S. Wise Officiates Retort Initiation

Last Thursday the Retort, honorary science club of the school, carried out its annual, and memorable, initiations. The master of ceremonies was Sergeant Wise, and all the old members did their best to make the initiates feel at home.

Those inducted into the club were George Aitken, Russel Beckley, Edmond Caputo, Donald Collings, Robert Cornell, Roger Dittig, Ruth Farrelly, William Hamilton, Dorothy Harrison, William Helfrich, Kelvin Kable, Edward Leahy, Hal Macartney, Kemp Reade, Philip Rice, Inez Schaad, William Shawcross, Vene Wilkinson, and Paul Williams.

More elaborate measures were taken this year to insure the remembrance of the occasion, and the affair was well enjoyed by the veterans of past performances. This was a result of the club's decision to revive the glory of its former initiations.

Art Club Enjoys Snow Storm

Last week's snow storm was very much enjoyed by members of the Art Club. Charlotte Breaznell, Beverly Amthor, Tony Piazza, and Mary Aspinwall took advantage of it and did some snow modeling on the grade school play ground.

The snow man they made on Thursday was badly damaged by the fun-loving grade school youngsters. However, they preserved the beauty of the one they made on Friday by taking pictures of it. If the pictures are good enough they will enter them in the Port Light photo contest.

The Design III class has been busy making posters for the Career Conference this Friday. They also made the Christmas posters which are on display in the cafeteria and the halls.

In the library there is a fine display of Christmas wrapping paper which was designed by M. Demeo, T. Salerno, D. Ford, N. Tyson, C. Beckwith, W. Zebrowski, and C. Dellavecchia.

Large Cast Aids Red Domino With Annual Fall Play

Dance In Cafeteria After, Under G. O.

By M. L. TETA

At long last, after many weeks of hard work and practice, the Red Domino is ready to present its annual Fall play, "Stage Door." The affair will take place in the Senior High Auditorium tomorrow night at 8:30.

Mr. Edward Ehre, who has directed many a fine play, such as "The Whole Town's Talking" and "What A Life," has again scored a triumph, perhaps the greatest of all, "Stage Door" with Margaret Sullivan acting the lead when the play was given on Broadway, was such a hit that Hollywood made the play into a picture starring Ginger Rogers and Katherine Hepburn.

Dancing will take place after the play. Prices will be 25c, 35c and 50c, G. O. tickets will be honored.

Plot Actresses' Lives

The plot of the play is the story of what goes on in the lives of actresses. The play takes place in a boarding house for actresses only. In this boarding house one finds various personalities, such as - -

Terry Randall (Frances Shaver) a young stage-struck girl who gives up a career in Hollywood so that she could act on the stage. She endures many hardships but she wouldn't give up, not even when her beau, Keith Burgess, walked out on her to go to Hollywood.

Keith Burgess (Ricky Renson), the John Garfield type. He was a young playwright, carefree and full of life until he went to Hollywood.

Jean Matland (Gloria Dean), best friend of Terry Randall, was a flop on Broadway, but she became an

The President of the Celerity, Anna Marie Thomasen, has announced that the girls in the Celerity are collecting toys for the needy. All donations of old or new toys and games will be accepted in Room 209.

Each student is urged to search attics and cellars for toys. Bring in as many toys as you can and help to make this campaign a success.

the 13th, and a Friday, too

As you are undoubtedly already aware, today is Friday, the 13th. This might have proved an excuse for the 65 you got in that test this morning..... it might seem to be the reason why none of the teachers wanted to cooperate with you when you forgot to do your homework... or it might be the reason that blankety-blank old  threw you out of class.

Now we've got a question for you? Do you dare to FACE YOUR FUTURE TONIGHT? Tonight, Friday, the 13th? If you do, we'll expect to be seeing your face this evening at the Career Conference. Here is a real chance for you to learn something about the answer that you give when someone asks you what you are going to do to make a living. Of course, if you are planning to become a bubble dancer or an "Eagle Eye Finkle" or a mysterious German agent or a pawn-shop operator, well — there's nothing we can do for you. But if your ideas run along more orthodox lines—come to the conference tonight and you'll really get some straight dope.

And say — tomorrow night the Red Domino is putting on "Stage Door". We hope that you'll all come and give your all in their support — but wait a moment — giving your all doesn't mean acting like a bunch of babies.

The last time we had a play here the student portion of the audience expressed themselves a little too freely. Tomorrow night just show everybody that you know how to appreciate a play like "Stage Door" — remember, you're not going to kiddie shows anymore, so why try to act as if you were?

We'll be seeing you both tonight at the Career Conference and tomorrow at the annual fall play.

Wanted: Civic Mindedness

There should be more civic minded people in this school — and don't say: "Why, Daddy?"

Talking during classes must stop; it not only annoys the teachers but also cut down your time for learning what the teachers intend to "larn" you. You may think you are just annoying the teacher, but all the time you waste by talking or fooling around is money wasted, for the school taxes are paid by your parents.

Civic minded people should think of the betterment of the school. Defacing the school by marking on the walls of the halls and classrooms does not give visitors the right impressions of our school.

There are always a few students who set a bad example for the majority — those who defy the teachers and cause disturbance in the classes, thus interfering with those students who are there to learn.

The students should appreciate their "Privilege Cards" by not annoying the patrons of the movies, making uncalled for and unnecessary noises.

SPOT LIGHT

Hello again

The Army-Navy game was favored with the presence of Nan Smith and Gloria Dean who had a couple of cadets in tow.

Mr. MacIntosh's class ought to know pretty well the experiences of a Russeks' Salesman (More student reports).

It would probably be easier to say who wasn't at the game Friday...but we do know that Rutledge Raye was there with Bob Bessell. Evidently Wanda is just a closed chapter in the Bessell book of Romance that book must have quite an index

Attention Redfield and Frost! Reports have it that Eddie Kraft will be home for Christmas.

Did you know that Bob Aitken was the best basketball player in the school, according to the opinion of one Mr. Robert Aitken?

Last Saturday evening Mr. Warren Baker (Bake to youse), late of our school, gave a little shindig inviting Frank Wooley and Flicker Grumman, Bob Bangs and Charlotte Breaznell, and Minnie Thom- asen (and ye host.) Highlight: huffing and puffing a ping-pong ball from one end of the table to the other, a futile effort to keep from landing behind the eight-ball. By the way, who was under the table?

Being a traffic officer is mixing business with pleasure for Ruthanne Studebaker, what with Bob Elsworth wearing a Grand Canyon around her post. We haven't seen any detour signs, however.

Why does Dale Ely insist on staying home on Christmas Eve? Parlez-vous francais? Peut-être une coup de téléphone.....

Nettie Manso seems to prefer red-heads, particularly one Red Murray.

What would Don Cromwell and Virginia Wilbert do if some wise-guy should switch on the lights in the second floor hall a little earlier than eight-thirty A. M.? Well, they probably will never be late for school, anyhow.

The afore-mentioned Messrs. Frank Woolley and Pop Bangs must have seemed quite attractive in the eyes of Jean Galloway, June Thompson, Charlotte Breaznell, and Randy Studebaker. Oh yes, Dale Ely was there too...the two males walked her home.

Joe Biro went to Helen Kelly's party last Saturday. We would like to know why if Mr. Biro would care to tell us.

Who is this Andy that Jane Gresi likes so much? It has been discovered that Killer-Diller Donald Jones has been writing various billet-doux to Hazel Kirk for the last two years. Ah, Romance in the air, (where's my gas-mask?)

It's quite a coincidence when Dave Sprague just happens to sit next to Carol Collings two consecutive days in the balcony of the Beacon. And next to him (other side) on the same days were Jimmy O'Day and June Brown. How did you enjoy the picture, boys?

Ro-Ann Hicks has been seeing an awful lot of Bill Oox lately. How many is it now? We can't count 'em all....

Harriet Church and Jerry D'Augustino are hitting it off quite well. Does he help you with the homework, Harriet?

It seems that Alex Truskowski had a little bad luck before Friday the thirteenth when he suffered "lacerations and abrasions in an auto accident. Here's hoping he is all fit soon.

From reports Nettie Manse's party must have been quite a gathering. Two couples noted were Vincent Prudenti and Mary Jack, Andy Jessen with Jean Gautsche. And was that Chris McKenna (Mmm —Pickle...) holding hands with Eleanor Picardi?

overnight success in Hollywood. Judith Canfield (Dorothy Young) is deserving of much credit as acting this part of a young, wise and disillusioned actress.

Port Quintet Wins 31-27 Over Oyster Bay

The Port Washington basketball quintet opened its season with a 31-27 defeat over Oyster Bay.

During the first half it was a pretty even game with neither team possessing the ball more than the other. Oyster Bay guards were making magnificent long shots but with Jessen, Cosmos, Morrison, and Seift the score was held tied at the half, 16-16.

In the third quarter the game kept going along at an even pace. Spectacular shots made by both teams kept the audience screaming. With Jessen's height as a slight advantage the Port team began to take the ball more often off the backboard.

In the last quarter the score ran up to 27 all with each team fighting desperately to get the ball and try for extra points. Cosmo Morrison proved to be the sparkplug of the team playing every position on the floor, taking the ball and maneuvering it around himself with that fast low dribble of his. He, Elliott and Seifts were making unbelievable shots which had the audience in a steady uproar.

With two and a half minutes to play Morrison quickly rolled up four points to end the game 31-27 in a thrilling last minute victory for Port.

BOYS' SPORTS GIRLS' SPORTS

By PAUL FIELD

After opening the '40-'41 basketball season with a hair-raising 31-27 victory over Oyster Bay, the Port quintet travels over to Roslyn tonight and engages the home-team.

With two members of last year's starting five remaining, plus last year's reserves, the team is well-balanced. "Red" Seifts, who comes from Junior High, was the only starter who was not on last year's squad.

The second team proceeded to take the school honor in its hands and handed its opponents a 26-17 trouncing. Between quarters and during the time outs the rival cheer leaders encouraged their followers by their antics.

The few Oyster Bay rooters were drowned out by the rabid Port fans who filled the gym to its full capacity.

Attend Athletic Fete

On December 9, Mr. Costello, coach of Port's football team, and Andy Jessen attended the Heisman Memorial Trophy dinner. The dinner was held at the down-town Athletic Club in honor of Tommy Harmon. The coach's season this year was a very successful one, the team having won four out of six games.

Ex-Teacher Is Hostess

Bonnie Hawthorne, who was our dramatic teacher a few years ago, was picked by the Army to be a hostess at Fort Dix. Miss Hawthorne is remembered by many of the faculty and students.
