The Port Weekly staff is planning a Christmas party for the noon period Wednesday, December 23. All the staff members and the members of the faculty will be invited in the near future.

At the regular staff meeting during noon time on December 3, the plans were made and the committees were appointed for the party. A refreshment committee consisting of Sue Millholland, Dorothy Davenport, Ruth Loomis and Doris Webber was selected to secure the refreshments, ice cream, and cookies, for the party. Marjorie Wheeler, Andrew Johnson, Bobby Clark and Michael De Leo were selected to provide entertainment, and Helen Brock was appointed a committee of one for invitations and publicity.

Movie Will Benefit Band and Orchestra

Orchestra Raises Funds To Attend National Contest

Next Monday and Tuesday a performance will be held at the Beacon Theatre for the benefit of the Port Washington Senior High School Band and Orchestra.

In the middle part of next year the orchestra is planning to travel to the National Orchestra Contest at Columbus, Ohio. About two thousand dollars is needed for the trip. The organizations have started to raise the amount necessary to take the trip by selling tickets for the movie benefit.

Two Different Shows Offered

Two pictures have been designed to appeal to the movie-goers. They are: Monday, "The Devil Is A Sissy", with two famous boy stars, Jackie Cooper, and Fred Bartholomew; and "Straight From the Shoulder", with Ralph Bellamy. Tuesday the show is "East Meets West", with George Arliss; and "The Smartest Girl in Town", with Ann Southern and Gene Raymond.

The tickets have been on sale for the past week and may be purchased from any member of the Band or Orchestra. It was pointed out that many people wish to buy tickets at the door, but the band leader indicates that all tickets to benefit the orchestra must be sold by the students, as the tickets sold at the door will not affect the amount to be raised by the groups.

Red Domino Elects Five New Members

At a meeting Tuesday, the members of the Red Domino voted to admit as new members for their work in "Growing Pains" and preceding plays the following people: Charlotte Hewitt, Paul Harrison, Margaret Varley and Berna Deane Purgett. Charles Lincoln was also admitted as an honorary member for his work on the stage crew. Membership into this club is awarded for acting ability and co-operation with the dramatics department.

It was announced at the meeting that pins are to be procured for members who do not already have them. Miss Hawthorne also invited all the members of the Red Domino to attend an informal Christmas party to be given at her apartment on Sunday, December 20, in the afternoon.

Senior Debaters Face Sophs December 21

The recently organized Senior Debate Club has been challenged to a formal debate by several students in Mr. Herge's Sophomore English class. Club chose Monday, December 21, at 3:30 o'clock as the time and the first floor study hall as the place.

Mr. T. Dimmick, the club's adviser, was appointed as a committee of one to decide upon the topic. The choice of sides was given to the Sophomore classes Monday. The following subject was selected: "Resolved: That installment buying is economically a good thing for the country."

Special Assembly Programme Today

Movie To Be Presented; College President Will Lecture

A program of special interest to students concerned with going to college and also to those who are interested in journalism will be presented in assembly this afternoon. The program will begin at 2:00 because of its unusual length. The entertainment will be divided into two parts.

The first part will consist of an educational speech by Dr. J. H. Miller, President of Keuka College, who will address the students on college problems. Dr. Miller will also be a representative at the College Tea this afternoon and has consented to appear in assembly earlier.

The latter part of the program will be taken up with a motion picture describing the progress and development of the newspaper from the earliest times. The picture is entitled "A Day with 'The Sun'", and is provided by the King Cole Entertainment Service. It is presented with the idea of giving the students an idea of the working conditions surrounding the publishing of a newspaper, both in early times when the newspaper was a small paper put out weekly and the large metropolitan dailies, which print several thousand copies an hour.

Lecture Sponsored By Science Club

Many Students Enjoy Demonstration Of Liquid Air

Last Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 p. m., Mr. John S. Sloan gave a lecture and demonstration on liquid air before a large group of students. Mr. Sloan is a graduate of Wafford and Duke Universities and is in addition, an experienced science instructor.

The show opened with Andrew Johnson's introduction of Mr. Sloan. The guest speaker commenced his talk by stating the characteristics of liquid air, how it was made, and many of its uses in modern industry. In the course of his lecture he performed several interesting experiments; namely, freezing mercury to the consistency of steel; making a banana so hard that it could be used to drive nails; boiling liquid air on ice; playing a clarinet with the evaporating liquid. One experiment which greatly aroused the interest of the audience was the freezing of a soap bubble which after the operation appeared to be a glass ball.

Mr. Sloan who was a former science instructor is now touring the country; and to date he has given approximately 500 lectures and demonstrations in the colleges and high schools of twenty-two states.

The presentation was sponsored by the Retort under the direction of its faculty adviser Mr. E. Pickett. It was well attended by the students of the Junior and Senior High Schools and the faculty. The applause at the end of Mr. Sloan's delivery showed how greatly the audience appreciated his lecture.

Fratry Holds Annual Dance December 23

The annual dance sponsored by the Fraternity, the boys' organization of the school, will be held in the gymnasium on December 23 at 8:30 p. m. The Fraternity has decided on Roy Taft's orchestra providing no prior engagement has been made by the leader. Admission as usual will be one dollar per couple or stag.

Michael DeLeo, John Osborne, and John Carlson were appointed to supervise the decorations, which will feature the colors blue and silver. A surplus in the treasury of the Fraternity is enabling the club to provide better refreshments.

Lunchers Too Boisterous

SINCE 1907 a great Christmas Seal sale has been held every year for noise is the atmosphere of the after-lunch period. How tiresome it becomes after hearing it day after day, week after week. But it must be borne with a tolerant smile. Homework seems not only impossible to do intelligently during this time, but it also does not appeal as an after-lunch pastime. At such moments the main desire is to "Take it easy". An attempt to get away from the racket is made, but it is thwarted by the over-zealous traffic officers. It is of no use to seek a quiet spot.

Oh, why can't there be a place of refuge for those haunted by the lunchroom uproar! The school library would be the ideal place. Why can't it be used? One of the fellow-sufferers could act as librarian, and peace and order could be obtained by a few simple rules and two determined "bouncers".

Buy Christmas Seals!

SAVAGE yells, roars of laughter, loud talking, general discordant the benefit of those persons afflicted with Tuberculosis. Every year a different seal has been used to denote the progress made in the control of tuberculosis. Today a new seal is in evidence showing a cheery Santa Claus and representing a wide, well rounded program of clinics, X-rays, tuberculin testing, nursing service, education and research work.

Everyone is urged to buy these seals as a part of his Christmas shopping. By so doing you serve two purposes, a decorative effect for the envelopes or gifts and an aid to the tuberculosis sufferers. Buy Christmas Seals now!

The first time I read an excellent book, it is to me just as if I had gained a new friend. When I read over a book I have perused before, it resembles the meeting with an old one.

Question

What is your pet obsession?

Helen Bott, a senior replied: "My pet obsession is doing history homework for Mr. Scherer on the typewriter with one hand. That's as far as I've gotten is two months of striving."

Michael De Leo, Junior Class President said: "My extreme fondness for Geometry leads me to study it in bed. There is nothing like a knotty problem or a puzzling proposition to clear the head and promote pleasant dreams."

Anne Edgar, another Senior with a Scherer complex, blushed: "When Mr. Scherer calls on me in class I get extreme pleasure in refusing to answer." (Ed. note: He picks on her.)

Edson Stannard, from his reclining position, replied with Senior dignity: "I like to draw cartoons of Mr. Mason and leave them on his black board where he can see them. So far I have escaped unscathed, but I don't know how long my luck will last."

Betty Lindemuth, a Junior replied: "I like lamb chops because I can pick them up in my hands and act my natural self."

Mr. Predmore, the Spanish teacher remarked: "I like horses. There's nothing I like better than a good canter." (Ed. note: I wonder if there are any blond horses.)

Stuff and Nonsense Embarrassing Moments Told

By Walt Rundle

The Y. P. F. affair last Friday turned out to be a swell party and everybody seemed to have a grand time in spite of what might be jokingly referred to as the "orchestra" The most popular feature of the evening was an excellent radio in the ante-room which served to keep the rapidly dimming memories of the customers refreshed as to what a dance band should be like We understand that instead of paying rent to the church for the privilege of practicing in the parish house the boys supply the music free of charge for two of the Y. P. F. dances. Well, don't look now, but I think the church is being "robbed" On the other hand, you've got to give the fellows some credit; they were obviously trying to play together.....So much for that Among the more prominent couples, we noticed graduate Oglethorpe and "P.G." Seraphine, who put on a remarkable exhibition of that much abused art, ball-room dancing. I'm afraid that the audience was sadly unappreciative.....A good percentage of the usually dependable couples was there, but other than those already mentioned, there were few unusual combinations.

It appears that Madeline Lotz acquired some of that good ol' South Sea Island Magic during her recent sojourn in Bermuda.....At any rate, according to an anonymous contributor, she recently succeeded in breaking down "Chubby" Rinehart's heretofore iron-clad resistanceThis explains, beyond all doubt, why Jimmy, normally a level-headed youngster, has been in a daze for the past few weeks.

Most of us have probably at some time or other considered the plan of hanging a bunch of carrots in front of a jackass's nose to make him walk faster, but it took a man of Professor Scherer's ingenuity to conceive of putting a similar incentive for hard work before American history classes.....In this case, theatre tickets are being substituted for the carrots, and great things are expected of the fifth and sixth period classes in the competition for the monthly awards.....It strikes me as being oddly coincidental that a trick that works so well on jackasses should be expected to work just as well on us Is this some more of the Professor's subtle humor?

"Tuffy" Kalinoski, erstwhile demon of the gridiron, has been struggling with his Senior Essay for almost a month now.....According to the latest official bulletin, he has just completed eight pages onto which he has managed to squeeze 1,241 words, including several hundred prepositions, innumerable commas, periods, semi-colons, and apostrophes, not to mention one or two lonely question marks..... Little Stanley is dejected; he's got 759 words to go and can't think of anything else to say.....For further details, we suggest you read a newspaper (apologies to the "P.W." staff).

The "Wilson Jinx" has followed Jack from the gridiron to the basketball court.....His chances for a place in the ranks of "The Fighting Gentlemen" were ruined last fall by a dislocated shoulder, and now, hoping to earn the right to wear a first team jersey on the basketball squad, he has been thrown for another loss by a bad ankle sprain incurred during practice last week.....Tough luck Jake ol' boyThey say that bad breaks run in groups of three, if that's the case you'd better go out for baseball and get it over with.

What to write about. That's the question. A canvass of the school, several Estates Beach interviews, and a slip of the tongue revealed the following information as to most embarrassing moments.

Marj Wheeler claims that her most embarrassing moment came during a dance when her escort parted a shoe strap at a time when she was unable to lay up for repairs. Mac Callum says that he was a might flustered during a recent play when he learned that his gal was to play heroine with his rival as hero. Among other things that conform to the general opinion is the presentation to "Dobson" Donald the prize as Lord High And Mighty Cutter Inner. The prize has not yet been chosen, but it will undoubtedly be appropriate.

A letter received at the offices of Alonzo N. Heartmender concerning a certain "Janie" goes as follows:

Dear Mender,

I made a slip of the tongue one day by saying that I was allowed out only on Tuesday nights. Now every Tuesday a gang of boys hangs around outside my house. What can I do to save my reputation?

Janie

Dear Janie

After analyzing your case I am convinced that your situation is, shall we say, hopeless. I suggest that after this you keep your mouth shut!

Mendie

Another pestilence around the "berg" is the guy who always has the hot dates and never has a car.

Things seen around school should be brought to light. Miss Dean's dorg (in winter fogs) sizing up Oscar as a likely meal.

League for the protection of students against ticket sellers holding a meeting in the halls.

To get off on another track the following question was asked to several seniors, "Why do you like school?"

Jonk Kingsley: "I don't".
 Jimmie Rinehart: "My sister doesn't attend."

Arthur Carmichael: " Because I like to work less."

Sophomores answered the following question "How does high school appeal to you?"

Owen Thomas: "I like to stick pins in stuffed shirts around here."

Jean Ellis: "Some dump I'll say".

Next week a copy of the medal to be awarded to the wettest blanket at the Fraternity Dance will be described. Any suggestion as to possible candidates will be appreciated.

HOME ROOM HAPPENINGS

9A-1's Rehearse For Assembly

Mr. Brennan Speaks: "No Bill, put that over there. Peper, stop playing 'Jingle Bells' - Emily, tell Mr. Rumens to bring the step ladder - Bette, where's your hat? Ilse, here's your apron - where's Hedges? Yes, Mr. Rumens, right over there. Bill, get ready - it's almost curtain time. Here they come. The curtain is about to go up? Are you ready? Let's go!"

(Today is the day that the 9A-2 homeroom will entertain us in assembly.)

9B-2 Is Busy

The 9B-2 homeroom is a busy place these days. Plans are under way for a roller skating party at the rink in Mineola. The class photograph is on display, and they are planning to bid Ralph farewell. He is moving to Brooklyn. A two-act Christmas play is being rehearsed, and plans for graduation are being discussed.

Winter Plans

Miss Kinne's homeroom is planning a Christmas play and party in the homeroom. They are also planning sleighing party as soon as Mother Nature sends a little snow.

The 7B-3 class has found out many things about the Pilgrims since they have started to read "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

8B-1 News

The 8B-1 wishes to extend its sympathy to Anthony Salerno whose brother Joseph was killed in an automobile accident.

The pupils in the 7A-1A homeroom are making up their own words and using popular tunes for the class songs which they are writing. The one they wrote this week is about their report cards. The tune is "Rhythm in My Nursery Rhymes."

'Radio Uncles' Cause Insanity And Insomnia

By Buddy McQuade

The Kiddies' Program is on the air, and in my hair! With whirring of airplane motors and hysterics of announcers Uncle John, idol of the kiddies (so he thinks) is on the air. I'll quote:

"Well, well, well, this is your Uncle John with you again (aren't you lucky?) for another period of wholesome fun and frolic. The program today is sponsored by the Blah, Blah Blah, makers of Blah, Blah, Blah. And may I mention here that Little Eddie Bartholamap, youthful screen star uses Blah, Blah, Blahs?"

Let's Sing

Now, let's all sing our song. Do you remember how it goes? Yes, alright. (Terrible sounds split the air). Ah, that was lovely. And now for the birthdays (we all have birthdays, don't we?). Today is little Lotta Kirl's birthday. Happy, happy birthday, Lotta, and you'll find your present in Patrick O'Rabinowitz's Department Store, waiting for the down payment. Now Lotta, don't bite your toenails or you'll never grow up to look like Seemoan Seemoan. Remember, you're a big girl of five years now. Don't wiggle when you get your permanent wave.

And Some More

And little Hugh Saidit is six today. My, my, my. Now Hugh you just mustn't kick your papa in the shins when you kiss him goodnight. You will find your present, a pair of spiked shoes, in the bath tub. Daddy's gift will be in your spinach. (arsenic).

There follows more birthdays from Jimmy Blitzen, age one to Ichabod O'Reilly age 79. Then Uncle Johnny tells a few sickening stories, masticates a few songs, repeats the sponsors name and product, and flits away leaving me to fight a terrific case of insomnia which has been aggravated by his patter. Ah, what's the use?

Report Shows Improvement In November Attendance

Illegal Absence And Tardiness Lessen; 8A-4 And 9A Show Best Attendance

A report issued by the office shows that Mr. Costello's 8A-4 homeroom and Miss Kinne's 9A are tied for attendance honors during the month of November. Both rooms had no illegal absences and only one case of tardiness.

Less Illegal Absence

The 7A-1, 7A-3 and 9A-5 homerooms are tied with a high percentage of 98 as a monthly attendance record.

The following homerooms had no illegal absences: 7A-2, 7A-3, 8A-1, 8A-4, 9A 9B-1, and 9B-2. This shows an improvement over last month at which time the total number of illegal absences for the whole school year were 109. This month the total has dropped to 68.

No Tardiness

The following homerooms report no tardiness for this month: 7B-1, 8A-1, and 9A-4. The total number of tardiness cases this month is 47. Last month there were 71. The decrease is very encouraging.

Mr. Johnson expressed his approval of the improvement in attendance, and it is his belief that this record can be bettered next month.

9A TEAM DEFEATS 9B IN VOLLEY BALL TOURNAMENT

The Girls' volley ball interclass tournament started last week and an unusually large crowd of girls turned out. For the first time in the history of the school the 9A team defeated that of the 9B's. The former team, headed by C. Douglas played a good game and the score was very close. The 7B's, whose captain is Ruth Scholl were victorious over the 8B's and in this way continued the upsets of the day. However, the 8A team was able to hold the 7A's down. The 8A's are captained by Helen Kleskowski. As we go to press the scores of this week's games are unknown.

Three Junior High School Reviews To Be Published

'Young Wings' Accepts Review Of J. Adams, B. Schulz-Berge, J. Duffield

The Port Washington readers of "Young Wings", the literary magazine published once each month by the Junior Literary Guild of America, will find something of interest in the next issue.

The magazine, which contains articles written by noted author's of children's books, reviews of current books and a special department for reviews written by pupils from school here and abroad, has accepted for early publication reviews, by Belva Schulz-Berg, John Duffield, and Jarvis Adams.

The pictures of these reviewers will be published with their respective works. The following books were reviewed: "Ranching On Eagle Eye" by Schmidt, "Afke's Ten" by Van Hichtum, and "Tinker Of Stone Bluff" by Arnold. All three reviews are said to have been written in an unusual and interesting style. Miss Godfree says that the three books, which are a part of our school library are also well worth the reading.

BOYS' BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS IN JUNIOR HIGH

Approximately 70 boys answered the call of Coach Haron last Monday for the opening of the basketball season in junior high. In a talk to the boys Mr. Haron said that he expects good teams to develop even though the squads will be small and inexperienced.

After a week of exercise and limbering up, squads will be chosen and squad games begun. Members of the winning team, will, as usual receive numerals at the close of the season.

After squads games have been played a varsity of 16 players will be chosen to represent our school.

Next week we will publish all letters to Santa Claus. Teachers and pupils who have requests to make, just write you letter and put it in the box in Room 211. No unsigned letters will be published.

Sports Council Plans Busy Winter Program

New Members Admitted; Social Events Planned

The Girls' Sport Council held its regular monthly meeting last Friday. The meeting was called to order by Helen Carey, chairman, and the minutes of the previous meeting were held. The chairman of each of the individual committees reported on the activities of the group she heads.

The girls seem to be going in for social affairs lately and to keep up with the moment someone suggested that refreshments be served at the next meeting.

The girls had to decide how many points should be given to a person for individual work and they finally agreed to give each girl fifty points a term.

Skating Party Planned

Arrangements are being made for the girls of the Sport Council to go to the skating rink at Mineola. Wilma Plurek is in charge of this affair as she is chairman of the Individual Points committee.

The compositions and necessary points for admittance were handed in by Eileen Deegan and Nancy Shakespeare who were elected into the association.

The possibilities of giving a Christmas party were discussed and someone suggested that a party be given for the 9B girls during basketball season when they graduate. This plan was graciously received by the girls. That is, the 9B's. The meeting was then adjourned.

Student Council Makes Plans For School Dance

At the last meeting of the Student Council it was decided that a school dance will be held, but no definite date was set. Mr. Johnson stated that he believed it was the wish of the majority of the parents that the dance be held in the afternoon. It was voted to plan a tea dance. A canvass of the homerooms showed that about seventy-five couples have signified their intention of attending. Only couples will be admitted. Tickets will be sold in the homerooms in advance.

The council also discussed the topic of "Safety" in and out of school and the homerooms are requested to prepare programs which stress this topic. Care and respect for the property of others was also discussed.

Christmas Literature On Reserve

Miss Godfree has announced that all poems, stories and pictures which pertain to Christmas have been placed on the reserve shelf. They may be borrowed by request at the desk. They may be taken after 2:52 and must be returned by 8:45 the following morning.

9A-1 On The Air

The 9A-1's are on the air again. This time Eugene Cavelli, Eddy Bailey, James Renson, and Howard Stephenson witnessed a broadcast over WABC. They sent voice vibrations over the ether to the tune of "When I Wore a Tulip and You Wore a Rose" at the Community Sing on last Wednesday.

Basketball Season Opens Port Will Engage Hicksville In First Game

By Robert MacCallum

Tomorrow night will see the Blue and White basketball squad open its 1936-37 season in the high school gymnasium. The initial game is with a quintet of athletes from Hicksville High School. As the Hicksville squad was beaten last year by the Port boys, they will be out to gain revenge. This should be a thrilling game although it is not a league contest.

Port has but two letter men on this year's squad, Oscar Peterson and Stan Smith; but there is an ample reserve of ambitious athletes from which Coach Leo Costello can draw. The squad has a total of some twenty-three aspirants for letters. Many of last year's contenders for places on the team are back and eager to demonstrate their ability. Several of them will certainly receive their chance. Two weeks of practice are behind the Port boys and they are in fit condition for tomorrow night's game.

When the opening whistle is blown "Skyscraper" Peterson will very likely be seen in the center position ready to top the leather sphere to one of his team-mates. Stan Smith and Tony Augustino will probably be in the forward positions. The two guard positions will probably be filled by Al Smith and Mike Romeyko. Herb Carpenter, Ted Siedlicki, "Mac" McCarthy, "Zook" Zaremba and Phil Norton are some of the talented substitutes who will be constantly on hand.

By Michael De Leo

Well, here we are at the beginning of another basketball season and Coach Costello's call for candidates was answered by about forty-five hopefuls. A week of practice by the whole squad followed and then it was narrowed down to twenty-two players who will represent the first and second teams during the coming season. This year's squad finds eleven veterans back from last year. They are S. Smith, O. Peterson, H. Carpenter, P. Norton, Z. Zaremba, A. Smith, E. Langen, J. Wilson, T. Augustino, T. Siedlicki, and M. Romeyko. The remainder of the squad consists of D. Smith, M. Bottiglieri, L. Legeri, J. Cherry, J. Lambert, E. Tonsmiere, W. McCarthy, F. Markland, A. Duffy and G. Frappaolo.

The Port hoopsters are getting off to an early start by meeting the Hicksville aggregation in the local gym tomorrow night. The performance, to all probabilities, will not be polished but it will give us an idea of what we may expect for the remainder of the season. The three games before the Christmas vacation should bring out the team weak points and will give Coach Costello time to find his smoothest working quintet before the league games start. "Mac" McCarthy is an up and coming sophomore who will bear watching, while Tony Augustino, who was injured in the early stages of last season, will also be raring to go.

The jinx that haunted our high school throughout the football season has already invaded the gym. Jack Wilson is suffering from a sprained ankle received in practice which will keep him out of the running for quite a while. Incidentally Jake also suffered during the gridiron season. The team has been practicing faithfully for the short time they have had and a little co-operation from the student body will help the quintet inaugurate its season tomorrow night.

By Bernice Calvelli

The basketball season is definitely launched and the gym is again bustling with activity. Although the girls have no games until after Christmas, intensive practice is being held in preparation for an undefeated season.

Miss Maher is inaugurating another one of her famous ideas. This time it is six basketball teams composed of girls not on the first or second teams, and coached by six Seniors. The six Seniors are Dot Davenport, Flo Kurejwo, Bernice Calvelli, Carmella Muro, Ruth Guilford, and Arline Griese. They will pick their teams some time in the coming week.

Sport letters were awarded in assembly last Friday. This year instead of the usual letters to persons who had received one last year, a pin representing the sport was presented. Girls on the soccer team who received these symbols were Harriet DePauw, Margaret Fox, and Jean Smith. The girls on the undefeated hockey team received both letters and hockey pins as a reward for their splendid work. Superintendent Paul D. Schreiber made the awards.

Pins representing tennis conquests were also given to Mary Muro, tennis champ, and Mary Lerrinan, the runner-up.
