

Know Your School

In the past we have found there is a surprising lack of knowledge pertaining to school songs, cheers, etc. Cut this out and learn them.

Theater Group See "Merry Widow"

The Theater Group had a meeting Wednesday, October 20th. During the meeting they planned to see another play sometime in November. The play will be either "Othello" or "One Touch of Venice." A definite date will be set at the next meeting.

Last Saturday the Theater Group spent an afternoon at the Majestic Theater enjoying melodious strains from "The Merry Widow." They laughed at the capers of "Tish" and "Popoff" and thrilled at the romance of Sonia and the prince. They found in it new settings and old musical friends such as—"Girls! Girls! Girls!" and "I Love You So."

After the play the members agreed that they liked the beautiful girls of the ballet and the songs of Van Keipura best of all. They also agreed unanimously that the afternoon was one long to be remembered.

Orchestra To Make Appearance Nov. 5

The orchestra, with an enlarged string section, is hard at work under the combined leadership of Mr. Corduan and Mr. Christopher. The first public appearance of this organization will be at the Inter-Class Play Contest on November 5.

The orchestra's officers, elected this fall, are Margaret Ross, President and Jackie Fenton, Secretary. Mr. Christopher has announced that any sophomore wishing to learn to play the string bass may apply to him concerning the use of an instrument and free instruction. This might provide an opportunity for a student to prepare himself to earn money during college days.

The band has played and marched at all the recent football games and is now planning to play on Armistice Day, November 11th. It will play at 11:00 o'clock on Main Street, in front of the Honor Roll.

The next football game will be on November 2, when Port plays Great Neck. It has been stated by observers at the game, that everybody should sing when the school song is played. Let's show our school spirit and really sing!

The Choir is now practicing for their annual Christmas concert.

Aitken Heads Group For Assemblies

A committee, headed by Dick Aitken, has already been organized to help promote our assemblies. Those on it are: Tom Jones, Dan Ely, Bob MacLaren, Jean Harshbarger, Helen McWilliam, William Peper, Barbara Somerville, Bill Woodson, Les Keates, and Barbara Caffrey.

It is suggested by the committee that all school clubs discuss the possibilities of giving on assembly sometime throughout the year. In this way the students will be able to participate.

The senior class expects to give an assembly shortly. The junior and sophomore classes will also give assemblies.

If any of you have suggestions for assemblies, tell Dick Aitken and he'll do his best to put them into effect.

Platter Chatter

By JIMMY BRALLA

The signing by Decca Records of the AFM (American Federation of Musicians) recording contract is the beginning of the end of a long series of headaches for the nations bandleaders, longhairs included.

For a long time, the AFM has watched with a jealous eye as Juke Box operators and small radio stations raked in profits from records cut by union men. The AFM officials felt that the union deserved a portion of these profits. The only practical method of obtaining a royalty is through the records themselves.

"Art Exhibition" In Library

In the library, Miss Hansen has arranged a display of the well-known window designer, Mr. W. Bayard Okie, Jr.

There are photographs of his own window displays designed by him, many of which are for Marcus and Company, Fifth Avenue (Exclusive Jewelry).

He has designed windows for other concerns, including Hunt and Winterbotham, New York (Woolen house) and Dorothy Gray (beauty products.)

These are photographs of his beautiful window displays inspired by the movie "Marco Polo," shown in the Marcus display. In these Marcus displays precious and valuable gems are used. Also there is a picture of Gary Cooper holding the model of Marco Polo. That was designed by Mr. Okie. There are pictures of him and his staff at work on these magnificent window displays.

This exhibition is really a splendid one with many unusual and interesting pictures.

We are sure all of you who see it will think it is worthwhile and enjoy it very much.
