Abroad at Oxford

by Annette Cafarelli

The promise of a stimulating educational experience was realized on September 12th, when a group of students arrived at Oxford University for a study abroad program. The program is designed to provide students with the opportunity to experience the rich history and culture of Oxford, one of the world's oldest and most prestigious universities.

The program includes a range of activities, such as lectures, seminars, and excursions to historical sites. The students are also expected to participate in academic work, with the opportunity to take courses in a variety of fields.

The program is expected to be a transformative experience for the students, providing them with a unique opportunity to broaden their horizons and gain a deeper understanding of the world.

G.O. Movie Night

The G.O. will sponsor a movie night, featuring the classic film "Casablanca," on September 20th at 7:30 P.M. in the auditorium. The movie will be followed by a discussion and a question-and-answer session with the director, who will be present to answer any questions from the audience.

The screening is open to all students, and attendees are encouraged to dress up in 1940s-style attire.

Electives and Schedules Conflict

The guidance counselors at the school have identified a conflict between the schedule for a new elective course and the existing schedule for other courses. The guidance counselors have recommended that the schedule for the new elective course be adjusted to avoid conflicts with other courses.

The problem is expected to be addressed in the upcoming weeks, with the new schedule to be announced shortly. The guidance counselors are working closely with the administration to ensure that all students are able to access the electives they need to complete their course requirements.

Rodrigo Comes to Schreiber

This year, the American Field Service has brought in a student from Paraguay, Rodrigo, to the school. Rodrigo is from a small town in the province of Misiones, and he is studying business administration at the University of Buenos Aires.

Rodrigo is expected to be a valuable addition to the school community, and he is looking forward to the opportunity to learn more about American culture and to share his own culture with his new peers.

The program is expected to be a transformative experience for Rodrigo, providing him with a unique opportunity to broaden his horizons and gain a deeper understanding of the world.
Revise Suspension Policy

According to our present disciplinary system, you can be legally suspended on two counts for whispering to a friend during class. A look at the Board of Education by-law on suspension and expulsion makes one realize that the present rules are dangerously unclear. We of the Times hope the soon-to-be-elected Student Faculty Board will get to work on changing the jumble of misunderstandings and ambiguities contained in S14A (which deals with suspension and expulsion) so that they will be a meaningful set of rules.

"Suspension may be imposed when other means of correction have failed." The dictionary definition of "may" is "have permission or liberty to." This means that two students could have identical "means of correction" fail, and one might be suspended the other retained simply because one time an administrator took the "liberty" to suspend and the other time he didn't. "...or when keeping the student in school would be detrimental to the general welfare of the school and its students." There are few phrases in the English that compete with "general welfare" for ambiguity. It can cover anything from dropping a paper in the lobby to detonating high explosives in Mr. Allen's office.

The by-law continues in this fine form when it discusses offenses which "may" result in suspension.

"Continued profanity or vulgarity" represents ambiguity at its worst. First, how much "profanity" must one use before it is "continued"? Second, what exactly is "profanity" or "vulgarity"? Again we are faced by a statement in the by-law that hints at almost anything.

We could go on listing other ambiguities in the by-law but that is unnecessary. That they are insufficient is painfully clear. By the way, the two counts of suspension for whispering are:

(1) Unruly behavior—obviously
(2) Harming of other children—depriving your friend of a moment of valuable class time is a previous harm.

Policy Statement

When a group of people organizes to publish a newspaper, they enter into a contract with the public. We of the Times feel that it is our duty to make this contract known to you. While we are in many ways responsible to you, you also owe something to us.

The terms of the contract are simple. We promise to report the news as accurately as possible. It is only in this way that we can be a true newspaper; one which you can trust. Despite some recent criticism, we refuse to let opinion enter our news stories. News-facts—adding opinion to facts—destroys the equation.

Opinion belongs in editorials, features, and news analysis. Here the Times will state responsible views to what we see. We do not purposefully pick fights; we simply comment on important issues.

Letters are a vital part of any paper. We will print any signed letter (names can be withheld) that is not slanderous, libelous, or a personal advertisement for a candidate for school office. Because we are so cramped for space, we reserve the right to cut any letter longer than 250 words.

This is our part of the contract. Yours is to read the Times with an open mind. If both parties uphold their side of the contract, it should be a good year.

This year, Schreiber has hired Mr. Leroy Ramsey, a staff member at Hofstra and Adelphi University as well as a member of the Educational Commission of Human Rights, as a teacher of Black History. Mr. Ramsey will record lectures, books, and other sources of information. "The teacher," said Mrs. Lawrence, chairman of the English Department, "would be the class five periods a week." Under such a plan, but they would not necessarily meet as a class.

Two classes during the same period, each meeting twice a week, could use the same class five periods a week." Under such a plan, but they would not necessarily meet as a class.

This is closely related to the fifth possible change, which is an increase in physical facilities. "The school plans being formulated in the district with respect to physical education," said Mr. Berry. "Our elective program requires this and calls for emphasis on physical education."

"This physical expansion is all part of developing the kind of program where we will have the room and the material for a well-rounded program," said Mr. Berry. "We will have the room and the material for a well-rounded program," said Mr. Berry.

Mrs. Lawrence is very enthusiastic about everything that relates to teaching. As a graduate of both Bachelor of Arts and Master of Education in administration and supervision from Adelphi, Mrs. Lawrence's teaching experience includes teaching in private schools and public schools in the New York City school system where she taught physics and chemistry for 13 years. Mrs. Lawrence has taught at Cheverus High School for nine years.
School is upon us again. But do not despair. So is the football season, a season that should prove to be excellent for the Vikings. Last year's undefeated record and division championship have developed a well earned and respected reputation for Port. All indications are that this year's team will live up to it.

Fifty-two juniors and seniors came out for the varsity squad this year, in what may be a record turnout. This is rather an unwieldy number, but the team will most likely be trimmed down to about thirty-five by the beginning of the season. The only disappointment is that the players on the average, are lighter than they were last year. If Port is to repeat last season's record, this deficiency must be made up by precision and toughness. Coach Dan Bane's practices will supply these qualities quite thoroughly.

The eight lettermen returning from last season will form the backbone of the team. The backfield, the strongest part of the line-up, is also the most experienced. Quarterback Kevin Beck served as a backup for his brother Dave in that position last year, in addition to being a leading pass receiver. Halfback Howie Jordan can catch, block, and defense, as well as run excellently. He should be one of the finest all-around backs in the county this season. John Demers, Doug More, and Bob Schlebeek will occupy other positions in the backfield. Jim Cronin, Nick Demers, Tom Krause, and Bob Guinnaght are other backs who stand a good chance of earning jobs on the starting and second string teams. Probable top receivers are Demers, Moore. Gary Snee, and Peter Angelos. Both the offensive and defensive lines will be led by all division guard Bill Crumm, center Dick McKee, and guard Tom Orr. Other linemen include Steve Laiher, Gifford Calla, Bob Blykas, and Rocky Koroknik. The specialty squads, such as the punt return team, look strong.

All football teams have weaknesses. Port’s are a lack of a punter, a place-kicker, and a good reserve quarterback. As long as Kevin Beck stays healthy, these problems are little worse than details.

Port’s first game of the season, played at home this year, will be a non-league contest versus Sysset. This should be a hard played and evenly matched game, as both Port and Sysset are current division champions. This will be a game worth seeing, and a large turn-out is anticipated.

SOCcer Hopeful.

Last year’s Varsity soccer team had a very disappointing season. Although this team finished with a 9:1 average record, its league record was 4-1, the worst record the Viking soccer team has finished with in many years. The most disappointing aspect of this season was the fact that the team failed to make the playoffs.

With a new season ahead of them, the returning lettermen and the other members of the soccer squad will have the past behind them. They will concentrate only on what they must do in the future.

As things stand now, the future looks promising for the soccer team. Depth at most positions is the Viking’s greatest asset. A well balanced attack should also prove invaluable to the Vikings. This team is extremely strong in the backfield. Neil Gebhart, the goalie, leads the defense. Other outstanding defensemen are Paul Pacent, Josh Heller, and Doug Block at halfback and Ed McIlhenny, Bill Rumsey and Mike Griffin at halfback.

Offensive power will determine whether or not this team will be successful. This year’s soccer team hopes it can overcome what hindered Port in the previous season. Dennis Lukens, John Robinson, and Rodgie Bravo will be three key linemen whose scoring will determine the fate of the soccer team.

On September 17 the Vikings will open their season at Manhasset. On September 19 they will play their first home game at Manhasset against East Meadow. The season now lies ahead of the Vikings. Only time will tell whether success, disaster or mediocrity awaits Port.

Blood, Sweat and Tears.

With Fall upon us and the jangle of school bells reverberating in our ears, the indoor Port Harrers begin their workouts over hill and dale. Returning after a 6:3 season, their best in 2 years, the Harrers are confident of a divisional championship. And no wonder! Kevin Reilly, who was 7th in the state meet last year, will be leading the runners on their glorious trail. Also coming back are Varsity runners Paul Shaw, Bob Lawrence, Roger Weaver, Rich Puccinella, Ron Galbra, Pete Peseliou, and Andy Zaremba. Greg Deran, Chris Murray, Steve Laiher, and Rich Othman are last year’s Junior Varsity runners returning this year. Chris Murray and Steve Laiher are bright Varsity prospects for this year. Unexpected help in the form of new comers Mark Bernstein, Mike Deran, and Dave Brackett lends to the team’s punch. Back up men Greg Doman, Rich Othman, Kevin Jirat, Barry Hoover, and Ken McKenna will be a boon to the team as well. It all adds up to one thing: the Harrers could go "all the way" this year. After all, if the Amarm Metas can do it, why not the cross-country team of dear old Port Washington Hush?

VIKINGS AWAIT SYSSET

Netmen Look Smashing.

Although the Schreiber Tennis Team is mourning the loss of the two finest tennis players Schreiber has ever had in Bob Shuler and Steven Ferber, Coach Gutleimer feels that this year is a promising one for the Netmen, although he believes that Shuler and Ferber will be difficult to replace. On the first day of school thirty prospects showed up for try outs. Among these thirty were the five finest from last year’s team: Mark Schenbock, Steve Fensberg, Sandy Caplan, Mike Smiley, and John Gould. Artur Slavin, and Tom Kaulei. In addition to the players from last year’s team, Coach Gutleimer hopes to find strength for this year’s team in the young prospects who have been trying out for the team. Since Port is in the toughest tennis league in New York, it will be difficult for the team to over come the potential Great Neck North and Great South squads, since they are the two top teams in the league. Coach Gutleimer is looking for strong showings against both Great Neck teams as well as the rest of the teams in the league. Last year, the Tennis Team was unable to emerge with a winning season. This year the entire Tennis Team feels that they can have a winning season, especially if there are spectators at their matches to provide the encouragement which they will need in order to have a successful season.
