Springfield, Massachusetts. He received his Bachelor's Degree at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and his Master's at Hempden College of Pharmacy. When asked what impressed him most about PDSHS, Mr. Savage remarked, "I like the pleasant atmosphere that PDSHS radiates and I feel sure that the fine quality of the students will show in their work." Mr. Savage has no definite plans for the immediate future. "If anything," he said, I will attempt to get my Doctor's Degree."

Mr. Scott, the new history teacher, attended Horace Greeley High School in Chappaqua, Friday, September 24, 1954

Red Domino

Red Domino, the dramatic club of Port Senior High, had its first meeting of the school year on September 16. The officers are president, Ann Segrave; vice-president, Nancy Walker and secretary - treasurer, Judy Barsky.

The Theater Club, started by Red Domino, is open to all stu-dents and plans to attend various Broadway plays throughout this year. This club is a revival of the activity of the same name that was in operation a few years ago. The newly elected officers are president, Richard Newman and secretary, Don Zurwelle. On October 30, the Inter-Class plays will be presented. The sophomore play is being directed by Cary Ann Whitmore and Chris Drake: the junior play by Barbara Clark and Nancy Pond; and the senior play by Ginger Stein and Dina Mori.

Altman Board

PDSHS's representatives to the Altman Junior Advisory Board are Jane Protzman, Anne Betts and Mary Pisarelli. Alternates are Dina Mori and Judy Barsky. Ralph Deater represents the boys. Any other senior boy wishing to join is asked to see Mrs. Barnhar in the guidance office. Once a month on Saturday 4 students from each high school on the North Shore meet to discuss and criticize the clothes selected and modeled by one of the group. Mrs. McDougal, well known fashion coordinator, supervises them.

Celerity

Celerity. PDSHS's honorary organization for girls, held its first meeting on Sept. 15. The tea for sophomore girls, which is to be held this coming Monday, was discussed. At the tea, each club of Port High will be introduced by one of the Celerity members.

Iowa Tests

This week the Guidance Department administered Iowa State Tests to all sophomores, new juniors, and all seniors. The sophomores and juniors took the tests Monday and Wednesday while the seniors took them on Tuesday and Thursday.

The purpose of taking the Iowa Tests is to show the student fields hold the greatest which possibilities for career opportunities.

New York. He attended Cornell, Colgate, and Harvard universities in earning his Master's Degree. Mr. Scott made note of the fact that before becoming a teacher, he was a "dairy farm boy." Mr. Scott commented, was most impressed with the

Support The G.O.

Supporting the student government is the duty that tops the list of a school-spirited student.

Unlike some schools, our school is fortunate in having an organization where the opinions of the individual student can be voiced. Therefore, every pupil should do his best for the student government. The representatives to the student council are chosen by the students; so, after voting them into orfice, you should support the organization of which they are a part.

Buying a G.O. ticket is the best way you can support your student government.

More Than Cheering

With football season upon us the question of school spirit comes up. In recent years many people have voiced the opinion that our school is rather lacking in spirit. They usually refer to the feeble cheers from the stands as an example. But there's more to it than yelling at a game.

Pride in our school and the wish to help its leaders also constitutes school spirit. The reputation of Port High is considered when your character is judged by a college or place of business. A high school is what the students make it. So do your best for Port High because it will be doing you favors long after you leave it.

Welcome, Sophs

Welcome is extended to the largest sophomore class to invade Port High. You may crowd the auditorium and ask a lot of questions, but the upperclassmen are still glad you're here. One of the main reasons is that sophs usually show a lot of spirit and enthusiasm. This year's class looks as though it will live up to this rule.

After a few weeks of getting used to the new routine, you'll find that your original invasion didn't make much of a dent in the school. Only by reaching the glorious status of senior will you, the class of '57, make its mark.
