

Port's Hockeyettes Play Two Games; Valley Stream, Freeport Games Are Ties

The last two girls' hockey games with the Valley Stream School and Freeport on November 3, and November 8, respectively, resulted in a tie, 1-1. This year the girls have had a most successful season, having won all the games except two, which were ties.

The game with Valley Stream was rapid and active. The first goal was made by Mary Muro and was later followed by one from Valley Stream. In the second half, the two teams rallied back and forth displaying good offensive and defensive tactics but neither side could manage to score.

During the afternoon, Eileen Montfort was elected captain of the second team because Veronica Siedleck was transferred to the first team.

The second game which was fought with Freeport was Port's only out-of-town game. This closely contested game ended with a tie score.

Port had the ball most of the time with Freeport in possession of the ball only once or twice in the first half. Although Port threatened to score several times, the Red and White goalie, who was rated outstanding at Adelphi this year, successfully kept Port from scoring.

A few rapid substitutions were made by Miss Mahr, coach, and just two seconds before the half was over, Eleanor Jenkins scored a goal.

The white hockey ball, which could hardly be seen because of the darkness, was was driven up and down the whole field during the second half. Then Freeport's forward finally succeeded in scoring. Soon after this, the last intramural game of the season ended.

The second team played a short game which also resulted in a tie, 0-0.

Nine New Fraternity Members Initiated

Last Friday evening, nine new members were duly initiated into the Fraternity, a boys' social club in the school. This semi-annual ceremony was attended by alumni members as well as the present members. The initiation committee took special pains to give the nine initiates a most enjoyable and educational evening.

This year, President Lacher has been emphasizing different policies with the hope of putting an end to the various rumors concerning the Fraternity; the reform movement started with the first meeting. A committee was formed to revise and condense the constitution of the club. Several changes were made, and it now stands more compact and practical. The Fraternity financed candy sales at the Great Neck football game with a considerable profit. The club hopes to continue this policy at various events during the school year.

This winter the Fraternity will again present its annual dance in the gymnasium shortly before Christmas. The event is always a huge success; but this year the club members promise to make it "bigger, better, and even more successful." "Watch us go" say the thirty-odd Fraternity members.

Miss Mildred Holt Sings At Special School Program

Last Monday, November 8, a special assembly was presented at 10:30 a.m., by Miss Mildred Holt. Accompanied by Mrs. Edith Swain, Miss Holt demonstrated in her selections the three types of songs: Coloratura, lyric, and dramatic. During the intermission, Mrs. Swain played a Chopin Polonaise as a piano solo.

The program was as follows:
Ritrona Vincitor - from Aida - Verdi.
Hark, Hark, the Lark - Shubert
The Erlking - Schubert.
I Love Thee (Ich Liebe Dich) - Grieg.
Norwegian Dance (My Johann) - Grieg.
Piano Solo - Polonaise - Chopin - played by Mrs. Edith Swain.
Summertime - from Porgy and Bess - Gershwin.
Il Bacio - Ardit.
Songs with the harp:
By the Waters of Minnetonka - Lieurance.
Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms - Irish air.
Iris - Ware.

La Tertulia Spanish Club Is Reorganized

Under the supervision of the new Spanish teacher, Miss Ruth Saberski, the old Spanish club, La Tertulia, has been vitalized. Only persons who have had at least one and a half years of Spanish are eligible for membership; a member must also have above average marks in the language to be admitted.

Good old Port Washington was a comparatively dull town last Saturday afternoon as our football heroes of last Tuesday were given the day off. However, the contest scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, co-starring our own "Scoreless Wonders" and the Westhampton "Farmers", promises to more than make up for the unusually long lapse of time between games.

Anyway, with no game to talk about, this seems like a good time to talk over Port's bad luck (for a change) and to discover why and if... Just think—If:
Tony Fasano had been able to play in all the games instead of just the ones against the Alumni and Stony Brook.
Bernie Mallon and Walt Saccarecia hadn't broken some very useful bones.
Don Smith didn't have a tendency to overstrain some of his bulging biceps.
Herb Carpenter had kept on running with that pass in the Stony Brook game.

All things considered, all the players on the team have done their share this year, and if a few of the goal line plays had worked, the record would not be bad at all. Most of the players on the starting team have played almost every minute of every game. Ernie Tonsmiere and Odd Hope especially, have done iron man work in the line. Herb Carpenter and "Pussy" Markland have held down the end posts admirably.

In recent games Mike Romeyko, converted end now playing quarterback, has been spotted by the opposition as strictly a passing back. That is, whenever he was in the ball-carrying position, the other team ex-Costello has installed some new plays in the squads repertoire with Mike expected, and rightly so, a pass. To remedy this situation, Coach running with the leather instead of passing it. Another change in position which Coach effected after the Great Neck game, moved "Duck" Swan from the backfield to center. When Bob Woelfl dislocated his shoulder again in the game, we were left with only one center, Ted Gregory. "Duck's" installation provides the team with two necessary pivot men.

The game tomorrow is the last game at home this year. Let's all turn out and make it a good one.

The girls' hockey team terminated a successful season on Monday of this week when Freeport was tied with a score of 1-1. The team would have been undefeated if it had not been for two ties; one with the above mentioned and the other in a game with Central on Wednesday, November 3. The outcome of the season's games were favorable taking into consideration the fact that we played better teams this year and also that more Sophs than usual held berths on the squad.

Miss Irene Maher, girls' athletic coach, has announced her intention of playing the best schools of the Island in hockey next year. Some of these teams are Farmingdale, Oceanside, and Southside. Our technique improves by playing better teams and as a result, the games are more enjoyable.

Susie Borkowski, Vera McFarland and Lillian Kohanska are some of the outstanding better players whose absence will be felt next year. With their combined efforts these three girls contributed much toward the victories of the team.

The interclass hockey games are scheduled to begin on November 18, and a girl has been selected from each division to organize a class team. Mildred Lang, Jessie Eato, and Carmella Caruso will assume this responsibility for the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, respectively.

The first interclass soccer game was played last Thursday between the Sophs and the Juniors. The game resulted in a scoreless tie and will be played again.

A soccer game was scheduled to be played with Sea Cliff on Tuesday but it was unexpectedly postponed. Of course, the girls were disappointed (?) because they had refreshments and no one to eat them.

Plans for the beginning of basketball, volley ball, and badminton will go into effect on Tuesday, November 30.

Basketball practice will be held only once a week while on Thursdays, volley ball and badminton practice will be held. Each person will be permitted to participate in only one of these three activities, and, in this way, more girls will have an opportunity to show individual ability.

Intramural competition in any of these sports will not begin until the middle of January; however, the varsity teams, which will be chosen, are scheduled for about six games.

In previous years there have been complaints about the brevity of the basketball season, therefore, this term the period will be lengthened and probably extend into March.

Celerity Club Holds Tea
A Celerity Tea was held in the cafeteria, Tuesday afternoon. A business meeting preceded the tea at which the annual Thanksgiving basket donations were discussed. Several committees were appointed to take charge of the future social meetings, held every six weeks. The Celerity girls will make posters reminding us of the school's annual Thanksgiving donation.

Interclass Soccer Contest Commences

Sophomores and Juniors Play Tie Game

On Thursday, November 4, after the usual trouble in procuring teams to take part in the approaching game, the Interclass Soccer games opened with the Sophomores and Juniors competing for the highest score. With a fair scattering of hockey players among the teams, which equalized the possibility as to who should win, Gloria Singleton of the Juniors kicked off. The few spectators could easily see that both teams were equal in ability. Although there was a bit of confusion in the plays, this could be excused by inexperience. Many exciting passes back and forth with both goalies being kept moderately busy ended the first half in a 0-0 score.

The teams repeated almost the exact procedure in the second half, and the game ended with the score remaining 0-0.

Congratulations go to Daisy Gardner, Rembert Brimm, Veronica Siedleck and Eileen Montforth for their fine playing and excellent teamwork.

Ticket Contest Is Opened In Schools

Prizes Will Be Awarded To Winners in Contest

The members of the "Port Light" staff who have charge of the publicity for the fall production, "I'll Leave It To You," have announced a contest for all people who are selling tickets. Tickets are being sold in the Senior High School, in the Junior High School, in Great Neck, and in other out of town schools.

Tickets are $50, $75, and $35. The center section of the auditorium up to the beginning of the balcony, is reserved for people with $75 tickets; $50 and $35 tickets are for all other seats; however, only the students will be sold $35 tickets.

There are three prizes offered for the ticket sellers. Everyone who has sold over fourteen tickets is eligible for the contest. The first prize for the person in either local school who has sold the most tickets is $2.00. The person who sells the most in the high school will be given a free copy of the 1938 "Port Light;" the person selling the most in the Junior High School will receive two $75 tickets to the play.

This contest closes at 3:00 p.m., Friday, November 19, 1937.

'Port Weekly' Members Return From Syracuse

first place in the headline writing contest went to Charlotte Willey, Knott Terrace High School, Schenectady. The program continued with entertainment and then the scheduled dance.

Saturday's activities included sectional meetings in the Hotel Onondaga. Mr. H. Curtis Herge, Port Weekly adviser, was honored by being selected as chairman of a business discussion concerning "Business Management of a School Newspaper." At the Annual Advisers Meeting, Mr. H. Curtis Herge was also elected one of the nine directors of this state Association. The duty of these directors is to formulate the policy of the association, to organize the 1938 Convention, and to create the official monthly publication of the organization.

The Port Washington representatives at the conference were Alexander Wilkie, Violette Levy, Lennie Romagna, Peggy Stephenson, Margaret Varley, Clinton Hegeman, Doris Fenton, Tom Elliston, Robert MacCallum, Helen Brock, Walter McQuade, Louise Teta, H. Curtis Herge, and William Allen.
