

Port Is Defeated By Farmingdale; Score 14-6

Last Quarter Drive Brings
Another Touchdown; Extra
Point Try Fails

Another game, another touch-down, another defeat. That's the story of Saturday's game with Farmingdale. The fact that the "fighting gentlemen" held their opponents to two touchdowns and gained one for themselves shows that they are improving but are still a long way from victory.

The line-up was as follows:
L.E. Harshbarger Schaff
L.T. Borioti Baker
L.G. Doyle Wade
C. Swan MacNamee
R.G. Tonsmeire Solvin
R.T. Carney Walters
R.E. Jessen Sokolski
Q.B. Clark Bennett
L.H. Iverson Polack
R.H. Effertz Bland
E. Biro Holland

Port Is Slow
As usual Port was slow in the first quarter. Farmingdale, taking a punt by Clark from their own thirty yard line, was able to score after five first downs. They kicked for the extra point. In this quarter as throughout the same several penalties were made against both teams.

The second quarter found the ball again in Farmingdale's hands on the own forty. Port's defense work stiffened, but again the ball was carried deep into their territory from where a field goal was attempted. With the score still seven to nothing Port had the ball on her twenty. A fifteen yard completed pass to "Pussy" (Continued on Page 4)

For refreshments, cider and doughnuts were served, and everyone enjoyed himself.

Clio plans to have an assembly on November 3. They intend to make the students of the High School understand more clearly the means and significance of elections. This assembly is to be a forerunner of a school poll. At this poll there will be a voting machine to make the voting seem more real. The club will organize a platform, will have campaign speeches and will conduct this as an actual election. Buddy Erb, the president, sincerely hopes that it will be a success and thinks that the students will enjoy it.

The cast has not as yet been chosen and will not be until the Interclass Play Contest is over.

Eleven Characters
The characters in the play are as follows: Aunt Milly, Andy, Mrs. Hardy, Judge Hardy, Grandpa Hardy, Estelle Hardy Campbell, Marion Hardy, Wayne Trenton III, Myra Hardy Wilcox and Mr. Stubbins.

Mr. Joseph Banc, Czechoslovakian Consul from New York City, spoke on "The Present International Situation." This talk was most timely and interesting to every member due to the events which have recently taken place in Europe.

Song Contest Closes 31st

The Port Junior

May The Best Man Win

Cash Prizes For Song Contest; Pick A Tune, Write A Verse

Words Must Be Original But Contestant Can Select Any Music He Wishes; Contest Closes On The 31st

Come one, come all, do your duty to your school and net a fine profit and fame as well. At this very moment, among the confusion of elections, something that this school has never seen the like of before is happening right under your noses. Something that will astonish you and the rest of the school as well, not to say anything of the Senior High School.

In this school we have fine musical organizations, a fine paper, a fine athletic organization, a school government, a fine art department and numerous other organizations that speak well of Port Washington Junior High School. BUT we do not have anything to signify these activities and the school in general.

At last somebody has taken steps to see that we have a school song that we can sing to support our school activities. The one thing that our school government lacks is about to be supplied. It is only fitting that the song they are going to sing should be made by the students themselves. So if you wish to get in on this momentous occasion listen to the following details that will reveal how we will get our school song.

Rules For Contest

The song will be selected in a contest among the students. Each contestant will submit a song and the best song will be selected by judges and adopted as the official school song. Each contestant should write a verse to go with music that has already been composed. That is to say, the school song will be a combination of some well known melody that the contestant has selected and the verse he has written to go with it. The words must be original.

Prize of One Dollar

An award of $1.00, donated by a distinguished citizen who's name will be revealed after the contest, will be made to the winner. The official presentation of the prize to the winner and the song to the school will take place in the assembly. The entries should be submitted to Mr. Allen and they will be judged by a group of expert, non-partisan judges.

Contest Closes October 31

The contest will be carried on for two weeks, so sit right down tonight and start to work on your entry. The reward for your labor is great with a prize of money and recognition as the writer of our school song by your classmates and fellow students. Support this contest to your fullest extent. Who knows, maybe you might be the one who will win.

You Tell Us

By CONNIE CAMPBELL

O, dear me, puzzles, puzzles, everywhere. Everything puzzles me. I've just got so many puzzles. But I might as well start.

There's one that really is a sticker and what puzzles me is why Shirley Lawton puts up with Everett Wilson in Port Junior meetings.

Another thing that puzzles me is why Joan Wagner can't get rid of that shadow that follows her in and out.

A group of girls in the 8A are puzzled over the strange silence between two members of our class, one of which is Audrey Barrett.

What puzzles me is why someone doesn't come right out with it and say he is deeply in love with Rosalie Van Zan.

The 8A class is also puzzled over the fact that Claire Gibson always cries when she laughs. Are that one out.

Unsportsmanlike Campaigning

By RUTH SCHOLL

The manner of campaigning used this term has been very disappointing. One of the causes for comment was the marring of public property. Another cause for disturbance and complaint was the posting of poor signs. After an announcement in assembly stating that the student body had the privilege of removing all unsightly posters, the opposing parties had a grand time tearing down one another's signs. Down they came, good, bad or indifferent and after school hardly a poster was left.

These methods of campaigning were unsportsmanlike. You may feel "big" after tearing down an opposing party's signs but you must know by now that it is a reflection on your own character.

The students of Junior High have been given many privileges in campaigning. They were allowed to have parades, give speeches, hand out circulars and make the much-discussed signs. Why take advantage of the liberties we have at present. Don't cheapen your school. Boost Junior High morale!

Great Grandma And Her Hobby

By ROGER MONTGOMERY

Last Saturday I had nothing else to do, so I hooked a ride to New York with Angelo as he was going to early market. He dropped me out at the corner of Park Avenue and 60th Street. After loitering around the corner for a while, I remembered that my great-grandmother, Tryphenia Saddleberry, lived just up the street. So there I headed, thinking: "Ah hah, I will surprise her at morning tea."

Arriving at her residence, I knocked twice before I was let in by her stuttering old janitor. "You b-b-better hurry up," he said, "b-b-before she locks the ch-ch-cheese up."

Taking two steps at a time, I bolted up to the first floor where the gilt drawing room was, then to the second floor, which held the unused black walnut dining room and the vacant kitchen. On I went to the third floor, where there were two bare rooms. Breathlessly, I got to the fourth floor, where great-grandmother hung out.

As I burst through the door, great-grandmother said: "Well, if it isn't great-grandson Roger. Here, sit down while I get you some cheese and tea."

The tea was uncomfortably cold and the cheese was exceedingly strong, so I didn't mind at all when suddenly the fire alarm sounded in the nearby fire house. Great-grandma shouted: "Follow me." Down the back stairs we raced, through the back alley we tore, and out onto the street we came, just in time to hook on the fire truck as it whizzed out of the fire house. It was a thrilling fire, indeed. Practically all the equipment in the city was there and it lasted for four hours.

As we drove home, great-grandma stood on top of the fire truck and sang hill-billy songs. After we got back, great-grandma introduced me to the boys at the fire house.

Again the fire alarm rang. As we climbed aboard the truck I noticed great-grandma edging into the driver's seat, meanwhile

School Election Will Decide Council Leadership For Term

Lawton, Mullon And Rogosin, Campaign Managers, Predict Victory For Their Parties

This year, the same as before, we have elections of officers for our Junior High School Student Council. And this year we find, as before, three good parties consisting of five members apiece. The three parties are namely, T. N. T., Latham's Lumberjacks and the Five Aces.

T. N. T., as you may have guessed, is headed by Mary Louise Teta. To take her place, in case of absence, we have Ruth Scholl. David Ahern is running for secretary-treasurer, and Bruce Frost and Bobby Wick will try to guard the flag. David Mullon is Babe's publicity manager and he says: "They are Dynamite!"

Strange as it may seem, there is only one boy running for president and that is Bob Latham. Mary Jane Ford will run for vice-president, while Jimmy O'Day is up for secretary-treasurer. Martha Whitcomb and J. Roberts make up the rest of Latham's Lumberjacks, who are being managed by Lionel Rogosin.

Anthor Heads Five Aces

Beverly Anthor, following in the footsteps of her brother, is the other girl running for president this fall. She heads the Five Aces party and they say "they're tops." Helena Adams is backing Beverly up in the job and Majorie Eager is running for secretary-treasurer. Bobby Lou Lyon and Billy Peper make up the rest of the Five Aces party.

As many of the candidates do not want to reveal their policies until they deliver them personally to the student body, it is impossible to print them here. We are very fortunate to have these people running for these offices with the desire to better our school. A good piece of advice might be: Don't vote until you've heard everyone's speech and remember the best man always wins.

New Books For Casual Reader

If you don't like to read there must be something wrong with you. But if you are the type that has something wrong with you, go down to our library and look at some of the books. You will soon lose the feeling of "I don't want to read."

There is such a wide variety of books that you cannot help yourself. Pick out the book that you think you will enjoy and settle down to a half hour or hour of thorough entertainment. There are a large number of new and interesting books just acquired.

As you all probably know, reading broadens your mind and gives you new information on any subject. This makes you more intelligent. Nothing is more contenting than to curl up with a nice book on a rainy afternoon.

Win Prize In Song Contest

Along with the Junior High song contest, a contest for the best poster advertising the songs will be held. The art department is already working on some, but this opportunity is open to everybody whether you are an art student or not. The poster doesn't need to be any artistic triumph, just something that will convey the appeal of the song contest.

The posters will be judged on appeal to the public more than artistic ability so all you students who want to have some fun and perhaps win a prize of one dollar as well, just submit your poster to Miss Hansen and it will be judged by another group of experts.

This month is the month of opportunity for Junior High. It is up to you to take advantage of these opportunities for they will never come again. You do not need to be a poet, a musician or an artist to enter these contests, all you need to do is to sit down and think and whamo! you will get an idea. There is time for all you contestants to enter these contests right now, so join the fun, support your school and perhaps win a prize.

Forty Out For Hockey Games

Hockey is here again! The first game which was on Thursday started with a bang. Miss Fett was very pleased with the 40 ambitious girls that appeared. Technique is practiced in class so that after school no time will be wasted.

Not much was said or done about tournaments or interclass games, but further news about this will be posted after the girls really get started.

Sports Council will begin in the near future! Look for notices.

McCall's Magazine Prints Picture Of Charm Club

The Port Washington community and schools achieved national prominence this month through one of the activities of our Junior High School.

The Charm Club, sponsored by Mrs. Columbia last year, was discussed in McCall's, a monthly magazine for women in the United States. In addition to telling of the club's activities the article included a picture taken during one of the meetings in the auditorium. Mrs. Columbia, Beverly Anthor, Irene Hope and Ruth Leach appear in the picture in addition to the speaker and those in the first few rows of the assembly.

If you are interested in reading the article or seeing the picture, consult McCall's magazine for October. The article is on page 98 and the picture appears on page 91.

Homework For Model Student

By RUTLEDGE RAY

Practically every night you trudge wearily home under the load of four or five books. This is an attempt (notice the attempt) to look studious. On reaching home you carefully put your books on a convenient out-of-the-way table and proceed to make plans for the evening, making sure that no stern and foreboding eye has caught a glimpse of those books. This may be accomplished by assuming that carefree air upon entering the house (the family is usually fooled by this), then wait for your chance and quickly "stow" the books.

Al Pearce and his gang—Radio Theatre, Guy Lombardo and so to bed. Of course if the local movie is interesting you may enjoy that entertainment. Sometimes if you're with the right person it need not be interesting.

Oh, yes, this strict school routine is really getting us down. We even are tempted to gripe about the heavy home-work.

Banking Averages Higher

The last bank day brought two 100 per cent classrooms. They were, respectively Miss Kinne's and Miss Thorn's. Second was Miss Mandigo's with 87.9 per cent. Miss Marks' room came in third with 64.3 per cent.

The whole school took in $66.20. There are about 600 boys and girls in this school. If every one of you banked at least a nickel it would teach you early in life to become THRIFTY.

Port Hockey Team Beats Oyster Bay

The second hockey game, which was played on Monday, October 17, on Seeber Field, proved to be successful for both Port's teams. Although the absence of Jessie Eato was a loss to the team, Catherine Elliott was her able substitute.

The first half of the game was rather slow, no score being made by either team. Port's aggressive playing forced Oyster Bay's team to play on the defensive almost continually. However, Port's squad was unable to push the ball through the goal.

At the beginning of the second half, the team staged a come-back and played a better style of hockey. There were several opportunities to score but the attempts were squelched each time. Finally, however, with about five minutes left to play, Catherine Elliott was able to make the only goal of the game, making the resulting score 1-0. The score of the second team game, which was also played very well, was 2-1 in Port's favor.

On Friday, October 14, the first game of the season was played with South Side on their field. Captains were elected before the game began. Mary Muro, last year's captain of the first team, was re-elected this year, while Wilma Piurek was chosen as captain of the second team.

Jessie Eato, with the help and co-operation of the rest of the team, was able to make two goals. The highland of the game occurred when Port's team made the second goal. The ball became caught in the corner of the goal post and a dispute arose concerning the validity of the goal. During the game it was decided that the goal didn't count and a 25-yard bulley was called; however, at the end of the game the decision of the referee proved that Port had earned a point. Thus the final score of this encounter was a tie, 2-2.

Catherine Elliott made the goal for the second team and it proved to be the only one for Port throughout the entire game. South Side's team was victorious in this game, with a score of 2-1.

Drivers' Club To Hold Discussions

Many of the students in Senior High School have probably heard about the Drivers' Club and meant to join it but have neglected to do so. The purpose of the club is to train students who have never driven and to help junior and senior licensees to brush up on their technique.

There are two courses in the club: The theory course and the driving course. All members of the club are given a test on their knowledge of theory. Those who do not have licenses must put in five clock-hours driving in addition to passing the test.

The club is starting a series of discussions which will be open to anyone interested. On Tuesday the opening discussion was held. The subject of the discussion was "The Motor of a Car and How It Functions." Later on there will be other discussions, among which will be "The General Parts of a Car," "The Attributes of a Good Driver," "Highway Conditions," and many others. Later on in the year the club will journey to the World's Fair grounds to see the auto show.

The conditions for entering the club are few: You must be 18 years old and be interested in safe driving. When interviewed Mr. Dodds said: "Anyone interested in safe driving who would like to join 'The Drivers' Club' should attend the meeting on October 25 in Room 108. We would be very glad to have them."

SPORTS

By ALAN GOULD

It appears we have what looks like a winning football team at last. Not only in the opinion of a few, but in the opinion of all. It has taken the squad a long time to find itself, but judging from what happened last Saturday when Farmingdale beat us 14-6 things are about to get moving.

We got our share of the breaks for the first time since the start of the season. At least we should have scored as many touchdowns as the farmers.

In a move to bolster our defense "Jitterbug" Swan was shifted from fullback to the center position. Duck did all right, too, considering he had only changed positions a few days before the game. He had a little experience at the position last year, but nothing ever came of it until now.

Along with Swan, Bill Effertz and Bob Carney held hard earned positions in the starting lineup for the first time. Willie played a hard speedy game at right half, but tackle Carney ran into tough luck on the second play of the game. He pulled something in his leg (he doesn't know what it is himself) and had to quit for the rest of the game.

Captain Ernie Tonsmiere and "Pussy" Markland, who has been shifted from the backfield to end, both played their positions exceptionally well.

The six touchdown trimming Southampton handed Easthampton doesn't look so good for us. Maybe they'll be all tired out tomorrow from running up and down the field so much.

A salute, bouquet or something ought to be given to all you Port rooters for the splendid turnouts you've been making in spite of the team's poor showing. I have a hunch it won't be long now until we'll have a chance to celebrate a victory.

Port Defeated By Farmingdale

In the beginning of the third quarter Port was able to make her first gains. After several incomplete passes Farmingdale got the ball and in ten and twenty yard gains were able to push down the field for their second touchdown. The extra point brought their score up to fourteen.

In the last quarter Port came to life. They kept Farmingdale almost entirely in their own territory. A poor punt from the twenty yard line and a fifteen yard penalty against Farmingdale gave Port her first chance. A pass from Iverson to Clark put the ball one yard from the goal line. A line plunge by Clark made the touchdown. Iverson's kick failed to make the extra point. When the "Blue and White" again got possession of the ball they went down to the eleven yard line. After several incomplete passes the game ended 14 to 6 in favor of Farmingdale.

As we go to press the results of the Sea Cliff game, played last Wednesday, are not as yet known. Baldwin is next on the list.

The third round of the tennis tournament is well under way with Eileen Monfort in the lead. Mildred Lang is to play Helen Davis, while Catherine Elliott will play the winner of the Eileen Landy-Ann Ross set. When Mary Muro and Susie Keshishian finish their set the winner will challenge Muriel Vanderbilt. Louise Moore bowed to Eileen Monfort.

A bang-up hockey game was played last week between the Port and Southside hockey teams, the score resulting in a tie. The absence of Jessie Eato was keenly felt by the whole team when they played Oyster Bay on Monday.

Under the supervision of Eileen Monfort, the hockey squad will compose new hockey songs and cheers to be used for the first time when they journey to Baldwin for the Long Island Hockey Tournament. Miss Maher and the girls feel that just cheers are not enough to spur the teams on.

Since many of the girls go to summer camps they appreciate the thought of having hockey songs. It is hoped that the whole student body will cooperate, and will help to see this idea realized.

Students To See 'Danton's Death'

A group of Port Washington High School students will attend the evening performance of "Danton's Death" at the Mercury Theatre. Orson Welles, whom most students will remember for his striking performance as "Anthony" in "Julius Caesar," is directing the play and will also play the part of "St. Just."

"Danton's Death," written by George Buchner in 1834, is a historical play woven around the French revolution and concerns the psychological story of Danton, a revolutionary leader in the second stages of the revolution. The play presents his romantic atrophy, and his death at the hands of the rigid idealist, Robespierre. "Danton" will be portrayed by Martin Gabel, the "Cassius" of "Julius Caesar," and Vladimir Sokoloff will play "Robespierre," as he did in the original Reinhardt production.

Riding Club Takes 5 Hour Ride

On Tuesday, October 11, eight members from the Riding Club took a five-hour ride through the Grand Central Parkway. The girls left Port Washington for the Little Neck Riding Academy at 4:30 and were accompanied by Miss Thorn, a Junior High English teacher.

The riding instructor, "Joe," took an automobile to the spot at which the group later ate supper. The car carried the food and also provided the music for the campers.

After cantering for several hours the girls rode toward the campfire. Frankfurters and rolls, potato salad, coffee and apples furnished the equestrians with the necessary nourishment. After exhausting every song on the Hit Parade, the girls roasted marshmallows over the glowing coals of the fire.

At 8:30 they mounted the horses and in single file journeyed along the dark paths to the stables. Although the girls were tired, they felt that they had experienced one of the most exciting outings of the club's existence.

New Cheer Introduced

In the assembly program today the cheerleading squad demonstrated a new cheer which was organized by the cheerleaders. The words to it are as follows:

A Vivo A Vivo
A Vivo vivo vum
Boom get a rat trap bigger than a cat trap
Boom get a rat trap bigger than a cat trap
Sis-boom bah
Sis-boom bah
Port Port
Rah Rah Rah

The cheer will be used for the first time at the game when Port encounters Southampton the gridiron that afternoon.
