FIVE CENTS

Inter-Class Plays Contested To-Nite

Pete Fraser Wins G. O. Scrap Drive

Pete Fraser, who brought in a total amount of 8,000 pounds of scrap, won first prize of five dollars in war stamps.

For the individual prizes the boys who brought in 1,000 pounds or more apiece were: Clifford Washburn, James Johnson, Richard Aitken, George Moses, Leslie Keates, Walter Zebrowski, Jimmy Wooley and Raymond Veit.

Each of these winners was given a dollar's worth of war stamps. Honorable mention was given to Bob Mesch for the use of his father's truck, and to Bob Aitken for his splendid help in the scrap drive.

Homeroom 108 won first prize of five dollars in war stamps for the homeroom award. The average pounds of scrap per person is 97.84 pounds. To date, the money collected for the scrap amounts to $165.

Noontime Dancing Out

There will be no more noontime cafeteria dancing. The reason is the new school hours. About twice a month tea dances will be given in place of cafeteria dancing. These dances will be from 3:00 to 5:00.

The G. O. has decided to give some kind of plaques to the home rooms that sell 100 per cent G. O. tickets in the future. It was decided that parties are too juvenile, and the plaques are more appropriate for this kind of a reward.

Les Faux Pas Club Initiates Members

Last Monday, Nov. 2, the members of the French Club, Les Faux Pas, initiated the following: Buntly Hegarty, Margaret Ross, Joan Swift, Mary Hacker, Patsy St. Clair, Ruth Lee Seaman, Nancy Swain, Eloise Frost and Mary Aspinwall.

The initiates wore red, white and blue to symbolize the tricolor of the French flag, and brought something French in to the meeting about which to talk. When the roll was called, each new member answered the call with a French quotation. Refreshments were later served.

In The Crystal Ball

Friday, Nov. 6—Interclass plays, 8:30 P. M.

Wednesday, Nov. 11—Armistice Day.

Friday, Nov. 13—Football Game, Port vs. Glen Cove, at Port.

Friday, Nov. 20—Senior Ball.

The annual drive of the Junior Red Cross sponsored by Celerity started November second and will continue until November thirteenth. This year is the seventeenth year members of the Port Washington High School have contributed to this worthy cause.

During this week and next, posters and short talks by helping Celerity members will remind every student that this year, more than ever, the Red Cross needs the support of everyone. No matter how large or small the contribution may be it will be gratefully accepted. All contributions are to be given to the homeroom treasurer.

This Christmas, through the Red Cross and volunteering students, the veterans of the first World War in Northport will receive knitted stockings filled with useful gifts. New toys are being collected by the Junior Red Cross for the refugee children throughout the world.

Senior Ball to Be Friday, Nov. 20

The date for the senior ball was set for Nov. 20 instead of Nov. 14 because of the heating conditions in the building.

A meeting was called on Oct. 26 to determine the various committees. Jake Jurgenson, Francis Shaver, Ted Parmlee and George Younger were placed on the advertising committee, while Frankie Kiernan, Connie Campbell, Ted Parmelee and Ray Drake are to take care of the entertainment committee.

The decoration committee was overwhelmed by volunteers, but the designers are Carmello Mongiello at the head and under her are Marganna Olzewski, Marion Oglethorpe and Francis Shaver. Jake Jurgenson, Mary Humphreys and Sug Allington will arrange the refreshments.

The dance will be informal and will start at 8:30 and end at midnight. It was also decided that the dance should have a football as a theme in view of the end of the season on Nov. 14.

Celerity Gives Assembly

On Friday, Nov. 6, the Celerity had a very interesting assembly about the Red Cross and its desire for more urgent help. It is hoped by Miss Sammis, Celerity Advisor, that more help will be given the celerity in their urgent drive to get more help.

The days have slowly snuggled by to reach the date set for the production of the "Interclass Plays." The contest will be this evening, Nov. 6, at 8:00 P. M., at the Senior High School Auditorium. The sponsors expect a fine performance as the directors, plays, and the cast have all been carefully chosen from the students.

The seniors are a group of well-seasoned veterans who have high hopes of carrying off the honors. However, the juniors, who were last year's sophomore winners, have hopes of winning again. Last, but by no means least, are the high spirited sophomores who say they just can't lose. The competition will be keener than ever, so come out and encourage your fellow classmates to victory.

"Enter the Hero"—Senior Play

The senior class is presenting a play entitled "Enter the Hero." It is a romantic comedy that will keep your interest throughout the entire play. Marion Oglethorpe and Frances Shaver are directing. Their cast is as follows:

Ruth Carey Betty Purdy
Anne Carey Antoinette Eyrich
Harold Lawson Jimmy O'Day
Mrs. Carey Ann Terry

"Fright"—Junior Play

Directing the juniors are Frances Kiernan and Mary Hacker. The juniors have chosen a mystery play, "Fright." It is an exciting play that winds up with a surprise ending.

Their cast consists of the following people:

Janet Wright Martha
Betty Richey Eva
Bob Gunthur John
Billy Pepper Howard
Nick Cassavetes Harris
Props Margaret Ross and Virginia Sica

"Good Sport"—Sophomore Play

The sophomores are presenting the "Good Sport." This is a hilarious play revolving around the problems of a family. It produces a very entertaining effect. The play is being directed by Sug Allington. Their cast is:

Mr. Hoyt Hugh Montgomery
Mrs. Hoyt Vivian Briethaupt
Kay Bennet Pat Dickenson
Pamela Hoyt Lois Lauda
Donald Hoyt Jim Thompson
Prompters Silvia Strange and Barbara Somerville

The judges will be announced before the curtain rises on Friday night, and a cup will be presented to the winning class.

Red Cross Needs Our Support

For seventeen years the students of Port Washington High School have infallibly supported the various activities of the American Junior Red Cross. However, those years were years of peace and if the contributions did not meet the quota, it wasn't a great calamity. This year we are at war, a war that is causing more human misery and suffering than can be imagined. The Red Cross is attempting to alleviate some of this suffering by sending food, medicine, and clothing for the relief of the innocent civilians that need them. However, all such articles require money to defray the expense of purchasing and shipping.

The Red Cross is also providing the men of our armed forces with warm knitted clothing, and small comforts for the Veterans of World War I.

Certainly, therefore, if we students can not get out there and fight, it's the least we can do to "give until it hurts!"

SUPPORT THE RED CROSS.

Single Session Is Success

After lengthy planning and the discussion of many schemes, our new daily schedule was introduced. And now with the chaos and confusion safely behind us, the single session is firmly entrenched in our present school year.

The main aim of this compact session is to conserve fuel and tires. Another aim that runs a close second is the fact that by the presentation of this new schedule, students are kept in a central spot for a good part of the day. Air raid possibilities make this imperative.

Although the varied lunch hours cause some discomfort and grumbling, the student body as a whole agree with the administration that this is the best plan for everyone concerned.

Watch Your Change

Lately, many unsuspecting, honest people have been receiving counterfeit bills. According to government authorities, bills of Twenty and Five dollar denomination have been floating freely around unsuspecting Communities. There are definite ways that you can detect a counterfeit bill. Examine all the bills you get, especially those of Five and Twenty dollar denominations. If the face on the bill seems imperfect to you, or any part of the bill seems smudged, take it to your nearest bank immediately. The bank officials will be glad to explain to you whether the bill is counterfeit or not.

Mulligan Stew

With Hallowe'en to enliven things, last week-end proved rather exciting, to say the least. The night before Hallowe'en Marie Salerno had a party at which several of the brighter stars of the football team greatly enhanced its success. The next night Marilyn Sherman also threw quite a party.

Roy Schauer and Shirley Wiley went on a double date with Dick Cromwell and Peggy Seaman. Jimmy Lordi, the rambunctious one, dated Dot Nelson. Our esteemed president took Katy Ehnat to the flickers. Ditto Paul Williams and Nancy Swain. Kenny Glabach escorted not one but two girls to the Beacon. The ladies involved were the Misses Peggy Jones and Mary Aspinwall. Ted Parmelee journeyed to Great Neck with Carol O'Brien. All this and much, much more took place last week-end.

Ray Drake has been rushing Carolyn Rogers, but fast!! You see, he doesn't have to chase this little lady around dining room tables.

Doris Sonn, she of the peek-a-boo bang, has aroused no little comment among a number of senior males.

At Joyce Berg's Hallowe'en Party the doughnuts made a clandestine exit, and the guests were near starvation.

They're still talking about that party in Great Neck Saturday night. It seems Steady Eddie Denzel was inopportunistly disturbed right in the middle of the festivities. Oh, brother!

George Leach receives tender missives from an out-of-town cutie.

"Sug" Allington will take Barbara Somerville to the Hotel Lincoln tomorrow night, our spies tell us. And the hunting season has only just started.

Some of the Senior Ball couples: Joanie Evans and Les Keates; Connie Campbell and Ned Bullis; Patsy Louis and Alan Petersen.

Chuck Ruroede shot a duck recently—a feathered one.

The departure of the Elliston brothers has left Rae Mary Chase and Ruth Lee Seaman a bit tearful, but it's nothing that a cute boy won't cure.

Marie Duryea is blissful over Jack Lordi.

Whose wings does Gloria Lindgren wear? They might be an angel's, but we doubt it.

Wolf Larsen is certainly cleaning up on his Fearless Football Forecast. I'll bet he isn't in Mayor LaGuardia's cheering section.

Did you ever hear Edith Hyde sing torch songs? She's really got something there.

Arline Trondle, who possesses one the most haunting voices, is

Ann Woodall—O. K., but I think it should be longer.

Don Ruch—Fair enough.

Marie Duryea—That's neat for a substitute, instead of the three times a week.

La Tertulia Receives New Members at Party

About three weeks ago, the Spanish Club received its new members. Billie Campbell was in charge of the initiations.

The initiates wore peasant skirts and shawls for girls, and sashes for boys. There were demonstrations of the conga, the rumba, and singing of popular songs in Spanish.

The meeting was adjourned after delicious refreshments, supervised by Soric and Procelli.

Port - Light Book To Be "A Super"

Smile! Watch the birdie! Don't be alarmed, folks, it's just the photographer snapping your picture. For the past week the White studios have been taking pictures of classes and the seniors around school for the 1943 Port Light Club pictures will be taken in February and spring sports in April.

The book is being laid out now, and from a peek inside it looks "super."

An artist is coming to criticize the publication when it is put together completely. So from all angles it looks like we are going to have an unusual and interesting book this year.

A few trick shots of organizations have been taken. The orchestra was taken from a high altitude looking down. All classes are being taken from the front steps but the weatherman hasn't cooperated very well and the cameramen are having a hard time of it.

Candid shots also will be placed throughout the book. These will be taken any time without warning, so look you prettiest at all times, girls. If anyone has some good candid shots of school activities, by all means hand them in to Mr. Hendrickson.

Contracts are being made with printers to publish the Port Light, and it looks like we will have the year book right on schedule.

Clio Arranges Fall Program

The Clio's third meeting of the year was on Wednesday, Oct. 28. Sug Allington and Mary Hacker were initiated and gave short talks on various historical characters.

It had been formerly planned that the club should go to the Welfare House at 3:30, but it was decided that it would be better to have the speakers come to talk to us here at a later date.

The program committee headed by Jackie plans at the next meeting to hand out, in booklet form, the schedule for the year—including the various speakers and movies. The next meeting will be on the last Monday in November.

'O. G. A.' Discusses Constitution Orchestra to Play At Contest Tonite

At the last meeting of the O. G. A. on October 19, President Claire Gibson conducted a thorough discussion of the constitution for the benefit of the new members. The constitution was approved as it stands and no amendments were made.

After this, plans were made for the coming year. It was decided to have several speakers if it is possible to secure them. The suggestion was made that members of the club conduct a few of the meetings and speak on topics which will be of benefit to all the members when they enter the business world.

Miss Procelli is going to try to secure a sound technicolor movie entitled, "The Champions Write." The movie shows a number of famous shorthand writers and court reporters at work, and it also demonstrates the techniques used in rapid shorthand writing.

Before the meeting was adjourned, Rita Caramanica, Claire Gibson, Mary Humphreys and Ruth Jorgenson were appointed to provide refreshments for the next social meeting.

Art Club Makes Library Pastels

At the public library's request, one of the art groups has just finished posters on different rumors pertaining to today. Mary Aspinwall won the first prize with Eugent Grecco and Bernice Madura rating next. These posters are on display at the town library.

This is the second year in which the art students have made menu cards for the sailors in our Navy. We already have 110 menu cards, more than the required 100.

Art students are also helping in this war situation by making posters for the Red Cross drive.

The Senior High School Orchestra will play several selections at the Inter-Class Play Contest tonight. The orchestra has been practicing since the term began and they have several new pieces to play.

The orchestra had elections at the last rehearsal and the following were elected: Edward Clifton, president; Constance Campbell, vice-president; Betty Davis, secretary.

The band was unable to play at the football game in Great Neck Tuesday as the game was postponed. They had planned to take the train to Great Neck and march from the station to the school.

It has not been definitely decided whether Port will play Great Neck, but if they do the band members are very enthusiastic about playing as was previously planned.

New Single Session Goes Into Effect

On Monday, November 2, a new school schedule went into effect. It was decided upon by the School Board, after much careful consideration.

The main purpose of the change is to save fuel, which is done by the closing of school one hour earlier.

Also since all pupils necessarily remain in school for lunch, it means no cars are being used for getting back and forth during the noon hour. One other point is that by getting out at 2, boys and girls can help out in the labor-shortage problem.

Fratry Club Initiates Seven New Members

The Fraternity which has aided in the Senior High School Scrap Drive has just announced the initiates of their organization.

They are as follows: Bob Needham, Dave Ahern, Jake Juergensen, Tom Jones Leb Keates, Dick Crowell and Ed Moshier.

Initiations have been in progress for the last two weeks, and the final initiations will be tomorrow, Nov. 7, as announced by President Sug Allington.

Roman Culture Depicted

Some of our students in Mr. Kezar's World History class have done some worthwhile projects on Roman culture: dolls have been dressed, camps have been made, heads have been sculptured, maps and portraits drawn, and columns carved and made.

Although Great Neck did not get a chance to see our strong and determined team in action last Tuesday, they did get a good idea of our school spirit.

About three hundred students invaded Great Neck and marched up to the field. There they engaged in a battle with the Great Neck student body as to who could give the best and loudest cheers. About one thousand people were at the field and many more had already heard of the cancellation. Cries went up for a game by all present.

Since our last printing our High school eleven was dropped from the unbeaten ranks by a powerful Southampton team. Our team played hard but was helpless before a larger and stronger Southampton unit.

Although Port has been defeated, it is still placed as one of the ten best teams in Nassau County. Chet Nalselski also remains among the top scorers with twenty-five points to his credit.

Next Saturday Port will meet one of its oldest rivals when it takes on Glen Cove for Port's last home game. Both teams have good records and a good game is expected. If all of our boys are in good form, we think they can overtake the Covemen and get revenge for the humiliating defeat which they handed us last year.

Stop that pass! Catch that half-run! Get the lead out of your feet! These and more are the exclamations heard at the Adelphi Hockey Day at which our school participated. By means of private cars the whole first team consisting of Billie Campbell, captain; Connie Campbell, Dorothea Farrelly, Eleanor Santanillo, Rubina Natale, Carol Neumann, Ann Terry, Joan Borer, Mary Nolan and Betty Antonelli were able to play in this annual event.

Without bragging, I think we can say our team of 11 was the best because of the three games played Port Washington won or tied them all.

The first school we played was Oceanside and the score was 2-2. Although the co-operation of the whole team was very good, Oceanside managed to slip past our defending line to make two goals. This can probably be attributed to the early hour of the game, because most of our players were not quite awake.

The second game played was against Mephram and here our team really did give credit to their coach. During the first half Connie Campbell kept the team in good spirits by making 2 goals. Dorothea and Ann combined their efforts to make the score 4-0.

The third game, in which Port played Southside, was very close. The final score was 3-2 in Port's favor and after this game our wonderful team fell in a limp heap on the bench. After all, you boys must remember that the women are the weak sex.

At the awards presentation Port had the honor of having the most people chosen for the Long Island Hockey Association. They were Connie Campbell, Ruth Lee Seaman, Dorothea Farrelly, Rubina Natale and Betty Antonelli, who all deserve special praise for exceptionally good stick work and techniques. However, much credit must be given to our backfield, consisting of Eleanor Santaniello, Mary Nolan and Joan Borer. All and all, I think our whole team deserves three loud cheers. Don't you?

Battle Fronts Now Posted in 211

Some of Mr. Johnson's American History students have made a very timely project, called "Battle Fronts of the World," which is now posted on the bulletin board in Room 211, and every person should try to get in to look it over. Especially interesting are the write-ups of the Solomon Islands and the Russian front. Also, the map and graph are excellent.
