

After watching the girls go down in defeat, the boys team barely beat the Roslyn five last Friday. The final count was 20-19.

The game started with Roslyn determined to avenge the early season trouncing dealt to them by Port. They were so determined, in fact, that the game became extremely rough. The first half ended 10-8, with Port in the lead.

In the second half there was much excitement. Johnny De Meo flew through the air and as he landed he broke the scoreboard with his head. Frank Jenkins got his eye in the way of somebody's elbow and a beautiful black eye was the result.

The other members of the team were also slightly shaken up. At various times both coaches withdrew players in order to have them (cool down). It was after one of these withdrawals that the audience had a short but exciting free for all.

After the spectators were forced to sit down, Referee Brown again started the game. Roslyn gained a one-point advantage but couldn't hold on to it in their excitement. A pass from Jenkins to Kurejwo, who made good a field goal, ended the scoring and Port emerged victorious in its final tilt.

The Lineup:

Jenkins, 1	.....	Nldo, 1
Kurejwo, 10	.....	Mierjewski, 2
P. Smith, 7	.....	McVeigh, 6
R. Smith, 2	.....	Pistel, 2
De Meo, 0	.....	Charlick, 7
Teta, 0	.....	Whelon, 1

PORT TRACK TEAM

ENTERS FIRST MEET

Port's indoor runners saw their initial city meet for this year, six competing in the Manual Training meet Saturday.

Angus was entered in a meet for the first time and met stiff competition in the novice "100" but finished well in the 1,000 yard, a hard run. As this was the first meet of this year, the five found it difficult going but were able to finish ahead of a goodly number.

At the same meet, George Spitz, of Flushing, broke Lovejoy's 6 feet 3 1-8 inch high jump record by a quarter inch.
