

Port Competes In One Act Play Contest

Group Travels To Baldwin Tonight

The Nassau Suffolk County One Act Play Contest will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 19 and 20, at the Baldwin Senior High School. The following high schools will give their presentations on Thursday night: Lawrence, Ocean-side, and Southside. Port Washington and Garden City will perform on Friday. The contest begins at 8:30 p. m. on both evenings, and no admission will be charged. The contest is under the supervision of the Nassau Suffolk County Dramatics Teachers Association of which Miss Hawthorne is president.

The Port Washington entree will be the third act of "The Road To Yesterday," the recent spring production. This act of the play was chosen on its merits as a complete and active story within itself, and as a display of acting ability. The props and stage settings for the act are being supplied by Port Washington.

The following people will appear in the contest:

Jack, the hero—Marvin Markey.
Elspeth, the heroine—June Alington.
Kennel—Bill Buschmann.
Harriet, Elspeth's Aunt—Charlotte Hewett.
Malena, Elspeth's sister and Will's wife—Mary Kellogg.
Adrian, an artist friend of Will, who supplies the comedy—Frank Parker.
Nora, a superstitious maid—Eleanor Beston.
Dolly, a friend of Elspeth—Bernie Dean Purgett.
Hubert, a servant—Bob Brett.
Wat, a servant—Harold Johnson.
The Vicar—Teddy Farrelly.

The contest is not given with the thought of being a competitive display of dramatics. Its primary purpose is to show what various schools are doing in the field of drama. Plays will be rated on choice of play, casting and acting, voice, diction, and setting. The winner of the contest will be awarded a loving cup; the present holder of which is Baldwin. Baldwin is sponsoring this year's contest according to the practice of the winner acting as host, but not entering, the next year's contest.

The contest was originally sponsored by Adelphi College but in recent years has been conducted by the dramatics teachers association.

Hon. Art Club Arranges Excursion

At the Art Club meeting on May 16, further plans were made and discussed concerning a day excursion up the Hudson River by boat which the club intends to take on June 18.

On this trip, alumni, who were members of the club, will be invited.

A new schedule for next year was also planned. Instead of assigning art work at the different meetings, four art projects will be assigned at the beginning of the year and members can work on any project at their individual leisure and convenience.

French Program May 27

The French program which was to have been held last Friday on the front lawn of the school was postponed. Because of the absence of Miss Buckley, the students were unable to rehearse for the program, and it will therefore be held the 27th of May.

Safety Driver's Club Has Progressive Program Plan

At the meeting of the Safety Club on Tuesday, May 17, Warren Darress addressed the drivers on the subject "Proper Signals and Other Rules of the Road." Two more theory lessons are to be given, as the results of the quiz show that they are needed. The actual driving instructions by Mr. Markland are to continue, as usual, during the study periods.

At the next meeting on May 24, Kimball Perley, who will be remembered for the "Prophecy Gad-get" the Retort displayed before their annual dance with the Celerity, will talk on the subject, "What Is Under the Hood of the Car?"

CHANGES PRINTERS

For the last two years, the Bay-side Times has been printing the "Port Weekly," the "Great Neck Guide Post," and the "Baysider;" recently, they sold out to a Brooklyn concern. Because of this fact, the advisers of the aforementioned school papers obtained printing prices of other North Shore concerns to do this work. Griscom - Woodyard Publications was awarded the contract and will do the printing for the remainder of this year; this issue is the first that it has done.

Sophs Take In New York City

Spend Full Day Seeing Many High Spots

Saturday morning, May 14, three buses left the High School at nine o'clock to take the Sophomore class to New York. At Little Neck the buses were met by a police escort who took them through the city traffic. After arriving in New York, the party separated; one group went to Battery Park and the Aquarium while the other group went aboard the S. S. Manhattan at Pier 59.

From the Aquarium and the liner the groups headed up town to 110th Street where they met and went through the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Outstanding points of interest were the great Rose Window, which is forty feet in diameter, and the many unfinished bays whose stained glass windows depict the history or stories of the fine arts, labor, religion, etc. After inspecting the cathedral, they were driven down to Central Park to eat.

After lunch, they then visited the Hayden Planetarium where they heard a lecture about a trip to the moon. There were many interesting and educational facts displayed. Then, on to Rockefeller Center where they toured the National Broadcasting Studios. Here they were shown the master control unit, power station for all the studios, sound effects and other technicalities. They also went to the Observation Roof, but due to unfavorable weather conditions, were unable to see anything. As the New York Museum of Science and Industry is also at Rockefeller Center, it was convenient for the group to visit it. The next stop was at the Child's Spanish Gardens where they also enjoyed dining and dancing to Carl Sear's orchestra.

After eating, the groups again divided. Some went to witness the Phillip Morris broadcast with Russ Morgan's orchestra, while others attended the Professor Quiz program.

The return trip was made under the auspices of the school transportation.

Alumni Honored By Colleges

Harry Bell on Armstrong Student Honor Roll

Harry Bell, a former student and a graduate of Port Washington High School, has recently achieved the distinction of being on the honor roll of Armstrong College, according to the college newspaper, "The Knight." Prior to his enrollment at Armstrong, Bell was graduated from the California School of Fine Arts and received a Special Secondary Credential in Art Education.

He is now enrolled and studying in the Teacher's Training course where he is preparing for a teaching credential in commercial subjects. He is also a member of the Teacher's Training Club.

From the University of New Hampshire comes word that Charles Karazia was again elected captain of the Varsity La Crosse team for the second consecutive year. Charles was all New England attack last year which in itself is a great honor. In addition to the report of Charles Karazia good news about Stanley Smith has been received. Stan was elected captain of the Freshman La Crosse team.

These two students have an interesting parallel in that they both were outstanding football players in high school, both are high scorers on their respective La Crosse teams, both are captains of the teams, and both are members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

PORT PLAYS HOST ON SATURDAY FOR NORTH SHORE TRACK MEET

Eleven Schools Will Enter Teams In Annual Competition, Hicksville Favored

Prom Invitations Mailed Guests

Senior Banquet Will Be Thursday, June 16

Two of the biggest activities of the year, the Junior Prom and the Senior Banquet, are now in the second stages of development. The printed invitations for the Prom to the Seniors, to the Faculty, to the Board of Education, and to the parents of the Junior Class officers have been mailed. "Fred" Davis, who was chairman of the invitation committee, executed his duties well. The other committees under their respective chairmen have been working toward making the Junior Prom the excellent dance it always is. Nancy Gunther is in charge of the all-important refreshments, announcing that the refreshments will be unusual in that they will carry out the scheme of the decorations.

Tickets for the dance are now on sale in each of the Sophomore and Junior home-rooms. They may be purchased at the customary price of $1.50 from any of the following people: Owen Thomas, Leady Farrelly, Warren Kunz, Bill Snawcross, Frank Shelton, Robert Bangs, Jack Duffield, Bill Griffin, John Smith, Howard Stephenson, Bob Brock, Bert Schauer, Burr Miller, Buddy McQuade, Jack Young, Susie Keshishian, Fred Smith, and Carol Lewthwaite.

Mike De Leo wishes to retract his statement in regard to the date of the Senior Banquet. It is to be held on Thursday, June 16, at approximately 6:15 p. m. There will be dancing after the banquet proper until 11:30.

Members of the Junior Class will serve in the capacity of waitresses under the supervision of ratty Lurriel. Berna Deane Purgett and Lennie Romagna will head the decoration committee. Any members of the class of 1938 who wish to serve on the committee are asked to speak to these seniors.

English Teachers Present Speaker

Carl Van Doren, presented by the Nassau County English Teachers Association, will speak on "The American Imagination" at the Freeport High School on June 2 at 4:15 in the afternoon.

Mr. Van Doren is known for his many books on different phases of English as well as being an editor and biographer. He is living in New York City at present.

Miss Angela Mallon, of our faculty, is Vice President of the Association and chairman of the Program Committee.

The meeting is open to all teachers of Nassau County and their friends. Tea will be served from 3:45 to 4:15; an admission charge of fifty cents will be made.

FRENCH STUDENTS COMPETE

Last Friday, May 13, three French students, Fred Kettanacker, Joan Lee, and Sue Keshishian, attended a French contest at Adelphi.

This was the last half of the contest which was given orally to participants who had rated high in a written contest at Adelphi two weeks previous.

The results of this annual French competition will be known some time before May 25, the day when the awards will be made at a banquet.

* Next Saturday Port Washington Senior High School will act as host to ten schools when the Tenth Annual North Shore Track meet will be held at Seebing Field, Port Washington, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Last year's meet, which was held at Westbury, was also won by Westbury; Port and Hicksville finished as close seconds. This year the same teams will compete as did in the Twentieth Annual Invitation Track Meet. The events will be the same, minus the 220 yd. low hurdles.

Judging by the Invitation Meet and other dual meets, Port has a good chance to come in first, although the general favorite is Hicksville which undoubtedly has the best all around team.

The teams competing this year are Westbury, Sea Cliff, Roslyn, Oyster Bay, Mineola, Hicksville, Great Neck, Glen Cove, Farmingdale, and Port Washington. The events will be in the following order: 100 yd. dash, jr. trials; 100 yd. dash, senior trials; 880 yd. run, final; senior high jump; jr. shot put; jr. high jump; senior shot put; 100 yd. dash; jr. final 100 yd. dash; senior final pole vault; jr. running broad jump; 220 dash, jr. and senior trials; 440 dash, final; senior running broad jump; 220 yd. dash, jr. and senior finals; mile run, final; 880 relay, Jr. and senior final. The team placing first gets 5 points; 2nd, 3 points; 3rd, 2 points; 4th, 1 point.

Last year at Westbury, Westbury won with 20½ points. Hicksville and Port Washington tied for second, each getting 29 points. In the Port Invitation meet this year, Hicksville got 44 points and Port placed second with 34 points. In the Hicksville-Port Dual, we were only 3 points behind.

Morrison and Effertz, who have proven to be two of Port's best all-time runners and have been consistent point winners this year, will bear watchig when they go into action tomorrow as the Port track team tries for its first major victory of the year.

Delegates Attend Red Cross Meeting

Inspiration to organize a more active chapter of the Junior Red Cross in the Port Washington high school was acquired by the Celerity delegates to the conference in Sewanhaka, Saturday May 14.

The meeting commenced with speeches by officials of the Junior Red Cross on the organization's activities. Following this, group discussions on different phases of Red Cross work were attended by the delegates. A luncheon during which safety songs and skits were performed, was then served by the Sewanhaka High School.

Drina Rich, Rembert Brimm, Shirley Ellice, Peggy Stephenson, and Beatrice Farrelly attended as delegates from the Celerity.

Acquires Scholarship

Joan Lee, number sixteen in the scholastic standing of the senior class, has been awarded a scholarship by William and Mary College. This award consists of a hundred dollars renewable every year, if she maintains her splendid average at its present level.

Clio Trip Tomorrow

Wednesday afternoon a short Clio meeting was held to inform the members of the arrangements for the trip to the Mineola Courthouse tomorrow.

A school bus will transport members to the county judicial seat where they will receive a guided tour through all places of interest and educational value.
