Port To Play Host At Nassau Meet

Seeber Field Will Be Scene of Meet Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Port's Blue and White will play host to the Third Annual Nassau County Track Meet. This event will take place at Seeber field at 2:00 p.m., and is the first time that Port has held this honor.

The program of the day starts, for some of the athletes, in the morning, when the trials for the 880 yard relay, the 220 yard hur-dles, and the 440 yard dash are held. For spectators the meet will begin at two o'clock in the afternoon when the pole vault and the running broad jump start. It is planned that the events will proceed 'til nearly four o'clock in the afternoon, when the winner of the 880 yard relay crosses the tape.

There are seventeen events in the afternoon and three in the morning; eleven of these are fimorning; eleven of these are fi-nals. In the afternoon the events are as follows: the pole vault, the running broad jump, 3 heats in the 100 yard dash, the mile run, final, the running high jump, the 12 lb. shot put, 3 heats in the 220 yard dash, the 440 yard dash, the 100 yard dash the 880 ward run 100 yard dash, the 880 yard run, the 220 yard dash, the 220 hur-dles and the 880 yard relay. In all of these events there is no distinction between Junior and Senior. The points will be given for the first five places. First place gets 5, second gets 4, third gets 3, fourth gets 2, and fifth gets 1.

Journalism Class Edits Port Weekly

This issue of "The Port Week-" is the product of the Journalism Class which meets every day during the sixth period in the newspaper office.

As the term nears completion, the class assumed the responsi-bility of publishing one single issue of the paper as a group pro-ject. The two remaining issues of the paper will be the product of the new staff, which is now being selected.

The final guest speaker of the term to appear before the Jour-nalism Class will be Joseph C. Keeley, who will speak on radio advertising, June 7, at 2 o'clock. Students interested are invited to be present.

SPORTS

By NANCY GAIGNAT

Howdy, sports fans!

Howdy, sports fans! Due to unfavorable weather conditions, the archery and tennis meet, scheduled to have been played at Southside, on May 26, was postponed. Therefore, a future date will be set for this contest. However, the badminton, baseball, and ping pong teams trav-eled to Southside on May 24, to meet their opponents in three hard-fought battles. Our badminton girls overwhelmingly de-feated all their opponents, since all the doubles matches and all the singles matches, except one, were won by them. However, Southside's team made a good showing, considering the fact that they have not had as much experience as our team. Our baseball they have not had as much experience as our team. Our baseball team accepted defeat to the tune of 30-7, after Southside had dem-onstrated their outstanding ability at that game. The ping pong team gave a fairly good account of themselves. They won three singles matches and lost two doubles matches.

On Wednesday, May 25, the Junior High teams visited us to par-ticipate in encounters with our baseball, tennis, and ping pong teams. The junior high baseball team put up a game fight to the end of the contest, which resulted with the close score of 8-6. The new sophomores were chosen to play in the tennis matches, instead of the reg-ular team, so that the teams would be more equally matched. The score was 3-2, in the favor of Junior high's teams. Our ping pong team came out on top in its matches, winning all of them. On Saturday, June 18, the riding academy is sponsoring a horse show, in which anyone can enter. Several students from both junior and senior h.gh schools will enter this show, not so much with the thought of winning as to gain more experience.

On Monday, June 6, there will be an all sports meet here, with Manhasset, while on June 9, Port's baseball and badminton teams will travel to Westbury to compete in contests there. As we go to press, we do not know the outcome of the badminton and tennis matches, which were played at Friends Academy, Tuesday, May 31.

BOYS' SPORTS

Highlights in the local track situation will occur when the various teams around Nassau County all travel to Port Washington for the Annual Nassau County Meet. Piazza, Bessell, Lamberti, Mor-rison, and Effertz will all run for the home team and should put a fairly good account of themselves, but according to the experts, the writer included, Chaminade is the favorite, having a very powerful team.

The final game of the local baseball season was played on Tuesday with Glen Cove, but results are unavailable as we go to press. Prior to the game, however, Port was in a tie for first place with Min-eola. The Championship play-offs are scheduled for tomorand Port has more than row a fair chance of being one of the parties to the action.

Evening Division

The track team received one of the greatest setbacks in its history when it placed TENTH at the LaSalle Meet last Saturday at Oakdale. Part of the blame may be placed on the shoulders of Moirison, who was away with the Band, but the terrific results cannot be placed on just one pair of shoulders. There should be some one else on the team that can run or jump. If the team does that in a meet such as this, what will it do in the Nassau County Meet here tomorrow?

* * * In line with our little talk of defeats, the tennis team lost to Great Neck last week, but they were able to beat Manhasset afterward, and any win over Manhasset is something.

Port Places Tenth At LaSalle Meet

Sayville Places First With 49 Pts.; Port Scores Only Six

One track meet record was broken last Saturday by Jack Kreugar of Patchogue who threw the pie plate 134 feet 1 3-4 inches at the LaSalle M. A. track meet. The former record of 132 feet 4 3-4 inches was held by Bruno Zaloga of Riverhead. Another record was equalled by Howard Kendal who matched Paul Bun-zele's mark of 16.5 seconds in the 220 yard high hurdles which was established in 1935.

A medal was given for the outstanding performance of the aft-ernoon to Bob Keyes of Port Jefferson. He was the only man to take two events in the afternoon. Both events took place at the same time, thus he took the high jump and the 440 yard dash withn a few minutes of each other. The jump he made was exactly 6 ft. and he ran the 440 in 52.5 seconds

Sayville won nine out of a possible seventeen events. Port won her's by taking the 220 yard dash and the 220 low hurdles. Effertz and Zwerlein received three points each for placing second.

U. S. Students Receive Low Marks In News Test

It was interesting to note that in the Scholastic News Tests awards, which were announced May 20, that less than 5% of all people contributing in the United States received more than 65%. This is a deplorable fact for it shows how much young America is interested in world affairs.

In this school we are particularly fortunate in having one of those people who were in that 5%; her name is Nancy White. Al-though she was the highest in the school and also in the upper quota, she cnly received the lowest award, that of the Spencerian Pen
