New York Times Sponsors Exhibit

"The story of the Recorded Word", a graphic 5,000-year span from cuneform to linotype, is the touring loan exhibition that is coming to Port Washington High School from January 14 to 19. This exhibit averages forty panels, each 20 x 28 inches, all mounted on aluminum with corner holes for easy hanging; this exhibit takes about 70 feet of wall-space.

This exhibit will be on display for all students, but the journalism and history students will find this of special interest. Mr. Kezar the tenth grade history teacher, is sponsoring this exhibition.

Student Of Week

As most of the students know, being Secretary of the G. O. is more work than honor. This year Dorin Oltarsh has taken this job in hand, and is efficiently executing its many duties which include attendance at all student council meetings, keeping the minutes of these meetings and control of all G. O. correspondence.

This attractive blond, known to her friends as "Dodie", participates in many school activities. Besides being a J.V. Cheerleader, "Dodie" is also active in Clio, Celerity, Red Domino, Theater Group, and Latin Club. She loves sports, food, and pets, which include a dog, cat, hamster, goldfish, turtle, and pet snail. At present her ambition is to study psychology and she is planning to attend college on graduation.

Sophs Working On Class Party, Jan. 9

To start the New Year off right the Sophomore Class is having a class party. The theme is intended to give an underwater effect, but they haven't decided on a name as yet.

The place will be in the school cafeteria; the date is January 19; the time is 8:30 P.M. to 12:00 P.M.

There will be dancing, entertainment, square dancing and fun for all.

Here is something that will please everyone—you can come alone or with a date. Both girls and boys alike. So everyone will have a chance to have fun.

The price is the most reasonable one of any dance that we have had. It's $.50 per person. All the Sophomores who have paid their class dues are admitted free!

As far as what to wear is concerned the girls wear party dresses and the boys either suits or slacks and sport jackets.

So come on, kids! Let's really start the New Year off right. Come to the Sophomore Class Party!

Riaz Mahmood Visits From Pakistan

The boy, currently visiting Port High, is Riaz Mahmood. He is seventeen years old, and Lahore, Pakistan is his home. The purpose of his visit is to represent Pakistan in the Herald Tribune Youth Forum. He was selected to fill this position for his writing of the best essay, entitled "The World We Want". First there was a school competition, then provincial, and finally he was chosen from all Pakistan as their representative to the Forum.

Riaz is going to remain in this country for about three months, and in our school till about the twelfth of January and he will be living with Jay Greene, who was selected as his host.

Our school and social life is quite different from that of Pakistan in many respects. One of the main differences is that although there are many co-educational colleges, very few primary and high schools have co-education. Also there is no dating.

The boys in Pakistan dress much more conservatively than we do (mostly they wear suits and ties). Our comparatively conservative blue and white school sweaters would probably be considered "loud" according to Riaz—I wonder what he said when he first sets eyes on some of the iridescent pink and green shirts now in fashion?

Cricket, tennis, and field hockey are several of the most popular sports in Pakistan. There are radio and movies, although they have no T.V. Each movie usually has about twelve songs in it, otherwise very few people would bother to see it.

Pakistan has two different school systems. One is that after ten years of schooling, you have Matriculation exams, then go to college. After four years of college you can take your B. A. and after an extra two years, your M. A. Degree.

The other system is the one which Riaz has followed and in it you have ten years of school as in the other one, after which you get a School Certificate. Then you work for two years for a Higher School Certificate. After this certificate you have one and one-quarter years before college graduation.

Urdu is the national language of Pakistan. You write from right to left and it more or less character writing. Riaz learned English in school from the time he was about eleven and he is very proficient in it. He says that he has little difficulty in it and only a very few of the slang expressions puzzle him. He thinks the people here are very friendly and he is enjoying his visit.

Pace Starts New Plan Of Study

"Earn as You Learn", a new program of secretarial studies at Pace College, will be inaugurated when the spring semester opens on February 5, it was announced today by Dr. J. Howard Nelson, Chairman of the Secretarial Studies Department at Pace. The program will give qualified men and women students an opportunity to attend classes in the morning and be employed in the afternoon.

Planned to help relieve the shortage of trained personnel in secretarial and allied fields, the "Earn as You Learn" program will offer both training and work experience. A number of students will be employed in the college offices, according to Dr. Nelson. The others will be helped in obtaining work in neighboring business firms of the downtown Manhattan area.

Upon completion of the one-year course of study, students will be assisted in finding employment by the Placement Office, a service of Pace College.

A Correction

In the December 14 issue of the Port Weekly, the staff made an error in stating that James Roberts had been chosen as Carnival Chairman. Although he is one of the candidates, a final selection of the chairman will not be made until the end of the month.

Art Classes Make 'Mikado' Scenery

Rehearsals for the production of "The Mikado", which is to be staged January 31, February 1, and February 2 at Port High, are moving vigorously forward. The members of the chorus had two special rehearsals on the music during the Christmas Holidays. The principals have been rehearsing daily after school since November, and they are setting a pace that makes it imperative that the chorus members work hard in order to keep their important part of the operetta abreast of the rest of the production.

Mr. Reppeteaux's eighth period Advanced Art class is working on the stage settings for the operetta. All of the action of "The Mikado" takes place at Ko-Ko's residence in Titipu. The first act takes place in Ko-Ko's courtyard, the second takes place in Ko-Ko's garden. Both of these stage sets were designed by Sylvia Troiano, and they both carry out the Japanese theme of the operetta through the use of Japanese Cherry Trees, pagodas, and the like. On Monday of this week the entire eighth period art class began building and painting the sets on the stage of the auditorium.

It is interesting to note here that Mr. Reppeteaux has been associated with "The Mikado" before coming to Port High. While living in Seattle, Washington he sang the roles of Ko-Ko and the Mikado with the Lyric Light Opera Company of Seattle. This group is a touring opera company of the Northwest. While with this group, Mr. Reppeteaux also designed some stage sets for them. His previous association with "The Mikado" has enabled Mr. Reppeteaux to make a fine contribution to the forthcoming production at Port High.

Mind Your Manners

It is not often that a person can notice the poor manners in himself but it is very easy for him to notice them in other people. A few students, observing the manners around our high school, have been shocked to see how disreputable they are. Although the boys seem to be the worst offenders, there are many girls who could also learn a few lessons. Perhaps, this stems from the fact that everyone wants to be one of the crowd and feels strange and left out if he tries to be polite to a girl. The current trend seems to be this "he-man stuff". Of course, this does not mean that all the students in Port High are forever carrying on in an obnoxious fashion. However, what boy ever opens the door for a girl, stands up when an adult woman enters the room, helps a girl on with her coat, carries a girl's books, walks on the outside of the street and speaks respectfully to the girls? Then, of course, not to make the boys seem entirely in the wrong, they just don't inspire and expect this kind of gentlemanly treatment. For it is the girls who can make the boys do and act the ways of a gentleman. If they refuse to enter a room unless the boy opened the door, if they hold the coat out for the boy to put on, and if they simply step conspicuously to the inside when walking with a boy, perhaps this situation could be altered. Therefore for the honor of school and the female sex, please let's "mind our manners".

By Charlotte Bottinger

Now that the Volleyball season is over, I will give you a review of what went on during the season. Class teams were chosen from all those girls who came out for volleyball. Since there were so many sophomores, two teams had to be chosen for them. All of the teams were as follows: seniors—P. McCormack, C. Carpenter, S. Tiley, J. Volpe, R. Lamazzo, D. Bottinger, J. Marsh, D. Mauser, D. Antmantis, A. MacElwaine, C. Sozzi. C. Logan, N. Carment, S. Innes, B. Ingalls, N. Kalfaian, M. Horowitz; juniors—H. Candela, P. O'Brien, C. Knobloch, R. Sontum, B. Colon, C. Bottinger, D. Cornwall, M. Mackey, P. Cooper, G. Christiansen, S. Brownlee, J. Marino, A. Anschutz; sophs 1—L. Schneelock, DeMar, McKelvey, Driscoll, Smith, Copp, McElwaine, Cunningham, Tapsall, Steiner, Hall, Hoffer, Beck; sophs 2 — Blanc, Ehlert, Lenz, Mamet, Balducci, Adami, Lipton, Brooks, Buckley, Stumpf, Guerry, Roper, Litchfield.

The class teams first played against Manhasset on our own courts. The seniors and juniors came out victorious, but the soph team lost. The following week we took the bus over to Great Neck and took a pretty bad beating. The next day the Blue and White teams were chosen.

This year the Blues came out victorious but by a very small margin. A few days later the class teams played their final game against Hicksville. The class team captains were elected; Dot Bottinger was elected captain for the seniors and Charlotte Bottinger was elected captain for the juniors.

Now that volleyball has been finished, basketball comes into the picture. Sue Tiley is the manager of this sport. The first practice was held this week and practices will be held every Tuesday and Thursday for the remainder of the season.

College Boards

Saturday, January 12, will see many a senior taking the first part of the college board examinations. The majority of Port candidates will take their tests in Manhasset. Other near-by centers for the January exams are Garden City, Hempstead, and Great Neck. While most of the students will take only the scholastic aptitude test, there will be a few who will also take the achievement tests. To all those who will be tested, good luck!

Driving Tests

This past week has been a hectic one for Mr. Smith's driving students. What with final exams, registering at Mineola, and the actual driving tests, we can well imagine the reasons for so many jangled nerves. However, we're sure that all the prospective drivers have an excellent training under the guidance of Mr. Smith, and we're equally certain that before long the students will become very skilled.

Pearls of Wisdom

Nina Kalfaian, on going steady: "If he can go out with the boys, why can't I?"

Club Pictures

Last Monday Mr. Terzian began taking pictures for the activity section of the yearbook. This year instead of having the club members just sit for the pictures, each club will strike a pose depictive of the activities of the club. The Art and Layout staff suggested this idea to make the current yearbook more novel and interesting.

Clio

At the next monthly meeting of Clio, the members of the club are certain to sit up and take notice, because the topic is one that concerns most of the students graduating from high school. "Should Eighteen Year Old Boys be Allowed to Vote" was the topic selected. Those expounding on this subject will be Olga Osterholm, Denis Brady, Bill Levine and Bill Cunningham. It is hoped that this meeting will not turn into a regular riot.

A Happy Latin?

With Hallowe'en so far off, it seemed strange to see Olga Osterholm running wildly through the halls in search of a sheet. After a Congressional investigation we finally learned that she was only in search of a toga for the Latin Club picture.

Forum in Assembly

Sometime in the near future a forum will be presented in Assembly. The topic under discussion will be "Cheating and Athletic Participation". This is a subject currently under much debate and of a great concern to parents and students of Port Washington High.

Well, kids, you all really out-did yourselves with dates and parties over the holidays. Nobody got much sleep but everyone had lots of fun.

Aliga Phi and Alpha Omega had their annual dance at the Riviera. Seen their raising the roof were Dee Dee and Bob, Cris and Peter, Fay Spratt and Dick Fraser, Joyce Weber and Billy Lewis, Nancy and Steve, Lee Ann and Jack Barbara Wheeler and Stretch, Dodie and Jimmy Roberts, Dot Tiemann and John Bollinger, Judy Neely and Tommy Hines, Connie and George, Nina Stephenson and Jack Schmieg, Jo-Ann Ford and Mike McGrady, Ann Hoins and Fred Duell, Dot Breska and Bob Davis, Dot De-Meo and Bob Micklin, Marilyn Moore and Chicken, Marile and Len Jacoby, Pat Haron and Eddie, Myrna and Buddy Waters, Bobbie Millman and Ken Weiss, (Colgate) Jeanne Mundschenk and Al La Pera, Catherine Monturi and Mike Mc Cormick, Marge Hazard and Mac, Annabelle Sloane and George Adami, Sally Enscoe and Dick Finaly, Jane Penny and Pete Horr, Joyce Crooker and Bill Accola, Marge Mackey and Ken Stuart, Babs Trend and Tom Mackey, Diane and Josh, Cookie and Chick Wood, Joyce and Randy, Leona and Bill Brown, Carmella Papsedero and Bob Intermesoli, Arline and Bial, Barbara Pollack and Walt, Jean McGregor and Pieter, Jan Ackerly and Don Easterly (Manhasset) Joyce Nystrom and Malcolm Hill, Tommy Orr and Dwight Gibb, Judy Westrom and Fritzzy Schnieder, Nancy Ramey and Skippy Crampton, Joan Marsh and Jimmy Head.

Several people entertained at dinner parties before this dance. The kids at Joy Burroughs' were Joy and Randy Dietz, Pete and Cris, Nina Stephenson and Jack Schmieg, Jan Ackerly and Don Easterly (Manhasset) Dodie Oltarsh and Jim Roberts, Ann Hoins and Fred Duell, Leona Doyle and Bill Brown.

Dick finaly had a twenty-first birthday dinner party. His guests were Sally Enscoe, Jane Penney and Pete Horr, Genevieve Schmidt and Jack O'Mara, and Lee Ann and Jack.

Dodie Oltarsh had a small slumber party after the dance. The early morning birds were Joy Eurrroughs, Judy Neely, Dee Dee, Cris, Dot Tiemann.

The Manhasset Bay Yacht Club held a big dance the night after the Riviera Dance. Some of the people seen there with their eyes half closed were Ann Hoins and Ron Grimm (Chaminade), V-Ann Klumpp and John Hiebert (Choate), Cris and Pete, Dee Dee and Bob, Judy Neely and Tom Hines, Toni Monetti and Bill Davis, Marni and Brother, Fay Spratt and Dick Fraser, Nancy McDonough and Steve Taylor, Dodie Oltarsh and Ed Whitney, Joyce Weber and Bill Lewis, Barbara Ingalls and Bob Gallaway, Nina Kalfaian and Don Stein, Irene Rice and Curt Scott; and Tommy Orr was there with a boy from out of town.

Well, we're finally up to New Years Eve. As usual there were several parties. Joan Gerken had a small party. Seen there were Louis Rowley and Joan, Edna Gliosca and Peter Phelps, Charlotte Bottinger and Charlie Warmuth (Great Neck), Janet Clugston and Alan Ward, Mary Fritz and Jim Streuer (M.I.T.), Roberta Geasling and Wally Fearon, and Jean Gancher and Bill Bowman.

Katherine Bradley was hostess to Bob Herring, Barry Wood and Kip Fried, Nancy Cunningham and Bill Brown, Mickey Compere and Doug Murray, Marilyn Fanshawe and Riggy, Barbara Beals and Louis Cozza, Linda Pollack and Richard Ambler.

Bill Chapman also had a Party. Some of the many kids there were Bill and a girl from out of town, Irene Rice and Eddie Sloane, Annabelle Sloane and George Adami, Arline and Bial, Eleanor and Billy, Betsy Hocter and Jimmy Murray, Pat Haron and Eddie, Marile and Len Jacoby, Myrna and Bob Kull, Carolyn Gaita and Jimmy Hehn, Joan Brooks and Dave Palmer, Linda Schneelock and Tom Christie (now going steady-congrats) Dizzy Fisher and Pete Hunter, Barbara Pollack and Walt Palawcky, Barbara Wheeler and Stretch.

Seen at Mike Aufiero's were Mike and Joyce Crooker, Pat Cooper and Pete Horr, Nancy Ramey and Skippy Crampton plus other kids from out of town.

Another party was given by Marni and Brother, Dizzy Fisher and Pete Hunter, Carolyn Gaita and Jim Hehn, Linda Schneelock and Tom Christie, Joan Brooks and Dave Palmer, and Denyse Duval and Dick Staggs were seen roaming around there.

Dave Hess also entertained a small group at his home. Some of the couples were Dave and Jeanne Mundschenk, Leona Doyle and Fred Johnson, Cris and Pete, Jane Litchfield and Langdon, Connie Sozzi and George, and Judy and Tom Hines.

There was a small party at Chick Wood's house also. Roaming around were host and Dot Tiemann, Dee Dee and Bob, Cookie Knobloch and Ted Gohn, V-Ann Klumpp and Fred Duell, Anne Guerry and John Nolan, Cris and Pete, Judy Neely and Tom Hines.

Elinor Mallon and Galvin Murphy (Bayside) and Jean Mosher and Tom Peterson (Bayside) all went to a big shindig in Bayside on New Year's Eve.

Dick Fraser opened his home to the public on New Year's Eve., (or so it seemed) Everyone in town stopped in there for at least a few moments to celebrate the coming of the New Year. It was quite a party. . . . ask anyone who was there!

Friday night was our first basket ball game of the new year and unfortunately we lost. Oh, well we'll do better next time. Some of the dates at the game were: Jean McGregor and Pete Paulding, Connie Sozzi and George Trebing, Cris and Pete, Marge Ingley and Joop Mossel, Judy Neely and Tom Hines, Jane Litchfield and Langdon Cutright.

Tom Hines had a small party after the game. The kids seen there toasting by the fire were host Tom and Judy Neely, Cris and Pete, Margot Lenke and Fred Duell, Jane Litchfield and Langdon Cutright, Connie and George, Joyce Nystrom and Macky Hill, Jean McGregor and Pete Paulding, Sandra Ingram and Fred Johnson.

There didn't seem to be much going on Saturday night but we did notice some kids over in Manhasset bowling. It's getting to be quite a favorite pastime. There ought to be some improvement in some of these scores soon.

Also Saturday night Dot Tiemann and Chick Wood, and Bob went down to play Monopoly at Dee Dee's. Dee Dee's getting quite

League Debut

Last year's staunch basketball rooters will remember that it was Mineola who gave Port the most trouble and the Blue and White's only league setback. Well, the Maroon quintet was at it again; this time not just a little trouble, but instead more trouble than Coach Costello and his boys could handle. The opener, played in Port's Gym, was a game until the fourth quarter when Mineola ran havoc, scoring 22 points.

Mertz

When Ernie Jackson scored the home team's first bucket Mineola had already racked up nine points. The Blue and White held Mineola scoreless the rest of the quarter and came back with five of their own. Early in the second quarter Carl Booker started Port rolling, stealing three passes. The Clamdiggers finally caught up at 11-11. Midway through the quarter the score was knotted at 15-15 and again at 19-19 at the end of the half. Port jumped to a quick lead in the second half aided by the best play of the game executed by George Adami. He grabbed a rebound off the Mineola boards, started dribbling, and tripped and fell. Just before hitting the floor he flipped the ball half the length of the court to J. R. Laucella, who tallied on the fast break. Late in that period the Maroon took back the lead, never to relinquish it. In the last period Coach Costello took out Booker and Jackson, apparently to rest them. While they were out Coach Bruce Gerke's boys scored six points. They scored seven more to lead by twelve before Port could regain its footing with its two stars back in the game. The damage had been done and it was only a matter of time until the final buzzer sounded and Mineola had its first win, 53-41.

Port did show flashes of brilliance early in the game defensively. The Blue and White's collapsing zone defense, forcing Mineola to throw the ball away, helped to throw them off pace. Several times they had difficulty in getting the ball over the ten second line. Bill Going was high scorer with 15 points; Ernie Jackson racked up the most for Port, 14 points.

Fifty Percent

The varsity couldn't come up with a win so a little earlier in the evening the J. V. marked up one on the right side of the ledger. Mr. Horton's five swamped the Mineola crew by a lopsided 48-32 score. Port started quickly leaving the Maroons at the gate. Mineola threw the ball away and had it stolen many times, because of Port's superior defense. Paul Boehm was high scorer with 14 points; Gene Santicioli racked up 12 points.

Things to Come

Next week Port ventures away from home to Manhasset. The Indians also started their season with a loss, but in a much closer game (one basket difference). Manhasset doesn't look to be any sensation this year, but they're scrappy and have a scoring threat in Jimmy Brown. Remember YOUR support will help! See you there.
