We Rise to Remark

That as we arrived at the Mineola Fair grounds last Friday afternoon to witness the premier appearance of our baseball nine, we were disappointed at seeing only a hand full of our school mates. The boys promise games for the remainder of the setson, well worth seeing. Let's get out and be pushers. Crack! We're off!

We are now embarking upon our last six-week period. Were we satisfied with the results of the previous periods? If not, let's remember that just a little more effort will serve to bring about the desired results.

That surely was a fine crowd we saw at the track meet Saturday. Some of our boys aren't so dumb after all—or didn't you notice their wheelbarrow bleacher with a platform of broken sticks rescued from the pole-vaulters? Keep up the good attendance! Such crowds can bother no one.

Stop! Look! Listen! The Junior Prom!

The Class of "31" has been busily engaged for the past week in formulating plans for its annual Junior Prom. The Prom will be held on Friday, May 23rd, at 8:30 o'clock. The music will be provided by the ever popular North Shore Commodores. As is the custom at the climax of the High School social, the Senior Class will be present as the guests of "31." All others who wish to attend this perennial event may obtain tickets for two dollars a couple.

The arrangements as they stand at the present time will be carried through to completion. The decorations have not yet been decided upon and if any member of the Class of "31" has any original and practical ideas as to how the gymnasium may be suitably decked for this occasion that member is requested to communicate with Allan Wilson and confide such ideas to him.

Plans Made for Port Light

The "Port Light" is getting into shape now. The various write-ups should be in by Friday. If you have been assigned one, be sure that it is in on time.

With the following write-ups, it looks as though we were going to have a fine issue this year:

The Fraternity, by Leo Lanman.

The Celerity, by Irma Terrell.

The French Club—we remember the fine performance of this club in assembly a short time ago—will owe its write-up to Catherine Drnek.

That famous school organization, The Red Domino Club, will be written up by Margaret Smith.

We will learn all about the "Port Weekly" from Stuart Chcate last term's Editor, and Hillard Swede will let us in on the secrets of the "Port Light."

Red Domino Season Closes

This past year has been quite eventful for the Red Domino Club. During its first year of activities it has tried to the best of its ability to help students who are interested in Dramatics. Of course not everyone can receive a part in one of the several plays given by the club, but the production staff has attempted to award the roles to the most deserving.

On May 15 the club will round out its year with its second annual banquet. At this time those students who were taken into the club during the past year will receive their pins. With these pins goes the club's deepest appreciation for the hearty cooperation of these new members.

Details of the May Festival

Election of Second Queen

On Friday, June sixth, in place of assembly, the Pantomime Class will give a recital of interpretive dancing. It will not be held in the auditorium but in the courtyard of the kindergarten. Attendance will be required and an admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

At the beginning of the program, a procession including the queen and her attendants, enters and the queen is crowned.

Following the coronation of the queen there will be dancing to imitate ancient Greek games. They will comprise hurdling, wrestling and a Phylric dance, which portrays Greek warriors, and discuss throwing.

The other dance is named "Dream Gate." On a May evening, in an enchanted garden, flowers come to life at midnight. A mortal child is permitted to see them. A bunny in the garden tells the incredulous little girl the secret that the flowers will awaken. One by one they come to life, perform individual dances, and return to their places. Then decrepit old Grandfather Dandelion appears on the scene. He begs the flowers to take pity upon him, but finds only one who sympathizes with him. He dances ludicrously to the amusement of all. Finally the spell is lifted and the flowers go back to sleep again.

Constance Caldwell has been elected as the one to crown the Queen of the May. The girl who was chosen Queen, however, is unwilling to accept the honor because she is a post graduate. For that reason a similar vote will be taken tomorrow at assembly, but this time only girls will be permitted to vote. The same qualifications are to be kept in mind when making your choice.

Music Festival To Be Given

A festival chorus is to be given by the Elementary School pupils on Monday evening, May twelfth, in the Senior High School Auditorium at eight-fifteen o'clock.

This chorus has been trained by Miss Holt with the assistance of Miss Tryon.

It has been estimated that the chorus consists of one hundred and eighty voices representing the intermediate grades.

It is hoped that this affair will become an annual custom.

The Senior High School orchestra under Mr. Cosgrove will assist in the program.

Glen Cove Hands In Second Defeat

Tuesday turned out to be a hot day for the Port nine as they went down in defeat at the hands of Glen Cove, the final count being 6-1.

Alton Paddock, an inexperienced moundsman, took charge of the hurling and performed rather brilliantly under fire for the first time, allowing only five hits. Our boys nipped Malisski, the Glen Cove pitcher, for seven hits, but most of them failed to come when needed.

Murray, an outstanding athlete, of Glen Cove, handled the stick best for the victors, walloping two out of four. The Smith brothers, of Port, both smashed the leather for a ride twice also.

Attendance at the two opening tilts has been poor. Just a handful turn out to see the team play. Let's give the boys a break and get to the games. Where is this thing they call school spirit?

The line-up:

Port 1 — Glen Cove 6		A.B.	R.	H.	E.
Terrell, rf	3	0	1	0

The Humorist Appears

Now listen, children, and you shall hear (all ear-trumpets fastened securely in place?) how great an electrician we have here, in the person of one of our faculty. It seems that a certain person did very poor work in a certain class, the cause of which no one was able to divine.

Now, this teacher, as a true modernist, brought into use her electrical knowledge. These are the results:

Said patient had a "short circuit" in his ? which was a very "series" affair, especially since he was working in "parallel" with another party. Of course, it stands to reason, that a great amount of "resistance" was offered to this plan.

Speaking of classes — upon entering one of our history rooms, we heard a question to the effect of what the Royalists were. R. T., waxing "modern" for the moment (?), answered: "The big shots of the town."

By the way, we wonder how Joe Teta leaped eighteen three and fell hard last Friday when it wasn't even Schauerling outdoors.

Why did the French teacher utter Boon when Tom Luey captured his heat.

If you had listened closely you could have heard Polk murmuring, "I'm flying high but I've got a feeling I'm falling," at the height of the crossbars.

Port Nine Trimmed By Mineola 22-8

Last Friday afternoon our baseball team opened its season by taking a severe drubbing from last year's Mineola champs, to the tune of 22-8.

Considering the team's handicaps, you'll conclude that the game was fairly well contested up to the fateful sixth inning. The score at the end of the fifth stanza was 7-2, in favor of Mineola. In the sixth, Port's opponents garnered fifteen runs from our pitching staff, which was weakening considerably.

This was the boys' first engagement and certainly doesn't represent a true comparative strength of the teams. Port succeeded in banging out eleven hits at the expense of Motto, Mineola's star hurler. This fact brings to light the hitting power of the Portites, for Motto hasn't been hit so often this year. The line-up:

Port, 8 — Mineola, 22

	A.B.	R.	H.	E.
Paddock, cf	4	0	1	0
Kurejwo, 2b	4	1	1	0
Curtin, ss	4	1	2	2
R. Smith, p	4	2	2	0
Polk, lf	3	1	0	1
Salerno, 3b	4	1	2	0
Sinkinson, 1b	2	1	1	0
P. Smith, c	4	0	1	0
Terrell	1	1	0	0

Substitutes — Walker for Paddock; Bronner for Walker; Polk for R. Smith; Walker for Polk; Terrell for Teta.

Tomorrow afternoon the boys will do battle with Manhasset. Whenever these two schools contest in athletics, feathers are sure to fly. So look for a hot game at Memorial Field, Manhasset.

Great Neck First in Meet

Saturday afternoon the track fans of Port witnessed a rather dull but important track meet. Ten North Shore schools met in an attempt to capture Port's twelfth annual invitation meet.

Port tracksters, last year's titleholders, were unable to retain their title, giving way to Great Neck, who finished far in advance of the rest of the schools. Hicksville snatched second place, while Port had to be content with a third.

This meet, however, did not decide the North Shore Championship, an honor which our boys will fight for this Saturday at Westbury. While the same schools will be entered in this coming meet, Port speedsters will be strengthened by the probable reappearance on the cinder path of Captain "Eddie" Gould, Joe "Chippy" Ciminera and "Herb" Sinkinson.

Summaries:

1. Great Neck	40½
2. Hicksville	27
3. Port Washington	25¾
4. Sea Cliff	24
5. Mineola	21
6. Westbury	16¾
7. Roslyn	10¾
8. Oyster Bay	9½
9. Glen Cove	7
10. Manhasset	4¾

Examinations For Scholarships

To Be Given in Cornell

Competitive examinations are being held each year in the County Court House the first Saturday in June of each year to determine an eligible list for the purpose of awarding State Scholarships in any of the several departments of Cornell University.

To be eligible to take the examinations, pupils must be at least 16 years of age at the beginning of the next succeeding college year and must have attended public schools or academies in this state at least 6 months during the preceding school year.

The examinations will be upon English, History (A, B, and American), plane geometry, algebra, and any two of the following: Greek, Latin, French, German, Spanish, advanced mathematics. Physics or chemistry may be offered as an alternate for advanced mathematics.

A list of competitors will be made out according to the credits received in the examinations. From this list, the scholarship awards will be made. As many candidates will be appointed from each county as there are assembly districts in the county.

The appointment to a scholarship entitles the candidate to have the tuition in any department of Cornell University reduced to the sum of $100.00 a year instead of the regular tuition but does not guarantee admission to the University. The candidate must satisfy the Cornell requirements for admission in the usual way.

Any members of the graduating class who may desire admission to the competitive examinations should make known the fact to the principal so that arrangements may be made in advance.

Additions to School Library

Hodgins—"Sky High."

Halle—"Which College?"

Eadie—"I Like Diving."

Lincoln—"Blair's Attic."

Thurston—"My Life of Magic."

Wills—"Tennis."

Nordhoff—"Falcons of France."

Masefield—"Sard Harker."

Ibanez — "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

Morley—"Thunder on the Left."

Listed above are recent additions to the School Library. One highly recommended is "Sky High," a history of aviation from the time of Nero until 1929. And if you wish an absorbing mystery-novel, be sure to read "Blair's Attic."
