Rohloff Competes In French Exam.

The National French Test sponsored by the American Association of Teachers was held on April 27 and 28. The student who was eligible to enter the Oral Contest from Miss Buckley's French 1 classes was Wilma Rohloff. Wilma was invited to attend Adelphi College on May 15, with delegates from other schools all over Long Island. There were 1946 entries from 31 schools all over the Island. Wilma was chosen because of her score which was satisfactory.

Wilma is formerly from New York City. This is her first year at a Port school. In New York she attended the N. Y. Junior High School 96.

Student Of Week

In the annual G. O. elections on April 26, the students of Port High elected a charming blonde sophomore to the office of secretary. Joan Brooks is certainly capable of fulfilling the responsibility the students have placed in her by electing her to this post. While in junior high school, Joan displayed her leadership and citizenship by participating in most of the student council activities. As an eighth grader she was secretary-treasurer of the school, and in ninth-grade she was president of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Joan Brooks

While in senior high school, Joan has actively participated in most extra-curricular activities. She is a member of the tumbling club, and took part in most of the sports this winter. Although sports, coupled with various other interests, consume much of her time, Joan is sure that they will not interfere with the execution of her duties as secretary.

3rd H.S. Carnival Spotlights Big Top

In just one week from tomorrow, weather permitting, Port Washington High School will present its third annual carnival on the high school athletic field. All proceeds of this carnival as in the preceding years, will go to a scholarship fund for the deserving students.

Aside from usual type of booths run by the different homerooms, a few new attractions have been added this spring. One of the main attractions will be a circus. This will include such features as clowns, tumblers, a magician, fortune teller, and many other circus novelties including perhaps a side show. This show will be given at different intervals during the day, lasting from thirty to forty minutes. There will also be a faculty show, though only one will be presented sometime in the afternoon.

At 2:30 in the afternoon there will be a yo-yo contest open to all ages and sizes. This contest will be divided in the number of categories necessary to accommodate the contestants. A cotton candy machine has also been purchased for the great day.

In addition to these extra-attractions the carnival will include the usual features such as the House of Horrors, the pet parade, and the bicycle parade. In the evening, Miss Carnival will be chosen by a beauty contest; the drawing of the chances, a band concert, and dancing on the tennis courts will be the other features in the evening.

Mr. Hendrickson, the power behind the carnival, feels that for the success of the carnival, a greater cooperation between the students and the homerooms is needed.

Modern Dance Club Presents Recital In Auditorium Tonight

Tonight at 8:30, the modern dancing classes will again put on their annual recital in the high school auditorium. Under the direction of Miss Foehrenbach the girls have been preparing for this big event since the beginning of the school year.

The entrance which includes numbers from all classes is a South American theme called "South American Slants". The Sophomore number is "Freedom Seekers", the junior number, "Sibony", and the senior number, "Shadrach". Sandwiched in between these attractions are "Dangerous Dan", "Date Time", "Waltzing Cats", and a new type of dance evolved from a poem with no music, "Steel", starring Dorin Oltarsh.

The big number of the evening is "The Sacrifice", a story revolving around a jungle legend. This feature stars Sally Robertson and Lee Ann McGrath, the two modern dancing managers, and Nancy McDonough.

As a special feature of the evening, Audrey Neumann, an alumna of Port High, and a modern dancer of no small talent, will dance a special number.

H.S. Pupils View Student Problems

On Thursday, May 6, five students including Barbara Lyncn, Leonard Jacopy, Jay Greene, Preston Pumphrey, and Janet Kuhl attended a conference at Columbia University to discuss the problems pertinent to the average high schools in the metropolitan area. This conference was held under the auspices of the Metropolitan School Study Council.

The day opened at 10:30 with an address by Dr. Dan Dodson, on the different topics under discussion. A brief question and answer period was followed by a crowded and hazardous lunch in the school lunchroom. Immediately afterward, the large group of over two hundred students broke up into small discussion groups. The topics that were on the agenda were School Spirit, Discrimination, Cliques, Cheating, The 3R's vs. Extra Curricular Activities, Teen-age, Parent Relationships, Academic vs. Vocational, and last but not least School-Community Relationships. After the groups reported back to the auditorium a brief summary of all the groups was given before the entire audience in an effort to acquaint the entire group with the prob-l ms and the various solutions to these problems. Don Dawidoff, the students chairman, closed the meeting at 3:00.

In an attempt to bring about some of the improvements specified at the meeting, a report will be sent out to the different schools with the recommendations of the committee.

Band And Orch. Take Top Honors

On May 10 Port Washington was excellently represeited when the Port Washington High School Band and the All School Orchestra plus many soloists and ensembles competed at tne New York State School Musical Association Competition Festival which was held at Bay Shore, Long Island. The band competed in grade six and received an A rating for their performance of "Emblem of Unity March", by J. J. Richards; "The First Movement from the Second Symphony", by Borodin; and "Sympho-

Stanley Wins Jr. Red Domino Prize

Last Thursday the Junior Red Domino presented a talent show in assembly. Katharine Bradley, the president of this organization, awarded Charles Stanley the first prize of five dollars for singing "Jump Through the Ring".

The second and third prizes were awarded respectively to Henry Bagienski for his rendition of "Dance Me Loose" and Tom Dumpson who whistled "Please Mr. Sun". The other participants were Sandra Fitz, Barbara Colon, Shirley Crooker, Frances Clyde, Carol Spenard, Olga Osterholm, Riggy Wile and Laurie Newbold.

Denis Brady, an active member of Red Domino, presided as master of ceremonies and the judges were Nicky Carment representing the senior class, Nunzio Caparella representing the juniors and Ernie Jackson representing the sophomore class.

The Home Stretch

'...And now they're swinging into the home stretch. It's been a tough race, and the outcome will be decided soon. And here they come!"

With words similar to these, Clem MacCarthy described the closing moments of the Kentucky Derby. The home stretch, the part of the race just before the finish, was the most important part of the whole running. During this time, a horse which had quietly remained behind surged ahead to win the horseshoe of roses.

The home stretch of the Kentucky Derby is very similar to the last marking period of the school year. During this time you can still apply yourself to your work and gallop ahead to finish the race in a blaze of glory. Or you can blow a good lead and lose the race entirely. While in the home stretch you can, theoretically, make up for all the mistakes you made previously. Actually, of course, no amount of hard work during the last marking period can make up for a poor start. Very often, however, hard work and serious application at the end will make a big difference. Furthermore, no matter how well you do in the beginning, a sloppy finish will hurt. The home stretch is certainly important; more important that the people who'd like to coast along during this time would care to think.

Bogart Comm. To Give Scholarships

Each year, a committee, composed of three members of the Board of Education in collaboration with the Superintendent and the Principal of the high school, selects those persons from among the graduating class who, in their estimation, have best merited the award of a Bogart Scholarship.

The recipient of a Bogart Scholarship has the privilege of completing the four years of advanced study at anytime within six years from the date of the award. It is further specified that the holder of the scholarship must present the first coupon for payment within two years of the date of award.

In determining the rating for each subject the grade for subject mastery and for attitudes shall be given equal consideration and the single average of the two ratings shall be weighed in proportion to the unit value of the subject.

The number of points to be allowed for the quality of scholastic work shall be as follows:

A maximum of 75 points to be allowed for the general average of 1.

A maximum of 50 points to be allowed for the general average of 2.

A maximum of 25 points to be allowed for the general average of 3.

A maximum of 0 points to be allowed for a general average of below 3.

The scholarship points shall be prorated for fractional ratings.

Loyalty and service to the school:

A. Athletics:

1. One-half point shall be allowed for each athletic letter earned.

2. One-quarter point shall be allowed to each pupil who is a member of a varsity athletic squad for a whole season but who does not earn a letter.

3. One-quarter point shall be allowed each pupil who earns class numerals in athletic competition.

B. Non-athletic activities:

1. Dramatic and public speaking—maximum one point per year.

2. Journalistic activities—maximum one point per year for work on any publication.

The total allowance for non-athletic activities shall not exceed 10 points.

Personal Qualities:

Under this head shall be considered the personality of the pupil as a whole. Conduct, industry, initiative, ambition, good

Correction

The senior graduation dance on June 23 will not be formal as was stated in last week's Port Weekly. Instead, it will be semi-formal. It promises to be a really memorable affair, so keep posted for further details about the dance.

Well, we scraped up all the news we could for last weekend and here we are with all the dirt.

Friday night Ione Newbold and Tiny McDonald, Jean McGregor and Pete Paulding, and Marnie McCarthy and Al DeMeo went to the Port movies.

Friday night Dot Breska went to Princeton as George Shaver's date and Sally Enscoe went to Cornell to see Sam Lichlider. Sally Robertson and Marilyn Moore spent the weekend at Clarkson.

Saturday Night Pete Mertz, Dee Dee and Bob Price went to visit Cris for the evening.

The same night, the Manhasset movies did a booming business from the Port kids. Seen there were Carolyn Gaita and Pete Newkirk, Irene Rice and Jimmy Hehn, Linda Schneelock and Tom Christie, Joan Brooks and Dave Palmer, Cookie Knoblock and Jimmy Ballard, Jane Litchfield and Pete Hunter and Annabelle Sloane and Pete Walters.

Also Saturday night Randy Dietz had a small dinner party.

Seen having lots of fun were Joyce Burroughs and Randy, Pat McCormack and Joe Todd (Brooklyn Prep), Leona Doyle and Kip Fried, Connie Sozzi and Marty Taddler (Brooklyn Prep), Dizzy Fisher and George Treoing and Margot Lenke and Chick Wood.

Fay Spratt, Suzy Blair and Lee Ann McGrath all had dates with some friends of Mr. Blair's from the Military Academy in Peru.

Rose Lamazzo went to the Phi Gamma House at Johns Hopkins University with Carl from the Bronx.

Bobbie Newman and Hugh Newman (no relation) went dining and dancing in Freeport Saturday night. Also, the same night, Nina Randall went to the Military Dance at the Garden City Hotel with Pete Spears from Holland.

Jan Kuhl and Denis Brady, Nancy Stover and Preston Pumphrey and Jan Ackerly had dates for Mrs. Reid's Dancing Recital. After the dancing recital Saturday night Diane Mauro had Diane Pederson, Debbie Terry, Patty Galleger, Epom, Red Gaffney, Tom Drumm, Tommy Hartigan and Paul Salinder over to her house for something to eat.

Sunday afternoon Kay Bradley and Roger Irving, Jean McGregor and Pete Paulding and Ione Newbold and Tiny McDonald went bowling in Manhasset.

That's all for now, kiddos, so long!

Report Card Day Blues

My life is sorry, my life is hard
My life is wrecked by a little card
My hope is shattered, my future's dark
Oh, why did I get such an awful mark?
Why has my average toppled and sunk?
Why, oh why, did I have to flunk?
That teacher really isn't fair,
He acts as tough as a grizzly bear.
Give me air, and give me room,
And let my temper rage and fume.
I may deserve this failure. But—
Someone's throat will soon be cut.
That teacher will soon bear my assault.
Of course, you know, it's all HIS fault.

Nut Notes

How to Say Nothing in 500 Words

We are viewing with alarm the situation that many of our students are viewing with alarm the situation that many are viewing with alarm the situation. No, Linda Pollock, I am not practicing on my Royal. Are you doing YOUR share? Are you pitching in and spurring your school to victory over the forces of violence and intolerence in order to bring about a Better World? Hmmmm? Well, to tell you the truth, I'm not either. No one is. Not one single person. Isn't that awful? Which brings me to the subject of my talk—"The Hemophilic's Role in the Modern World". Are you a nemophilic? Consider yourself lucky. Give to this noble cause! Give! Give! Give until it hurts! Remember the name —the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Sophomores! Forget everything that is past—after all, we Americans like only one thing better than knocking down our enemies, and that's helping them back up again.

Of course, some people may not agree with my learned opinion but that is only a sign of their ignorance. Personally, I think they are nuts. All the way through. Right down to the core! Right now J. R. is breathing down my neck and I suppose that if I don't say something nice about him he will take out his Bowie knife and go to work on my throat. All right. He is terrific. There. I said it and I'm glad.

In closing, I should like to thank the nominating committee for nominating me. I promise that if I am elected I will work to the very best of my ability. And that is all anyone can promise. When you step into that voting booth, think about the various candidates and their qualifications, and then vote the way you think is best. I'm sure that you will vote for the Paranoia Party — Leonard Jacoby for Hesitant, David Runyon for Left Tackle, Me for Water Boy, Alben Barkley for Secretary-Treasurer, Nancy Pickett for Resident Surgeon, Jinx Faulkenberg McCrary for Mother-of-the-Year, General MacArthur for Vice-President, and Sandra Madeheim for Rear Snowshoe. Thank You!

ny No. 1 in C Minor", by Ernest Williams.

The orchestra competed in grade four and also received an A rating for their performance of "Triumphal March" from "Siguid Jorsalfar", by Edward Greig; "Five Russian Melodies", by Gesenway, and "Port Royal Suite 1861", from music by George McKay of the Americas.

Both Mr. Christopher and Mr. Mesrobian were very pleased with the outcome of the day's events. Mr. Christopher said, "As supervisor of music in Port Washington schools, I am very proud of our large and successful participation in the competition festival at Bay Shore. The large organization, the ensembles, and all the soloists deserve praise for the many extra hours of practice. I sincerely hope that everyone feels that he or she is a better performer and a better person for having made such preparation.

"As conductor of the band, I am deeply grateful to every member for the outstanding performance and the extra rehearsals that they made possible. I rank Saturday's audition among the best of the past decade and it is needless for me to attempt expressing my happiness concerning it.

"My sincere thanks to everybody including the parents and our administrators who have continued to lend their strong support."

Mr. Mesrobian said, "Our All School Orchestra came through once again with an outstanding performance at the New York State School Music Association Competition Festival. Receiving an A rating means more than just a fine music performance. It is a tribute to the earnest cooperative effort of young people who are willing to give so much time and energy to accomplish a lofty aim."

Mr. Christopher and Mr. Mesrobian deserve credit and sincere thanks for the hard work and many hours that they gave in order to make the band and orchestra successful. The officers who have served the band and orchestra this year are: John Nolan, president; Fred Lewis, vice-president; Barbara Wheeler, secretary. Orchestra officers are Ted Kuczniski, president; Barbara Wheeler, secretary.

Still Five Hundred

The Port stickmen having added two more games to the records are still right around the middle of the pack with two wins and two losses. By today the Seebermen will have played Glen Cove again but the results weren't known at press time. Tnis afternoon the Portmen invade Garden City to try to pull a repeat of the first game with the Trojans when the former, behind Bill Jankowski, slaughtered the latter, 13-3.

Mertz

On Tuesday Port entertained Great Neck, but the Blazers brought their own fireworks to make it hot for their hosts. For Port Dick Wood started, but was able to last only 2/3 of an inning; Tom Dumpson came in to put out the fire, but when the smoke had settled the visitors had tallied a half a dozen runs on only two hits. Port tried hard to get back in the ball game, scoring two in the first, one in the second and two in the third off Benjamin, but Ray Dempsey came in to slam the door on any further scoring. The Blazers scored a single tallly in the fourth to put the game on ice. The two visiting pitchers gave up only one hit (Lanciki). Port's runs were scored by: Canale, Dumpson, Wood, Adami, and Girardin.

Great Neck	6	0	0	1	0	0	—5	7	4
Port Wash.	2	1	2	0	0	0	—1	5	1

The Port-Mineola game was quite a different story. Jankowski went all the way as did Benincasa for the countyseaters. The hometown Mineola gang drew first blood in the second inning when after a single, their pitcher, looking to win his own game, belted a homer. However, Port had different ideas. In the fourth they scored three when Cosolito tripled, Dumpson walked, Jackson was safe on a fielders choice and Adami singled. The next inning they racked up a couple more to salt the game away when Dellavechia reached base safely, Cosolito again tripled and Jackson laid in a single.

On the Cinders

Last Saturday schools from all over Nassau County came to Sewannaka to compete in the Nassau Relays. Port entered two relay teams, one in the 440 relay and the other in the Medley (220, 440, 880 and mile).

In the 440, the team of Felix Oliva, Carl Booker, Charley Stanley and Pete Mertz not only won the event handily but erased Roslyn's old record of 46.6 by 1.3 seconds, thus establishing a new mark of 45.3 seconds.

The medley team didn't fare so well, though, finishing last in a field of four.

Westbury, who entered their relay team in the 880, won handily in the very snappy time of 1:34.6. It will be this Westbury team that will offer the chief competition for Port in the North Shore.

Last Wednesday Port entertained Glen Cove and Hicksville in a triangular track meet. Coach Costello's boys didn't act the part of the perfect host very well, trouncing the visitors 72 1/2 to the Cover's 45 1/2 to 14 for Hicksville. Oliva and Mertz took the first two slots in the century and then came back to break the tape together in the furlong. Newbold grabbed fourth in the 440. Seddon won the 880 with Bill and Bob Cunningham cleaning up third and fourth. Greene and Ambler took second and fourth in the mile. Booker won the broadjump while Seddon took fourth. Stanley placed second and Brown tied for third in the highjump. Cella and Meyer cleaned up the pole vault. Dell, Cichanowski and Liepins swept the shot put, while the same boys placed one, three and four in the discus. The relay team kept its record unblemished by finishing forty yards to the good.

In the Schedule

For the track team this week may be summed up "North Shore". By today the trials will have all been run off at Hicksville; then tomorrow the finals are set to go. The same twelve teams will be represented at this meet that were at the Port Invitation. The only difference in the two meets is that tomorrow's meet decides which individuals go on to the Nassau meet next Saturday. If the results are the same as those of the Invitation, Port will send four men, Booker in the broadjump, Oliva in the hundred, Mertz in the 220 and Dell in the shot put, and the relay team. However, if Seddon and Cichanowski can put their fourths up to thirds they should be slated to go, too. Only time will tell.

Softball

The softball club got off to a late start this year but it is now in full swing. This year the club is being coached by Miss Olivia, a student teacher from Hunter College. Last Thursday the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams were chosen. They are as follows:

Varsity: Pitchers—J. Marino and P. McCormick; Catcher—C. Carpenter; 1st Base — N. Copp; 2nd Base—Pat O'Brien; 3rd Base—L. Kramer; Shortstop—J. Volpe; Left Field—G. Christensen; Center Field—R. Lamazzo; Right Field—C. Almann.

Both teams played their first games with Friends Academy on Tuesday.

Modern Dance

Months of hard work and lots of fun will come to an end tonight for the members of the Modern Dance Club. The annual Modern Dance recital will be held in the school auditorium tonight and will start at 8:30 p.m. Our congratulations go to: the managers, Sally Robertson and Lee Ann McGrath and Miss F. for the fine job they have done with this group.

We'll be seeing you all at the recital tonight.
