Editorial Comment

During the week beginning May fourth, the entire United States will devote itself to music. Due to the fact that this school has been doing a good deal in this field it is not going to participate to any degree in the activities of music week. However, a few words about the development of music may be interesting.

In the time of the ancient Greek civilization the Greek religion consisted of the worship of many different gods and goddesses. These immortal beings each presided over a certain field or phase of mortal life. Among these were nine goddesses called Muses by the Greeks. Each Muse had charge of a different art and was the patron of that art, helping anyone who attempted to become expert in that one field. From this Greek name comes the word music.

The word music can have many It originally different meanings. meant any art over which the Muses presided, especially lyric poetry sung to the lyre or other instruments. From this it grew to mean the art of combining tones or sounds as of the voice or some instrument, with sweet or agreeable effect to the ear.

Music is produced in many ways, both by Nature and by man-made instruments. Some beautiful music is made by the wind. One of the early man-made instruments is the lyre.

North Shore Title General Average Of Marks On Up Grade Falls To Great Neck

Report cards are out again! This six weeks shows a decided turn for the better. Last report showed 188 on the self-reliant list, this marking period shows a total of 190. Also on the honor roll for last period there was a total of 123; this time there are 149-a large gain of 26. This period 15 made averages of 90% or over, a gain of 4 over last time. Of these 8 are from the 12A-1 group.

This month the holder of the highest average of the school is Frances Thomas who has an average of 961/4%. Walter Morris has second honors with 95%. Louis Kent and Malcolm Anderson are tied for third with 94%. In fourth place there are Lillis, Fred Golder, Marion Mehan and James Curtiss. The next mark in line is 914%. Those receiving this mark are Alton Paddock, Arthur Hill, and Edith Tjarks. All the rest received 90%. These are Martha Reed, Charles Harper, and Thomas Luev.

The 12A-1 section keeps its record of no failing marks, so that all members of the class are on the honor roll. The 11E-1 section is second in line for honors with only 3 red marks to its discredit.

The competition for the honor marks is proving keener as is shown by the greater numbers who make these ranks with each marking period.

Seniors Will Hold Open House At Banquet Dance

On Thursday, April 30, room 102 was the scene of a Senior Class meeting. President Lanman opened the meeting, which was called to discuss the coming Senior Banquet. It is to be held on Thursday, June 4, at seven o'clock. William L'Ecluse was appointed to secure a speaker for the occasion and Barrett Border to hire an orchestra. There will be dancing beginning at nine o'clock, after the banquet is over. The other students of the school are invited to the dance as guests of the Senior Class.

At a recent meeting, after much discussion, it was decided by the Senior girls that the precedent of wearing white dresses on graduation would be carried out this year rather than wearing dresses of pastel shades.

-0-Port Weekly To Issue Literary Supplement

On May 20, the Port Weekly plans to issue another literary supplement, as it is felt that the previous one was quite a success. All material must be given to the editor, Port Weekly No room, on or before May 13th. material will be accepted later than that date. Poetry, essays, short stories, or any form of literary effort will be acceptable.

Port Places Fourth

A dreary drizzle settled over the Flower Hill field last Saturday afternoon, May 2nd, in time to cut down the attendance of the crowd that witnessed the Great Neck high school track team easily run away with the North Shore Track and Field crown for the second successive year. The Neck tracksters triumphed Great over their nearest rivals, Glen Cove, by 25 points. The next three places were close, with Oyster Bay, Glen Cove, and Port Washington grouped within four points.

Cletus Polk and Bob Lafferty were the only first place winners for Port High. Polk won the vault and shotput while Lafferty took the hurdles very easily.

William Raden and Lawrence Lefkowitz of Great Neck were the only other double winners with Polk. Raden and Lefkowitz captured four out of a possible six first places in the junior class. Raden won the light weight broad jump with a phenominal leap of 20 feet, 21% inches. He also took the gold medal in the eight pound shot put. Lefkowitz won the sprint series taking both the junior 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Lawrence Ryan of Port took sec-ond in the senior high jumps, clearing five feet eight inches. Angelo Valdetara took second in the half mile run and ran a close second throughout the 880 yard.

Coach Costello's men made an excellent showing for an inexperienced squad. The fourth place is a step or two higher than pessimistic fans would concede the Blue and White before the meet.

The Port Meekly

Did you ever see Johnny DeMeo in. pink tights? Well, John will entertain for the benefit of the public on May 22nd. He will lead a chorus of beautiful Fratryites and impersonate Rudy Vallee in the Fratry's annual production. The rest of the chorus will be dressed in $500 per yard material of which each will have about thirty cents worth.

Tom Luey is a very able teacher "Nonsense School", with Red in Curtin, Fat Lawton, and Fritz Lawsen as pupils who are obedient to the n-th degree.

"A Girl to Order" features Ernie Jenkins impersonating a beautiful lady. Imagine our petite Ernie dressed to kill!

Finally, there will be a real, honest-to-goodness mystery drama, with suspense and groans, entitled "The Gray Overcoat". Rog Enscoe, a hardboiled inspector, will simply send quivers down your spine.

There will be many other events on the program in which other Fratryites will take part.

The many admirers of the band want to be on hand to hear them play jazz for the first time in their history.

The production is under the very able direction of Miss Kinney, who has had much previous experience and who is bringing the cast along in fine shape for the big event.

Yes! Bob Read sure is a hungry guy and it's got so that Flossie Krage won't sit beside him any more. seems that every day after Bob finishes his lunch he's still got a heck of an appetite so he plies his art and asks Flossie for a bite of her lunch. Flossie, being only a girl in her teens, can't refuse entirely, so she has been slowly starving from lack of her vitamins: A, B, C, D, E, F, G, etc. Now it is beginning to tell on her and she has made up her mind to stay away from temptation.

It must be tough to read these modern novels, seeing that ten of the honor roll elite from the 12A-1 section who are in the first period senior English class requested more time before they gave their book reports. _P_

The senior class, with every little discussion, decided to pay more for their meal and get bigger and better cocktails (fruit) at the banquet.

And are they feeling big hearted! It is reported that the whole school is invited to the dance at 9 o'clock, after the banquet. -0

We appreciate the appropriate way with which Great Neck names her track men-440 yard dash won by "Ketcham".

This was used mainly to accompany the voice. Another early and somewhat crude instrument is the reed pipe which was supposed to have been originated by the demi-god Pan.

Music in some form is dear to every heart and as Shelly said, "Music, when soft voices die,

Vibrates in the memory."

Port Defeated In Glen Cove Nine Close Tournament

The boys' tennis team was defeated in an exciting five match tournament with Great Neck, by a score of three matches to two. The tournament was played in an icy gale of wind, last Wednesday afternoon on the High School courts. Roger Enscoe won the first singles match with Lloyd Dowdy of Great Neck, in three sets: 6-2; 4-6; 8-6. Jack Williams lost to Douglas Henderson in straight sets: 1-6; 4-6. At the close of this match, Gardner and Bertram Wood played Yarsons and Habermehl, two members of the Great Neck team and won: 6-1; 6-3. Barrett Border and John MacGillivray played Grose and Bielaski, and were defeated: 4-6; 6-2. Enscoe and Williams then teamed up, and played Henderson and Dowdy, but due to the intense cold, and to fatigue, they succumbed: 7-9; 1-6.

The next tournament is with Friends Academy on Wednesday, May 6, at Port.

The boys went to pieces at this point and because of some poor pitching and bad fielding the Glen Cove team managed to push eleven men across the plate. Port tightened up, however, in the sixth and seventh and the game ended with the score 13-5 in Glen Cove's favor.
