Schreiber Runner Up In Competition

by Ken Darr

On Sunday, May 20 Newsday announced that Paul D. Schreiber High School was the runner up in the "School of the Year" competition.

For the second year in a row, Schreiber has been nominated for Newsday's "School of the Year" award. Each year, for the past nine years, Newsday has nominated six high schools on Long Island for this award. The award is given out based upon the school's community service. 60% of the judgement is based upon the information obtained in a qualifying letter written by students. Schreiber's qualification letter was written by Frank Ioppolo with help from Matt Healy. The other 40% is based on an oral presentation given on Tuesday, May 8 at the Newsday headquarters located in Melville. There were five judges consisting of two women and three men.

Just making the finals is a special accomplishment. Forty-four high schools sent in applications and then six were picked. The six finalists all receive $500 towards their student organization. The winner receives $2500. The six schools nominated were Schreiber, West Babylon, Carey, Maniuck, Longwood and Oceanside.

At the oral presentation, Robert Braverman spoke of the Student Government's involvement with the community. He brought up the work that the school did in collaboration with The Residents For A More Beautiful Port Washington by planting trees and flowers around the school area. Robert also brought up the student scholarship fund and the support given to the two Korean heart patients by Schreiber students. Annabel Scheinburg and Debra Rosenzweig spoke about the Youth Employment Service's value in giving students jobs in the community and explained how it works. Frank Ioppolo spoke about Safe Rides and the importance it has to the community. A special guest, Rolando Martinez (head of the Community Action Council), spoke on behalf of the community and their gratitude for the numerous food drives Schreiber has sponsored. Also present were Ken Darr and Rita Sethi from the Schreiber Times and Kate Davis and Jon Solodar from the H.R.C. representing the food drives. Mrs. Amzler and Sue Gegan represented Safe Rides as well as Frank Ioppolo. Dr. Banta was also present.

In addition to food drives, dances and other community services, each school had something unique to offer.

As one knows, Schreiber High School offers Safe Rides an alternative to getting behind the wheel of a car while intoxicated. West Babylon donated over seventy baskets of holiday goodies to the soldiers in Lebanon over the holidays. Longwood started the first S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk) program. Carey has done wonders with senior citizen workshops. Matituck has a two day retreat for drug and alcohol awareness and donated much of their activity proceeds to a student stricken with leukemia. Oceanside has a self-awareness week called "Oceanside Alive."

There were video tapes and slideshows in the presentations as well as music and singing. All of the schools should be proud. "It's the toughest competition we've ever had. We (the judges) will have an impossible task picking a winner," said the President of Newsday, David Laventhol.

C.P. Drive Nets $11,500

by Anne Murphy

On May 5, 6, 11, and 12, students from all over Nassau County participated in a drive for cerebral palsy. This drive has been run at Schreiber for the past thirteen years. Students from Schreiber, Sousa, and Weber were given canisters and driven to stores in Port Washington and towns which had discontinued their drives, such as Roslyn and Glen Cove. The students worked in three hour shifts to collect money. Todd Ellner, who ran the drive, had hoped to have from 100 to 120 people working each shift and to make as much as $20,000. Only 45 people, however, were available for each shift. Despite this and the bad weather, $11,500 was made, making the drive a success.

Every year the school district that collects the most money wins a trophy. For the past six years, Schreiber has had this honor. The first year Schreiber participated in the drive, $45 was earned. Last year, it earned $11,000. Every year Schreiber has topped its record. A school district can be placed in one of four divisions: Bronze, Silver, Gold or Platinum. For the past six years Schreiber has been in the Platinum division. Our main competitors are Great Neck and Bellmore. This year Great Neck collected only $1500 and Bellmore collected $3500.

The money collected will be used to rehabilitate those suffering from cerebral palsy. Money will be used for computers, braces, aids and teachers. The money will be sent to the C.P. Center in Roosevelt and will be distributed among the center's other schools.

Todd Ellner is involved in the drive because his brother is severely handicapped with cerebral palsy. He was disappointed by the lack of spirit and enthusiasm he has seen. Many people signed up to collect for C.P., but many did not follow through. He is not going to run the drive next year because of other responsibilities, but he has many ideas for other activities. One idea is to organize a fundraiser through the school to build up spirit and make more money.

Hallock Wins Presidency

Goldsmith, Reilly, Silverstein Elected New G.O. Officers

Jenny Kasmin	173	21.4
Total	809	100.0

In a moderate student turnout for the May 4th G.O. election, Robert Hallock just reached his needed 40 percent of the vote, thereby narrowly avoiding a dangerous run-off election for the President. When asked what he most attributed his victory to, Robert replied, "Well, I think my enthusiasm really got across to people, and people really understood my ideas. A lot of people like the idea of a G.O. calendar. Also, I think I got across to a wider variety of students." As an example, Robert cited his contact with the TESL students: "I think I was the only presidential candidate to talk to them."

Robert says he certainly plans to respond to their request for more National Honor Society tutors, especially in the area of American Studies. Partly to that end, he has already appointed Phil Varughese as the Executive Assistant; Robert and Phil have known each other and worked well together for several years. Phil is also the newly-elected N.H.S. secretary.

While discussing his plans and the things he has already begun to put into effect, Robert talked about the frisbee tournament and upcoming spring concert, which are being run jointly by the incoming and outgoing officers. He is negotiating the use of a phone line for his Friday night hot-line, and the lobby noticeboard is now being updated regularly.

"People tell me the election's over now, I can stop campaigning; but that's not true. I may not have to campaign for myself anymore, but I'm still campaigning for the G.O... I want everyone to get involved."

Total students voting: 825, or 64% of Schreiber's student body.
Note: To win the Presidency, a candidate must gain not only a simple majority but also at least 40% of the total vote for that office. Robert Hallock succeeded by five votes, barely avoiding a run-off election for that office.

Marx Brothers Live On Schreiber Stage

by Jessica Mann

The Marx Brothers are alive, well, and performing on Schreiber's stage. Along with that amazing specimen of female pulchritude, their sidekick Margaret Dumont, the three zanies recall the days of Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood. Complete with one-liners and non sequiturs, the three brothers live up to their reputation of madcap idiocy.

"A Night In The Ukraine" is a Marx Brothers movie-play that the brothers never made. It is loosely based on "The Bear", a one-act play written by Anton Chekhov in 1888. The action is set in the mansion of the Margaret Dumontish Ukrainian window, Mrs. Pavlenko, played by Kate Davis. As Carlo, the Italian footman, Anthony Compocchia will "shoot the keys" in his best Chico imitation. Enter Tom Murphy as Samovar the lawyer, an unlikely figure in a black greasepaint moustache, who has come to collect the fees owed to him by Mrs. Pavlenko's late husband. The craziness revolves around Samovar's efforts to obtain that money, and the efforts of Carlo and the Harpoeque Gino (Maggie Patrick) to eject him.

There is a sub-plot concerning the romance of Mrs. Pavlenko's innocent daughter Nina, played by Carrie Englander, and an innocent coachman Constantine, played by Tim Hall. Just before the young lovers elope, the plot hickens, as does the expected lunacy.

Debbie Rosenthal of the Dance Arts Centre has choreographed some high-spirited tap numbers. Dr. Bruce Purrington is the musical director, and Ron Meadows is designing a tacky Hollywood set. Jeff Roberts has staged and directed the entire production.

So, follow the cast down the aisle of Grauman's Chinese Theater and come see "A Night In The Ukraine" on May 31, June 1, and 2 at 8:30 pm and on a special Sunday matinee on June 3 at 3:00 pm. Tickets will be $3.00.

Schreiber Hosts N.Y.S.S.M.A.

by Anne Murphy

Last weekend, May 18-19, the New York State School Music Association sponsored a solo and ensemble competition at Schreiber. Schreiber hosted forty school districts in the area. Approximately 2300 students ranging from fourth to twelfth grade were evaluated on their performances. The students were judged in one of the following classifications: strings, woodwinds, brass, voice, piano, percussion, guitar, and, for the first time at Schreiber, harp.

To be evaluated, each student went before a judicator (judge), a certified professional, who determined in what areas the student was weak, and where he/she could improve. Each student was evaluated in seven major areas. Students auditioning for All-State Choir, Band, or Orchestra were graded on a scale of 1 to 100 and each of the seven major areas was worth a certain number of points. Students not trying out for All-State were given verbal grades. Approximately 40,000 people participated in this competition. Because of the competition involved, it requires a very high grade, of 97 or better, to get in. Last year, Vivian Slater (Voice), David Kane (Oboe), and Cheryl Huang (Flute) attended the All-State Musical Festival.

The Marx Brothers — Maggie Patrick, Anthony Compocchia and Tom Murphy — rehearse "A Night in the Ukraine."

Support Spring Food Drive

This past holiday season, the Student Government, the HRC, and TheSchreiberTimes held two successful holiday drives. The spirit of giving, which always seems to appear around holidays, was in the air, and both students and faculty members gave with enthusiasm. Unfortunately, the needy families in our community are still around — and still needy — when the holidays are over. The SchreiberTimes urges you to get back into the spirit, and give again. When you clean out your closet, and make room for shorts and bathing-suits, take a minute to find something old that doesn't fit anymore, a shirt, a pair of pants, anything at all, and bring it in to school. And the next time you reach into the pantry for the iced-tea mix, take out a can of soup or a box of spaghetti also. Remember the needy today and tomorrow, and give — anything you can. Bring food, clothing, and/or toys to the main lobby at any time during the school day. Make this spring a happy time for everyone, by giving the Spring Drive your support.

Letters

Ed. note: In our May 2nd issue we published a letter from senior Joel Taffet, which contained a statement concerning Mrs. Nesbit's involvement with the Union of Concerned Students. Mrs. Nesbit did not found this organization at Schreiber; she is merely acting in the capacity of faculty advisor, in response to student's requests.

To: Editor, Schreiber Times
 Joel Taffet, in his letter printed in the 5/2 edition, talks real "Double-speak." A teacher and a student group are credited with "loving our American system" and are wished the best of luck by Mr. Taffet, but in the next breath they are smeared and defamed as "worse than communists." He refers deprecatingly to the McCarthy era, while proceeding to employ the worst and most dangerous of McCarthyite tactics. Scurrilous letters like this have no place in a school newspaper. Let us respect each other's beliefs and differences. Let Joel Taffet refrain from tossing epithets around, lest someone call him an incipient Fascist.

Sincerely,
 Mimi Hirschmann

Ed. note: The Schreiber Times prints as a matter of policy all the letters it receives, scurrilous or not, as long as they refrain from libel or obscenity. That is the way an impartial, responsible newspaper ought to act.

To the Editor:

I am writing to the Schreiber Times as a follow up to my letter of February 14, 1984. In this letter I brought to the attention of the student body the parking problem in the Monfort Lot. The Schreiber Times supported my position on this issue with an editorial. It has been four months since that editorial and virtually nothing has been done to alleviate the student's parking problem. Commuters still regularly park in the student parking lot. I must give credit to the administration for issuing new parking permits to students. This was supposedly done so that commuters could be identified and then ticketed. Unfortunately no one has taken the time to check the parking lot for commuters. I can understand that this issue is not the administration's number one priority, but something must be done.

As the year has progressed, more and more students have been driving to school, and the Monfort Lot is filled with cars daily. Many days there are no open spaces for students to park in. Approximately twenty-five commuters park in the Monfort Lot on a regular basis.

The administration has taken it upon themselves to hire a security guard, to prevent students from parking on campus. And when a student's car is found "up top," stickers are placed on the front and side windows. Last week the Port Washington

The other evening, May 10, I was invited to attend the TESL Dinner. This dinner is held once a year to commemorate the students, their accomplishments, and the year gone by. Students honored range from the Junior High level to Twelfth grade, and the ages of the participants of the evening ranged from under one to over eighty. About seven hundred people were present at the festival. This is where I, again, realized how full and exciting other cultures are.

The event was quite a family outing. TESL students and their whole families filled the room with colorful foreign tongues, brilliant native costumes, and their tawny, well-sculptured faces. There was such a feeling of unity and family that one could not help but be swept up by it.

Following the meal the entire TESL group (starting from the junior high) made a presentation. The younger groups recited some amusing poems that they had memorized in TESL to help them learn English grammar. Much of their presentation was in Japanese and Spanish. Some of the TESL students made short, individual speeches thanking their families and teachers for helping them to get through the school year. Many of these students are now bilingual. Each TESL student (of those that attend Schreiber) gave thanks to some group or specific person; Virginia Herrarte thanked the Schreiber Times and the Student Government for support

The most interesting, original, and heartwarming part of the evening was the senior TESL students presentation. When seniors graduate at Schreiber

Mr. Broza announces their name, they come up to the platform, take their diplomas and return back to their seats. Since there is a small number of students, each TESL student had the opportunity to make a short speech. First, a close friend or relative introduced the graduating senior and then he/she had a chance to speak. The speeches were mostly based on gratitude towards the teachers, but some included more than just that.

The evening was quite successful; the parents beamed at their English speaking children, the students were certainly proud of their accomplishment, and the teachers, too, were pleased with the results of one year's effort.

Police were giving $10.00 tickets to illegally parked cars in the teachers' parking lot.

I feel that if the administration takes the time, effort, and money to keep the students' cars off campus, they can at least show the same concern to the commuters illegally parked in the Monfort Lot. Schreiber has always prided itself on the active communication between the administration and the student body. There has been much communication, now let's see some action.

Sincerely,
 David Cohen

Young and Old Walk Together

by Ed Chan

Little things can mean a lot. The same held true for a certain 400-meter walk which took place last Friday, May 18. That day, senior citizens and Schreiber High School students walked together once around the track to encourage walking as a safe way to maintain fitness and good health.

Sponsored by the Port Washington school district in conjunction with our Human Relations Committee, of which many of the participating students belonged to, the walk began at 11:00 A.M. The gathering was funded through the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs and supported by the Town of North Hempstead.

Softball Rebounds to Beat Herricks

by Scott Marsel

The varsity softball team won its second game of the season against Herricks by a score of 13-3. Robyn Yablans had three hits and Reiko Sakamoto had two hits and four RBI. Lisa Kaup, Jill Rothstein, Nancy Seaman, and Laura Schilling each had two hits. Schilling pitched the complete game, allowing only three hits. Though they have had a poor record this season, Coach Stephanie Joannon is pleased with the teams' great attitude, and its ability to rebound after four consecutive losses to beat Herricks. Said Joannon, "Things have been better here than the record indicates."

The 66th annual Port Invitational Track Meet was held on May 10th and 11th. Fourteen teams competed from all over Nassau County. The girls' team placed second and the boys' team is presently in first. Due to high-winds the boys' pole vault has been postponed and rescheduled. Port has a chance of remaining in first depending on the performance of Josh Zinder.

Several meet records were broken by Port. Ken Darr flew to victory with a new meet record of 1:56:80. In the girls 4 x 400 meter relay, Port set a new meet record. Stephanie Blackburn, Marilyn Zahn, Amy Salzhauer, and Laney Salisbury ran a combined time of 4:12.00 and won by an eight second margin over the second place team, Bethpage. Mike Gulliti, Dave Fried, Gary Summers, and Marcelo Da Silva were victorious in the 4 x 100 meter relay, tying the meet record of 44.5 seconds.

Both teams also had quite a number of great performances in the individual events. In the boys' sprints, Mike Gulliti won the 100 meter dash and Da Silva took second. In the 200 meter dash, Gulliti took first with a time of 22.7 seconds, with Da Silva placing second in 23.2 seconds. Gary DeSimone came in second running the blistering quarter-mile hurdles. Sophomore Scott Read placed fourth with a time of 53.9 seconds in the quarter-mile run. Marilyn Zahn took second in the 200 meter dash with a time of 28.0 seconds. In the girls' 400 meter run, Laney Salisbury took second with a time of 60.6 seconds and sophomore Stephanie Blackburn placed 6th with a time of 63.7 seconds. Port girls took both first and seconds in the 400 meter hurdles. Salisbury won in 65.2 seconds and Zahn took second in 69.0 seconds. Emily Silver took third in the 1500 meter run with a time of 4:56.8. Eileen Mulcahy won the shotput and placed second in the long jump. Joe Dell threw the shot 46 feet 2 inches, placing second. David Kane tripled-jumped 38 feet 11 1/2 inches, beating his personal record by a foot and placing fourth. In the boys' 1600 meter walk, Jim Eastwood took home the gold, walking 7:17.9.

The relay teams also picked up points for Port. The 4x 800 consisting of David Lawrence, Chris Courtois, Brian Courtois, and Ken Darr, placed second with a time of 8:39.3. The girls' Medley Relay placed second with Stephanie Blackburn leading off, Jodi Newby running second leg, Amy Salzhauer running third leg and Emily Silver last leg.

Wood, Rose Lead Girls Lax Team

by Kenny Albert

Kathy Rose scored a career-high ten goals to lead Schreiber to a 19-12 victory over Garden City May 15. It was the Vikings ninth win in eleven games. Carolyn Bruce and Alison Fraser each scored three goals, Cathy Wood scored two, and Jennifer Boylan added one for Schreiber. It was the Vikings' second win in the last four games. After winning their first seven, Schreiber lost two consecutive games to defending county champion Carle Place (9-7) and Cold Spring Harbor (11-10) then defeated Wheatley and Garden City.

Aside from Garden City, the Vikings have defeated Clarke, New Hyde Park, Great Neck South, Great Neck North, East Meadow, Massapequa, Ward Melville, and Wheatley.

Wood leads the team in goals, 54, while Rose is second, with 43. Fraser has scored 25 goals, Bruce 17, and Boylan 15. Karen Fico has five goals, Susan Gegan and Daphne Werth each have three, Pat McPartland two, and Dina Salerno one.

Senior goaltender John Kelly looks for a teammate during Saturday's 9-7 playoff loss to Freeport.

Freeport Stuns Boys Lax In Playoffs

by David Heller

Freeport's Mark Davis scored the winning goal with just 1:56 remaining in the fourth period as Freeport ended the year for the boys' lacrosse team. Freeport went on to score once again in the final minutes as they defeated Port by a 9-7 margin.

For three quarters Port had dominated the action as they ran out to a 6-2 lead. Andy Mosby and Rodney Dumpson, twice, scored in the first half and Ron Pisano, Cesar Larrainza and Ken Duffy added third period goals as Port looked like world beaters. Then, late in the third period, Port suddenly collapsed. They had trouble clearing the ball and Freeport kept swarming around the goal. Freeport scored four unanswered goals to tie the game midway through the fourth period. A John Simpson goal, his 31st of the season, late in the period gave Port one last shot in the arm. Freeport, however, was not to be denied and they knotted the conflict with a quick goal. This set the stage for Davis' game-winning score.

Schreiber, in one of their strongest efforts of the season, won the division title by routing the second place East Meadow squad, 13-8. This win gave the Vikings, a final regular season record of 10-2 and the number four seed, behind Farmingdale, Manhasset and Garden City, in the county tourney. Rodney Dumpson scored 4 goals to spark the Schreiber attack and Peter Maguire added 3 more. John Kelly was incredible as he made 24 saves. The Vikings won by using their many assets--scoring depth, outstanding goal tending, speed, and a tough checking defense. When Port puts all of these together they are tough to beat, as East Meadow (ranked fifth in the county) found out twice.

Hempstead, which beat Schreiber twice, was the Vikings' achilles heel. In their first meeting of the year, Hempstead embarrassed the Vikings, 13-5. Port eagerly awaited the rematch, but suffered a heart-breaking 11-10 loss as Hempstead scored in the closing minutes. Andy Mosby scored 4 goals and John Simpson made his usual offensive contribution by scoring 3 times. Simpson had a phenomenal offensive year as he scored in every game and totaled 31 goals. Schreiber did not let their second loss hurt their confidence, however, as they bounced back from the Hempstead game to win their next game, a 5-4 squeaker over Massapequa.

In earlier games, the Vikings defeated Berner and Uniondale. Schreiber beat Berner 13-11 in overtime, John Simpson scored six goals, the most by a Viking this year, to lead the team to a come from behind victory. Against Uniondale, Port picked up a hard earned 9-7 victory as Peter Maguire, Art Dover and John Simpson each scored twice.

Tarone: .596!!!

by Kenny Albert

Although the varsity baseball team won just six of eighteen games it will be a season to remember for senior John Tarone. Tarone, who was the starting power forward for Schreiber's 7-5 varsity basketball team, finished with a batting average of .596 (31-for-52).

Of Tarone's 31 hits, 10 were extra base hits. He hit six doubles, two triples, and two home runs. Tarone hit the latter of his two homers (a three-run shot) in Schreiber's 3-1 victory over Bethpage last Wednesday in the final game of his high school career. Tarone hit his first roundtripper of the season in the second inning of Schreiber's 19-7 rout of Herricks May 1. The Vikings scored eight runs in each of the first two innings of that game.

Tarone's final statistics include a team-leading 16 RBI, four runs scored, eleven walks, two strikeouts, two stolen bases, and four sacrifices. He also had a slugging percentage of .903 and an on-base percentage of .666. Tarone also tied the all-time record (along with many others) in two fielding categories; he did not commit any errors and therefore had a fielding percentage of 1.000. Playing first base, the Viking star made 101 putouts and added six assists.

In all, the Vikings went 3-0 against Herricks, 0-3 versus MacArthur and the defending county champion Garden City, and 1-2 against Plainedge, Great Neck North, and Bethpage.

John Tarone connects for one of his 31 hits this season.

Golf Finishes Second

by Walter Verfenstein

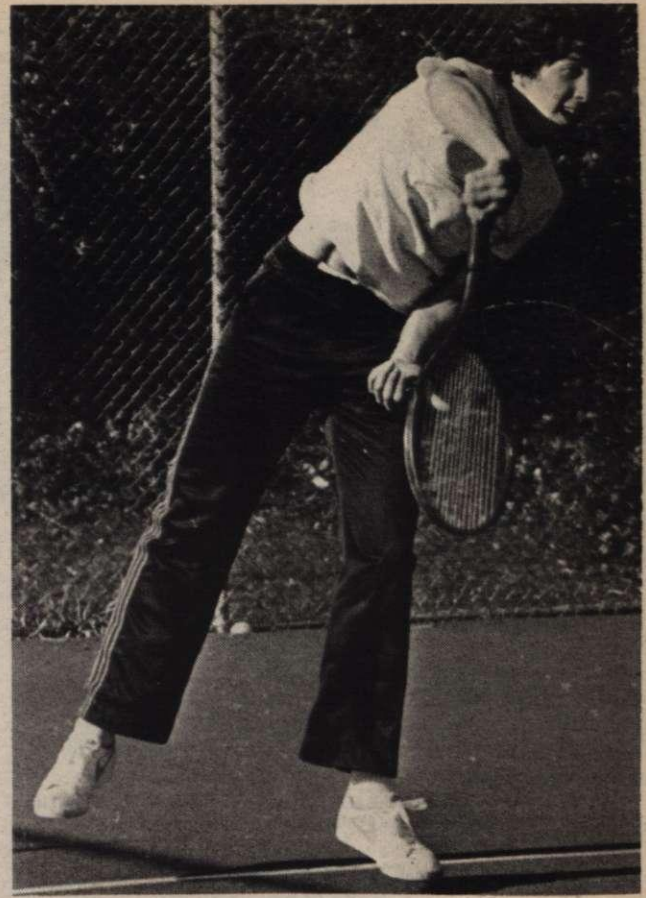

Schreiber's varsity golf team lost its final match to Glen Cove by 2 strokes. Although Port already clinched a spot in the County Championships this loss cost them the division championship. Each player has been very successful, losing only one match each.

Badminton Undefeated

by Lisa Gamell

The girls' badminton team has had a very successful season. They remained undefeated against their rival schools. They defeated Division Avenue, Hempstead, Garden City, West Hempstead, MacArthur, Bethpage, Calhoun, Southside, and Valley Stream Central. Schreiber went on to beat Great Neck North, 5-2, to win the conference championships.

The outstanding record (10-0) of the team was the direct result of its many outstanding players: Nicole Dittmar (first singles, 8-2 record); Fran Greene (second singles, 8-1); Jane Newman (third singles, 5-2); Erica Bundschuh and Melanie Kent (first doubles, 6-3); Debbie Damiani and Diane Fernbach (second doubles, 8-1); and Katie Commons and Lori Lefcourt (fourth doubles, 10-0).

Boys' Tennis Advances

Monday the boys' tennis team swept Wheatley 7-0 and advanced to the county finals for the third straight year. Papell, Kiyomiya, and the doubles team of Wilk and Solodar won their matches in straight sets. Singles Nessel and Richards and doubles Mao/Goodman and Cheri/Silverstein all won in three sets.

The boys' varsity tennis team finished the regular season with a record of 12-2. Last Wednesday they shut out Lawrence 7-0. The Vikings avenged an earlier loss by beating Wheatley 4-3. Recent victories came against Herricks, Great Neck South, Hewlett, and Roslyn. Last Thursday Port was scheduled to play county champion Great Neck North but when the Blazers failed to show up Schreiber was credited with the victory.

The top two singles players, Ben Papell and Kenichi Kiyomiya, finished the regular season undefeated. John Nessel, Michael Richards, and the first doubles team of Jim Wilk and Jon Solodar all finished with respectable records. Baron Silverstein and Howard Cheri finished the season strong, winning their last 6 matches. -- Jimmy Dayton

Bad Boys Win Intramural Title

by Ian Tauber

Both the advanced and the intermediate intramural team handball tournaments were completed last week. Jon Cannon's Bad Boys defeated John Tarone's team. Sid and the Mafia, twice in the double elimination tournament to win the advanced championship. The scores were 13-5 and 14-7. Cannon was the high scorer for his team, Joe Timpone played goal.

Led by four man offense of James Jankowski, Eric Zaslou, Phil Varughese, and Marc Cote, and with Scott Marsel in goal, the undefeated Patrol Insecticide beat the He-Men twice to win the intermediate championship. The He-Men were co-captained by David Kim and Michael Klein. Both games were close. The final scores were 9-8 and 9-7.
