

The Port Weekly

Vol. XXIX—No. 21

Paul D. Schreiber High School, Port Washington, N. Y., June 3, 1955

PRICE: TEN CENTS

pitching performance
g a good hitting Cover just five hits. Joe had ng strike-out percent-
he game, striking out
f a possible twenty-one tripled to lead off the

ing. But his teammates
t bring him across the t finally scored in the inings when singles by izzi, Lou DiLeo, and farelli resulted in two
he seventh Dickie Mar-
d a triple and scored ay on a throwing error.

Vanity Fair
Beauty Salon
Port Washington Blvd.
PO 7-0081

one Meets Everyone
at
THE ALCOVE"

RE GALLERIES
Bric-a-Brac - Objects of Art
Sales Auction
Street 156 East Main Street
7-1865 Pt. Jefferson 8-1585

Stephen A. Cocks
Inc.
152 Main Street
— BOOKLETS
PROGRAMS

ES?

ompany
t Washington 7-3022

50-50 Shop Donates $500 Scholarship

Sponsored by the Fifty-Fifty Shop executive committee, a five hundred dollar scholarship will be awarded this year to a deserving member of the graduating class interested in teaching. One of the largest of the several grants made available to students by the community, the scholarship may be offered next year if the Fifty-Fifty shop continues to be successful.

Run by the members of the Flower Hill Salem P. T. A., the shop is an outlet for anyone who wishes to sell unwanted articles which are in good condition. The shop receives half of the selling price.

Student of Week

This week's Student of the Week is Barbara Clark, one of the busiest girls in Port High. In addition to her active participation in school affairs, Barbara has maintained a very high scholastic average.

Barbara has been well-known in the dramatic field, joining Junior Red Domino in her sophomore year and Red Domino in her junior year. She was a stage manager for "Last Stop," and in her senior year was co-director of the Junior Class play. Barbara joined the Port Weekly business staff in her sophomore year, became Advertising Manager in her junior year, and Business Manager in her senior year. Other clubs Barbara joined in her eleventh year are Clio, Choir, and Celerity, and in her

Barbara Clark

(Continued on Page 2)

Couples To Dance In 'Sand & The Sea Setting'

The Majorettes

Left to right are Marie DeFeo, Marianne Bisi, Barbara Brindley, Kay Ward, Joan Lingard, Maura Nordquist, and Diana Donald.

Memorial Day Port High's majorettes completed their season by leading the school bands on parade. Kay Ward, head majorette, lead the senior high band, and the sophomore twirlers, with leader Catherine Giagu, marched in front of the junior high band. "I think the majorettes have improved one hundred per cent this year," said Kay Ward, summing up the season. "I am proud of the entire squad and very pleased with their performance at the events we participated in."

Kay Ward, Marie DeFeo, Barbara Brindley, Diana Donald, Joan Lingard, Marianne Bisi and Maura Nordquist, the senior majorettes, have twirled in many

(Continued on Page 3)

Celebrities Attend '55 Senior Banquet

This year's Senior Banquet will be held June 8 from 6:45 to approximately 9:30 in the evening in the cafeteria. All members of the 1955 graduating class are invited to attend.

Besides Mr. Hendrickson and Dr. Hall, it is expected that the other guests will be Martin Block, Murray Kaufman, and Ted Brown and his wife. Highlighting the evening will be the reading of the Class Will and Class Prophecy. Another feature will be the passing out of year-books to all those present. The overall theme of this year's Senior Banquet is Mexican.

Seniors To Dance In Italian Setting

Plans for this year's senior gambol to be held in the gym June 24 are well under way. As usual the gym will be transformed into a night club, the theme of which is "Sunny Italy" featuring such innovations as a coliseum and the Leaning Tower of Pisa. Once again the decorations are being constructed under the direction of the well-known artist, Mr. Dixon Mueller.

To increase the night club atmosphere, two bands, Mel Connor of the Riviera, and the Aristocrats, have been hired. A group of professional entertainers will perform, with Ed Herlihy as master of ceremonies. The food will be served at the tables by a staff of waiters made up of father-volunteers. A number of door prizes will also be given out.

Mr. and Mrs. Deater and Mr. and Mrs. Bowman are co-chairmen. Mrs. Wurtz and Mrs. Durnells are in charge of food; Mrs. McClure, table sitting; Mrs. Whitmore, flowers; and Mrs. Gale, punch.

Mrs. Bowman said, "I hope all the seniors will come and enjoy themselves. Admission is free and dress optional, so will all the seniors please turn out for this, their own graduation celebration?"

Tomorrow night the music of Roy Darnell and his band will fill the cafeteria for the enjoyment of the dancers present. The occasion is the annual Junior Prom, the last school-wide dance of the year. Three dollars a couple will enable the students to dance from 9 o'clock until 1 a.m. Formal dress is required.

Decorations for the affair will follow the theme "The Sand and the Sea." Highlighting the entertainment will be a jazz session by Roy Darnell's band.

Plans for the event were drawn up in advance by committees under the general supervision of Bunny Dervin. The heads of the various committees were Mary Williams, refreshments; Mary Ann Young, tickets; Sally Burdett, entertainment; and Sirje Helder, decorations.

Many of the juniors helped prepare for the dance. Some of these include Joy Lauda, Sue Weidinger, Mary Schlingheyde,

(Continued on Page 3)

H.S. Carnival Nets Largest Profit Ever

Mr. Scott, faculty adviser of this year's Spring Carnival, said, "This carnival has been the greatest financial success in the history of our school."

About $3,700 was taken in this year at the annual Spring Carnival, May 21. Between $2,200 and $2,500 will be the net amount for scholarships to next year's seniors. A separate committee will decide who will receive these scholarships.

Special credit should be given to members of the Carnival committee: Pete Gale, Brooks Dorn, Genie Jacoby, Roger Muschelwhite, and Ray Saulter, and to Cherry McClure and Warren Spence.

- June 4—Junior Prom
Long Island Track
- June 4-5 North Shore Hospital Fair
- June 8—Senior Banquet
- June 10—Senior Skip Day
- June 11—Inter-Sectional Track Meet at Home
- June 16—Awards Assembly
- June 19—Baccalaureate